Just One of Many Pests

There is one bag in particular that worries me. It is what the French refer to as a grande valise and I don't know what I was thinking of when I bought it. Standing on a station platform it looks like a small rhinoceros crouching for a spring, and I have seen porters run ten feet to one side of it rather than be called upon to lift it.

It holds a great deal more than I have got to put into it, including two small boys, but even with my modest equipment it has to be lifted on and off boards with a crane. There is a story about Louis XVI having hidden his horse in it during the early days of the revolution, but I rather doubt that, as there would have been no place for the horse to breathe through.

Now, this bag is all right when I am abroad, but in the United States I am very uneasy about it. I apologize to the porter who puts it on the train and feel that I have to give him enough extra to endow a Negro college in his home town. I start worrying about getting it into a taxi long before the train has pulled into the station, and I run over in my mind a few pleasantries with which I can assuage the porter on the other end.

"Pretty heavy, eh? And I don't drink either! Aha-ha-ha-ha!" or "Maybe I'd better get a trunk, eh?" None of these ever go over very big, I may add.

Taxi drivers are not very nice about my bag, either. When confronted with the problem of where to put it in the cab, they often make remarks such as: "Why don't we put the cab on top of the bag and drag it through the streets?" or "Where are the elephants?" With my bag tucked on the front seat beside him, a taxi driver has to lean out over the other side and drive with one knee. And everybody feels sadder about it than I do.

Perhaps the best thing to do would be just not to own any heavy things, and to buy whatever clothes and shoes I need in the town I happen to be in. Or perhaps it would be better yet not to go anywhere and just sit in my room.—(Robert Benchley in Liberty.)

Elements of Behavior

A baby has four ways of getting expression. He laughs, he coos, he cries, and puts his foot in his mouth. Adults make use of the same methods.—(Toledo Blade.)

Air Pioneer Dies in Buffalo

Aviation Indebted to Him for Many Achievements in Past Two Decades

Name Linked With Wrights'; Motors Invented and Planes Designed

BUFFALO (N. Y.) July 23. (AP)—Glenn Hammond Curtiss, pioneer builder and guiding genius of the commercial world, died suddenly ... in the General Hospital here. ... had been operated on for ap... pendicitis on the 11th inst., and ... seemed out of danger and well on ... his way to recovery. The cause ... of death was pulmonary embolism, ... a blood clot in a main artery close ... to the heart.

News of the death of the man to ... whom aviation owed much of its ... development in the past quarter ... of a century came with a shocking suddenness, but brought quick tributes ... from flyers and aeronautical leaders.

HAD BEEN ILL

Curtiss was said to have been ... suffering from appendicitis, with ... recurring acute attacks, for some ... time.

He leaves his widow and a son, ... Glenn.

Curtiss carried on many of his ... earlier activities in Buffalo. In a ... plant at Kenmore, is situated the Curtiss Airplane and Motor Company, one of the principal units of the aggregation which links the name of aviation's landing pioneers, Curtiss and Wright.

His native town of Hammondsport, in up-State New York, where he was born on May 21, 1878, is ... so called by the Chamber of Commerce "the cradle of aviation" because of what Curtiss and his associates did there.

At the age of 16 he started a ... cycle shop, as did those other pioneers of American aviation—the Wright brothers—and from that ... he built bicycle racing. He sought ... new means to make them go faster, ... as there were no engines that ... could meet the demand Curtiss ... tried to make one.

V-TYPE DEVISED

With a tomato can for a carburetor, he built his first motor ... cycle in 1901. He continued to ... experiment with light-weight motors and evolved his famous V-type motor, a departure in design retained in the radial airplane engine of today.

In 1907 he won the New York ... to-road race, competing with the ... best riders of two continents. In ... 1908 he set a speed record at Ormond Beach, Fla., of ten miles in ... 9.52 minutes and fifty-four seconds, ... or 1.06 over the same course, ... a speed faster than man ever had ... traveled before, a mile in twenty-one and two-fifths seconds, or at the ... rate of approximately 140 miles an ... hour. That record stood for years. ... His fame spread and drew the ... attention of the late Maj. Thomas ... Baldwin, builder and operator of balloons. In 1904 the two ... met in Hammondsport and

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 23. [To the Editor of The Times:] Well, we got the treaty signed now for the limitation of naval vessels, so we can settle down to steady building. You see, you must build between these various conferences, otherwise you have nothing to sink when you meet. You hold a conference and decide to sink some vessels that would sink themselves if the conference was postponed for another year. England is to sink three battleships that competed against the Spanish Armada. Japan is raising two the Russians sunk and will resink them for the weeklies. We are building two to sink.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Commons Passes Treaty Bill

Conservatives Offer Little Objection at Second Reading

Measure Gives Effect to Naval Agreement Signed by Powers

LONDON, July 23. (AP)—After a brief debate the House of Commons tonight unanimously passed the second reading of the London naval treaty bill which gives effect to the treaty signed by the naval powers in London early this year.

Conservatives offered objection to what they called undue haste in bringing forward the bill. They wished to postpone it until after the forthcoming imperial conference. Former Premier Stanley Baldwin was among those who made the point, although he did not insist.

DETAILS CRITICISED

One Conservative criticised the details of the treaty, but the Speaker reminded him that was useless since Commons could not amend the treaty if it wished. Another Conservative urged that criticism might induce the House to reject the bill in which case the treaty might fall to the ground.

The Speaker replied the treaty would not collapse, but that the government could not carry out its items unless upheld by Parliament. Mr. Baldwin then asked if the dominions had sanctioned the action and was informed they had.

The bill now is referred in ac-

ESPEE BUYS RAILROAD

St. Louis Line Acquired

Working Control Bought of Carrier Serving Missouri to Texas Territory

I.C.C. Permission Must be Gained and Reallocation Also to be Necessary

NEW YORK, July 23. (Exclusive) Acquisition of working control of the St. Louis Southwestern Railroad, a 1700-mile carrier serving the territory from St. Louis south through Texas, is understood to have been accomplished within the last few days by the Southern Pacific Railroad through the purchase of 135,000 shares of voting preferred stock from New York Investors, Inc.

Announcement of the transaction is expected to be withheld until the Southern Pacific makes application for permission from the Interstate Commerce Commission to acquire this stock, which amounts to almost 40 per cent of the voting strength of the St. Louis road. Authority to go ahead with plans to acquire a majority interest probably will be requested at the same time.

Executives of the Southern Pacific, the Cotton Belt and New York Investors said tonight that they could make no statement on the deal at this time.

As the St. Louis Southwestern was assigned to the system to be headed by the Illinois Central in the general railroad consolidation plan announced by the Interstate Commerce Commission last December, the Southern Pacific will have to request its reallocation by the commission. It is understood that officials of the Illinois Central have expressed their willingness for this arrangement to the Southern Pacific.

At the current price of around $90 a share for St. Louis Southwestern on the New York Stock Exchange the price of the shares purchased from New York Investors would be something more than $12,000,000.

MacDonald Ministry Once More Survives Assault of Foes in Parliament

LONDON, July 24. (Thursday) (AP) The MacDonald government early today defeated an attack by sixty-three Labor Socialists with the aid of Conservatives and Liberals, the vote giving the MacDonald forces victory by 136 to 63.

The rebellion came during an unusually late session of the House of Commons. It was caused by the government's recent appointment of Lord Hunsdon, noted industrialist, to the public works loans board.

This aroused the anger of the extreme Laborites because in 1926 Lord Hunsdon referred to miners as "enemies of the people," and this morning they moved his name be withdrawn from the board.

Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, resisted strongly for the government and an angry scene followed with bitter remarks on both sides.

Many Laborites abstained from voting on the motion and the government would have been beaten except for the support of Conservatives and Liberals.

Foreigners in Mexico Assured of Protection

MEXICO CITY, July 23. (Exclusive)—Foreign industries and commercial houses operating in Mexico are assured of just as much protection from the Federal government as the Mexican companies, provided they recognize the laws of the country, according to a statement by President Ortiz Rubio.

The statement was in the form of a letter to the German Chamber of Commerce in Mexico City, which had asked the President his stand on foreign industry in view of many requests for assistance made of the government by industries throughout the republic "during the present economic depression."

Hanshue Quits Presidency of Plane Concern

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—The resignation of Harris M. Hanshue as president of the General Aviation Corporation and the Fokker Aircraft Corporation was announced today by James A. Talbot, chairman of the General Aviation board.

Hanshue will be succeeded by James M. Schoonmaker, Jr., of the Standard Steel Spring Company, Pittsburgh, and the General Motors Corporation.

William T. Whalen, vice-president and general manager of the Fokker company, resigned to return to General Motors. Schoonmaker also becomes general manager of Fokker.

Hanshue remains as a director in General Aviation Corporation.

ARISTOCRAT LOVES BUTLER

Girl of British Nobility Would Wed Humble Italian; Leaves Capital for Home to Plead With Kin

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Miss Gytha Stourton, beautiful and talented daughter of Britain's nobility, is on her way home to make a final plea for her family's consent before marying Fiorvanti Del-Agnese, a handsome Italian butler who was major-domo of the old British Embassy here.

The socially elect of this capital, under whose very noses the secret attachment was born and blossomed, were more than mildly shocked when news of it leaked out today. Even Miss Stourton's intimates knew nothing of it.

But in Great Britain's capital there is a woman who has known all about it for a year. Lady Isabella Howard, wife of the former Sir Esme, now Lord Howard of Penrith, retired Ambassador to the United States, was the first in Washington to receive Miss Stourton's confidence. She disapproved. It is because of her plea, joined with that of the Stourton family, that Miss Stourton now is en route to England, on the liner Samaria.

The story is one of purest romance.

BEGINNING OF ROMANCE

Gytha Stourton, great granddaughter of the fourteenth Duke of Norfolk and a cousin of Sir Esme Howard, came to Washington in 1924 to be social secretary to Lady Isabella. One of the first persons she saw in the embassy here was Del-Agnese, the butler.

Though only 30 years of age, he had been long in service of the Howard family. They had taken him from Rome, Sir Esme's previous post, and had made him a sort of manager of the household. Often in the great rooms of the Embassy he would have a cup of tea with the Ambassador and Lady Isabella.

He is said to speak eight languages and has traveled widely with the Howard family.

Gytha was 22 when she came to Washington. She became friendly with Fiorvanti immediately, in the formal atmosphere of the Embassy. He assisted her with the difficult business of seating Embassy guests at the formal affairs. When she went to social functions in the evening he often called for her and her escort in an Embassy automobile.

LADY ISABELLA SHOCKED

A year ago the friendship ripened into more affectionate regard. Miss Stourton's confidante was Lady Isabella, with whom she has a deep friendship.

The Ambassador's wife was shocked. She suggested that Miss Stourton go to live with a friend while giving the romance further consideration. This was agreed upon, and for the past year the English girl has lived with Miss Gladys R. Goring, a friend of the Howards, who conducts a school here.

Through the year the romance persisted. Though Fiorvanti never went to the Goring home, Miss Stourton saw him daily in the Embassy, and they met occasionally outside. Though she listened to counsel against it, her determination to marry Fiorvanti remained intact.

When the Howards returned to England last February Miss Stourton stayed on in Washington. She told her friends she was contemplating taking another diplomatic position here. Fiorvanti remained to pack the Howards' furniture.

STILL DETERMINED

Once more Lady Isabella and Miss Stourton's family counseled against the match. She agreed to return to England to talk it over, but maintained to the day she sailed she was going only to make

ONE DEAD IN FIRE ON SHIP AT BAY CITY

Scaler Victim as Blaze Perils Around-the-World Liner President Polk

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23. (AP)—A. Martinez, a scaler, died from suffocation and the lives of eight of the crew were periled by a fire which started in the engine room of the Dollar liner President Polk here late today. Damage was nominal.

Starting when a back draft sent a smoldering rag into some waste oil, the fire quickly spread to the oil-filled bilge. Martinez apparently was overcome by the first blast of smoke. Eight other men in the boiler room stumbled to safety as dense clouds of black smoke poured out of companionways.

Passengers were sent ashore as a precautionary measure.

The President Polk, one of the 'round-the-world cruisers in the fleet, arrived here Tuesday and is scheduled to sail tomorrow for Honolulu. Company officials announce the fire will not delay the sailing.

Flyer Injured on Flight From Portland East

BUTTE (Mont.) July 23. (AP)—A possible fractured skull and cuts about the eyebrows are souvenirs borne by Maj. Gilbert H. Eckerson to testify to the abrupt ending of his Portland (Or.)-to-New York flight.

Eckerson, who crashed on a bench about thirty-three miles southeast of here last night, was brought to a hospital here today. His plane is wrecked.

The flyer said he does not know how the accident occurred. He fixed the time at about 11 o'clock last night and believes he must have hit some obstruction in landing.

He recovered consciousness this morning when a farm girl found him lying near his wrecked plane.

German Ready for Ocean Hop

BERLIN, July 23. (Exclusive)—Wolfram Hirth, Germany's glider enthusiast, is about ready for the first lap of his flight to America. The gas tanks of his Klemm-Daimler are filled and ready for taking off early in the morning if weather and other conditions are right.

His Klemm-Daimler is the tiniest machine ever to attempt to cross the ocean, and therefore Pilot Hirth and his navigator, Oscar Weller, are determined to fly only in passable weather.

Paris Models Displaying Only Scant Bit of Silk Stocking in New Fashions

PARIS, July 23. (AP)—When winter comes to Fifth avenue milady is going to wear skirts down to the line where shoetops used to be, the first little fashion shows of 1930-31 indicated here today.

Buyers from the United States, attending in usual numbers, found reasons for worry in the hemline that kept milady herself awake so many nights last season.

"Bad for business" more than one was heard to mutter, as model after model fluttered past displaying a scant eight inches of silk stocking above her slippers.

Buyers said the styles of the coming season will "hang a last year's tag on styles with which stores and women's wardrobes are stocked at present.

Alma Mater of Bryan and Borah Quits Existence

CARBONDALE (Ill.) July 23. (Exclusive)—Ewing College, at Ewing, Ill., one of the State's oldest colleges and the alma mater of the late William Jennings Bryan and Senator Borah, has been abandoned and now is advertised for sale.

The historic little seat of learning, once advertised as a "place where students are not surrounded with distraction and vices," never will be reopened, Rev. John Farrell of the Illinois Baptist Association, said.

Two Lives Lost in British Flood

WHITBY (Yorkshire, Eng.) July 23. (AP)—Two lives are already known to have been lost and other fatalities are feared in consequence of a flood that followed today upon a cloudburst in the valley of the Esk River.

A lifeboat from this fishing port, equipped with rocket and other life-saving apparatus, was busily engaged far inland this afternoon in an attempt to rescue persons marooned by the flood.

Bandit to Get Military Rites

RICHMOND, July 23. (AP)—The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars will conduct funeral services here tomorrow for Howard Royston, 33 years of age, who was hanged Friday night in Canon City, Colo., for his part in the Lamar Bank hold-up. Royston was a member of both the service organizations. His widow, mother and brother reside here.

ITALY'S QUAKE DEATH LIST AT 679 AND MAY RISE

Series of Temblors Injure 1500 and Make Thousands Homeless in Southern Provinces

NAPLES, July 23. (AP)—Southwestern Italy tonight had counted its dead to the number of 679 in half a score of towns tumbled to ruins by a series of terrific earthquakes which began an hour after midnight and had not ceased to vibrate this evening.

Government estimates placed the injured at more than 1500 and the homeless at ten times that figure. Melfi, picturesque mountain city, perched perilously upon the crater of the extinct Monte Volture, was an area of ghastly debris. Even the ancient cathedral, dating back to the ninth century, was wrecked.

The almost inaccessible nature of some of the areas devastated made difficult the work of succor and the enumeration of casualties. Most towns hit the hardest are off the beaten paths of tourists and transportation is poor.

RELIEF UNDER HANDICAP

Several supply trains have been sent to points on the railroads in the interior from Naples and hundreds of relief workers tonight were penetrating recesses of the agricultural area offering relief to the still terror-stricken victims.

The quake stunned all Italy. It was the worst earth shock since Messina was all but obliterated in 1908. The first temblor came an hour after midnight. Its own awful nature was supplemented by a tremendous electrical storm over virtually the whole affected area.

The intense area extended from the Tyrrhenian Sea to the Adriatic but the coast settlements suffered less in proportion than the mountain populations. Naples experienced several hours of panic and scores of casualties. Among this city's victims was the Countess De Rosal Vargus.

NAPLES IN PANIC

Never in all Neapolitan history had this classic city experienced such stark, mad fright. A frenzied populace raced through the streets apparently heading nowhere.

Tonight work of rescue proceeded as rapidly as means available would permit. Wrecked bridges, snapped communication lines and many other obstacles had been tossed in the path of the relief workers by the upheaval of nature. Highways of the area are notoriously undeveloped and rail lines pass through many gorges into which the quake had tumbled avalanches.

Several tunnels upon the road to Melfi, where 180 persons perished, according to official figures, fell in and blocked service beyond restoration for many days.

WALLS CRACKED

The quake tonight had its first after-effect on this city when authorities closed scores of manufacturing plants whose walls were cracked and in perilous condition. Thousands of workers thus were thrown out of employment.

Four Provinces of the sunny, smiling peninsula were converted into "no man's land." In the several larger towns and the few cities at the center of the quake districs dawn brought scenes of horror which beggared description.

Villanova, according to government agents who had managed to bring out a death list of 350, was by far the heaviest sufferer. The town was virtually wiped out. Among the victims were the Mayor and his entire family.

Rionero, often visited by quakes in other years, suffered at least twenty deaths. San Sossio Baronia reported fourteen dead and 100 injured, Rapolla a score dead and thirty hurt and Carile eleven known dead and forty injured. Rionero is known as the "home of the flowers" and is a celebrated city among tourists of the more ardent groups who penetrate far into the hills.

BUILDINGS DESTROYED

Fully 1000 buildings were destroyed in Melfi and Rionero.

Because almost all the communities which were hardest hit are distant from the principal centers and communication lines the authorities tonight viewed the possibility the death list thus far supplied will be materially increased. With torchlights and every other available illumination the ruins of scores of towns were being searched and emergency hospitals were filling with victims.

NO AMERICANS HURT IN NAPLES QUAKE

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Consul-General Louis G. Dreyfus, Jr., at Naples advised the State Department today no Americans were reported killed or injured in a severe earthquake in Naples and surrounding provinces.

CHAOS VISTA OF NAPLES

Stricken Area's Populace Gripped by Fear of Further Shocks

BY WILLIAM GARGIULO

NAPLES, July 23. (AP)—Last night I looked out on a happy countryside embracing this classic city. The fragrance of ripening vineyards was in the air. In the streets the populace strolled carelessly. Tonight I traversed a portion of a countryside which had been churned in forty-five second into a veritable no man's land by the most disastrous earthquake this light-hearted country has experienced in a generation.

Instead of proceeding peacefully to their homes, tonight the people of this city slept in cleared spaces in the public squares, panic still gripping them. Their single emotion since the stunning happenings of the last twenty hours seemed to be fear they might be caught like rats in a trap by another earth shock.

SLEEP IN PARKS

People brought their bedding into the parks. Practically everyone believed there would be repetition of the crushing blow. The squares of the Plebiscito, Del Carmine, Ville Communale and the wide plaza before the railway station were thronged by thousands who feared almost to go to sleep but were too weary to stay awake.

Ordinarily one may stand in the plaza and gaze at myriads of twinkling hamlets in the distant hills. Tonight no lights gleamed there. All electric power in this region had been destroyed.

Lighted by lanterns, flares and torches, the citizens of many towns among the hills and miniature cities high up among the Apennines either slept exhausted from their rescue exertions or delved among the litter that had been their homes, stores and public buildings.

SEARCHERS TIRELESS

Firemen, soldiers and Fascists searched tirelessly for victims. These little mountain towns were the hardest hit by the quake.

Coastal cities suffered the least. The churches here and in all surrounding towns were open tonight and in them went on the work of relief while thousands prayed for the victims and besought deliverance from another quake.

Across the Bay of Naples Vesuvius glowed dully tonight, watched with dread by Neapolitans and all who dwell on the bow of the bay.

QUAKE RINGS BELLS

Belief the earthquake would almost immediately be followed by a tremendous eruption of the terrible old volcano prevailed throughout the day. When no eruption occurred everyone breathed more freely.

There was widespread comment on what citizens declared to have been a miracle—the fact practically all the city's church bells pealed forth at the moment of the first quake as if to warn the people to flee for their lives. This was explained naturally, that undulating earth tremors set the bell towers to oscillating.

Town and church clocks throughout all the province were running

REAL ESTATE QUEEN DIES

Mrs. Wendel Swope Was Last But One of Eccentric Family Noted for Vast Holdings

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—Mrs. Rebecca Wendel Swope, 87 years of age, last but one of a line noted for its vast fortune in real estate, died Sunday.

In accordance with the customs of the family, who have long closed their shutters against the modern world, no announcement was made of her death and she was buried quietly yesterday in Trinity Cemetery.

Her passing leaves only one member of the family—Miss Ella, who is 80—in the four-story brick mansion which stands in the midst of business buildings at Fifth avenue and Thirty-ninth street, where thousands of department - store shoppers mill daily.

HOUSE LANDMARK

The house, which is a New York landmark, is part of the vast real-estate holdings amassed by John G. Wendel, a fur-trader in the days of John Jacob Astor, the fortune now is estimated at more than $100,000,000.

Adhering to their grandfather's principle of never selling property once acquired, the sisters refused to part with the old mansion despite many high offers, and continued to live behind drawn curtains in the midst of Fifth avenue's traffic roar. After dark Miss Ella would venture forth to give her poodle Tobey an airing in a high-walled back yard worth untold thousands of dollars.

FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

There are no telephones, electricity or newspapers in the old mansion. Sputtering gas jets light its halls and ancient servants care for its occupants.

Mrs. Swope was the only one of six sisters to wed, the others having installed a Curtiss motor in Baldwin's balloon, the California Arrow. With this machine they made a circular flight at Oakland, Cal., in August, 1904, the first to fly that way.

LINKED WITH AVIATION

From then on the name of Curtiss has been closely linked with aviation.

Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, commissioned Curtiss to build a motor for a man-carrying kite. Mrs. Bell joined in financing what was called the Aerial Experiment Association. Gliders were experimented with for a time, and then the men turned their attention to powered airplanes.

Lieut. Thomas Selfridge, one of the associates, was responsible for the first machine, known as the Red Wing, which made its first flight March 12, 1908, over ice-covered Lake Keuka, near Hammondsport.

Curtiss in his turn demonstrated a plane he called the June Bug. He used less wing spread, a higher-powered motor and small horizontal rudders at each wing tip, forerunners of the present-day ailerons.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

The Scientific American had offered a prize for the airplane that first would fly a kilometer as announced, officially observed test. Curtiss accepted the challenge, and set July 4, 1908, as the date, at the old race track near Hammondsport. The magazine reported the flight as follows:

"The instant it was released the aeroplane shot forward with constantly increasing velocity. It required only twelve seconds and a distance of 100 feet before the machine rose into the air. As he approached the end of the track Mr. G. H. Curtiss, the aviator, steered his machine to the left in order to pass around the vineyard. The machine kept rising. It sped rapidly on at a height of some twenty feet. As it neared the finishing post it dropped to a height of fifteen feet, and then continued onward, making a wide sweep to the left. The distance traversed was easily a mile."

The experimental group built another successful machine, then disbanded. Curtiss kept on. He put floats on the June Bug and called it the Loon.

He worked and labored, tested, tore up, built anew. In 1911 he established a camp at North Island, San Diego, Cal., and with Lieut. Ellyson of the Navy and Capt. Beck of the Army set out to master taking off from the water. He succeeded and had America's first hydroairplane.

In the meantime he had won the Scientific American trophy for 1909. The winning flight in 1910 was a two-stop flight from Albany to Governor's Island, New York, for an additional prize of $10,000 offered by the New York World, a flight he retraced this summer in a multimotored transport plane, the Curtiss Condor, manufactured by the company that bears his name.

Curtiss continued along his even way, paying no attention to infringements of his patents, fighting suits brought by others against himself and building larger and better ships.

Came the World War, and the Curtiss Jenny, the old type of plane, came into its own. Business boomed and Curtiss became a rich man.

DISASTER THREATENS

Then the war ended. Backed by the Willys-Overland Company, to which he had sold an interest during the war, the Curtiss company decided to expand. But its officers had not bargained with the surplus of war supplies. Disaster threatened.

Then entered the new group of men, those now controlling the Curtiss-Wright enterprises—C. M. Keys, Frank H. Russell, J. A. B. Smith, Chester W. Cuthell and Leonard Kennedy.

The company was reorganized, expanded, new enterprises were brought in. In the summer of 1929 two of the oldest names in aviation—Curtiss and Wright—were joined in one corporate title with the merger of the Curtiss interests and the Wright Aeronautical Corporation.

Curtiss virtually retired from active flying. He remained a director of the Curtiss-Wright Company after abdicating direct control, his advice still eagerly sought by airmen the world around.

FUNERAL SERVICES SET FOR TOMORROW

JEKYLL-HYDE TALE RIVALED

Detroit Murder Quiz Brings Strange Evidence

Reformer Buckley Believed to Have Led Dual Life

Clews Link Idol of Poor to Underworld Rackets

DETROIT, July 23. (NANA)—Out of the bewildering rush of events that stretched Gerald E. (Jerry) Buckley, radio announcer, dead upon the floor of the Hotel La Salle Tuesday night there is slowly emerging a picture so fantastic that the police and others working for a solution of the crime are half-afraid to believe the evidence of their own investigations.

Buckley was shot down by three men as he sat in the lobby of the hotel a scant half-hour after he had completed broadcasting the returns of the successful recall election that aimed at removing Mayor Bowles from office. Buckley had been a leader in the recall fight, but any proof that his slaying was a result of this leadership is totally lacking.

STRANGE TALES RISE

Instead, there is coming to the surface a series of strange stories, sworn affidavits, rumors, reports, confessions—all dragged from the depths of the underworld's slime and all pointing to the possibility that Jerry Buckley, friend of the poor, crusader for the underdog, leader in establishing a benevolent brotherhood of man, was not only bound to the underworld by his actions in the past, but was alternating his air pleas for help and mercy for the unfortunates of life with blackmailing and extortion.

One such clew comes in the form of a sworn affidavit made before the Commissioner of Police by a racketeer to the effect that Buckley had double-crossed an underworld character out of $4000. At the same moment the affidavit was being sworn, the mails contained a letter from a poor woman asking the privilege of starting a fund among the poorest of the city with which to buy a blanket of roses for Buckley, no one individual to contribute more than a penny.

IDOL OF THOUSANDS

For every evil ugly report of his racketeering activities there come heartbroken letters and expressions from the thousands of humble men and women, who all but worshiped the man they had never seen, but knew only as a deep, kindly voice giving words of sympathy to the jobless and the hungry and the aged. For months he had led over the radio movements for employment, for old-age pensions, for clean politics, growing bitter and savage only when he lashed out at gamblers, racketeers, grafting politicians and officials lax in their duty.

Buckley had been mentioned scores of times by the humblest of the city as their choice for Mayor, and almost every variety of elective office and his daily mail was loaded with prayers for his health and success. He had become a power to be reckoned with and he had been threatened time and again by mobs of gamblers, racketeers and political fanatics.

In the face of this apparent devotion of a life to the cause of the underdog, the police have gone grimly and methodically about gathering evidence that seemingly links him with mobs as vicious as any he preached against. He has been declared the "finger man" for one mob, a blackmailer of aspiring political candidates and a member of a kidnaping group.

LIFE OF CONTRASTS

He preached the beauty of the home and the police have uncovered more than one woman in his life, although he was married and the father of a 12-year-old daughter. He posed as the friend of man, but kept three rooms in as many hotels because he feared, and greatly, attacks and death.

His whole life was one of contrasts. He was a social service worker for Henry Ford at one time and in his radio talks he has time and again bitterly scored the manufacturer. His attack on municipal affairs was one of the leading factors in getting the recall under way and yet he urged night after night that his hearers "wait" before they took action. He was young himself, but took hours of his radio to boost the cause of the aged.

If the police prove the contention they are more and more inclined to put forth, he will stand as one of the strangest "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" cases in criminal history.

ONE SUSPECT HELD

Both State and city police by the score have worked during the last twenty-four hours on the case, but so far their only known results have been the gathering in of racket men, gamblers, gunmen, who tell stories of Buckley's asserted underworld connections.

A single man, Angelo Livecchi, a fellow-guest at the hotel, found in an elevator after the shooting, is being held on a charge of "suspicion." Rewards totaling $10,000 are being arranged, with the city offering half this sum and the Wayne County Board of Supervisors considering a similar amount.

Gov. Fred W. Green and the State police executives are in the city as are ranking officers of the Michigan National Guard, the latter organization now in summer camp, at Grayling.

In the two weeks preceding Buckley's death Detroit has had twelve murders among its underworld racketeers.

FORMER GOVERNOR MAY OPPOSE BOWLES

DETROIT, July 23. (AP)—Alex J. Groesbeck, three times Governor of Michigan and seeking a fourth term, today was the most prominently mentioned possibility to oppose Mayor Bowles in the election next month necessitated by the recall yesterday.

Assassination early today of Gerald E. Buckley, radio announcer, who had been outspoken in his criticism of Bowles's administration, was regarded as a serious blow to the Mayor in his campaign for re-election.

'LIVE' CANCER AIDS STUDY

Research Expert Tells of Great New Advance Made in Method of Tracing Disease

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—Growing cancer artificially and the hopes it offers were described by Dr. Francis Carter Wood, director of Crocker Cancer Research Institute of Columbia University.

Dr. Wood sailed on the Maure-tania today to attend at Amsterdam the international congress of experimental cytology. These men now work with live cancer cells, one of the latest developments in cancer study, which began with learning how to graft cancer on animals and raise it artificially. Now a start has been made at growing human cancer in glass tubes.

WORK EXPLAINED

"We are starting," said Dr. Wood, "to do what Pasteur did when he showed the way to cultivation of bacteria artificially, a work upon which are based some of medicine's greatest advances.

"We know no cancer bacterium or germ; but we have and can see with a microscope the cancer cell. It causes cancer and does so plainly by ability to grow much faster than a normal body cell.

"But for 3000 years we have been compelled to work with dead cancer cells. Now for the first time we have them alive, and capable of producing cancer. We wish to know why they grow so fast, something we never shall know until we actually see them growing.

"We can study now how fast a cancer cell breathes, that is, how rapidly it uses oxygen, whether this is more or less rapid than the rate of a normal cell. Any difference in rate becomes a point for a new attack on cancer.

"Some bacteria cause disease by the poisons they produce. We seek to learn whether cancer cells produce poisons, or, equally important, to know for certain they do not. If we find such a poison then we wish to know whether it acts the same after it has been produced under artificial conditions. If it, differs, this discrepancy again is a point for attack on the cancer mystery.

OTHER PROBLEMS

"We know some human cancers are helped by X-rays. We have also some evidence X-rays kill rapidly growing normal cells about as fast as cancer cells. We suspect the benefits of the X-ray are due to rapid growth of cancer cells, a production rate that causes more of them to be killed by the X-rays. It is important to find out definitely the reasons for X-ray effects.

"Cancer serum can be made that will seemingly cure a cancer on a rat's leg, but the leg has to be ligatured to retain the serum. So thus far there is no apparent method of making such a serum useful for human beings. Raising the cells artificially will assist in the study of this serum field."

Dr. Wood plans to visit the Institute of Curie in Paris and cancer research institutions in England. He also will make contacts in the interest of the newly established Radiological Research Institution, an American organization, and for the Institute of Health created by act of Congress.

NAPLES FEARS NEW TEMBLOR

again tonight. The quake had stopped them as if automatically at the moment of the shock, 1:10 a.m., thus giving the clearest evidence of the time of appearance of the subterranean upheaval.

This afternoon I made a trip through some of the towns along the mountains. The desolation and tragedy are difficult to describe. Whole suburbs and whole families went down in the ruins. Old houses built of stone with little mortar crumbled like castles of cards.

As the hot South Italian sun beat down on them the rescuers extricated body after body from the ruins.

DEAD FILL QUARTERS

At Villanova and Melfi there seemed no place left to put the dead. The provincial headquarters was filled with bodies.

Here and there in pathetic groups relatives of the missing persons gathered hoping by the miracle for which they prayed to their patron saints their loved ones remained alive in the tangled debris of timbers and masonry.

This morning only a score were known to be dead. At noon the figure rose to 100. This afternoon they said several hundred had perished. Tonight, with more than 500 accounted for, bodies still were being drawn from the wreckage.

At Potenza, a hospital center, the injured poured in by hundreds throughout the day. This was a scene duplicated at Avellino and Ariano.

All day long crash after crash echoed through the Apennine valleys as houses, w[illegible]d by the quak[illegible], were pu[illegible]d to the ground by firemen or soldiers to prevent them falling on passers-by.

Fear, uncertainty and foreboding tonight were all that many thousands of dwellers from Naples to Brindisi had left as their portion of the convulsion.

TREATY WINS IN COMMONS

cordance with the parliamentary rules to the committee of the whole for consideration of its details.

THIRD READING FORMALITY

The third reading, which will follow the committee's report, is a mere formality.

The London Times today hailed the ratification of the London naval treaty by the United States Senate as a victory for President Hoover and believes the protests of Japanese naval men will have no success in wrecking the agreement which was signed by the government and apparently approved by Japanese opinion.

"Of British ratification there has never been any doubt," the paper says editorially. "Criticism of the cruiser clauses by Admirals Beatty and Jellicoe created certain natural misgivings but, broadly speaking, the nation and the House of Commons agree with the government that the advantages preventing competition in warship construction will prove well worth the price being paid to secure them."

TREATY PRESENTED TO JAPANESE EMPEROR

TOKIO, July 24. (Thursday) (AP) Premier Hamaguchi, accompanied by four other members of the Cabinet, proceeded to Hayama today and formally presented the London naval treaty for the Emperor's approval.

The Emperor is expected to refer the treaty to the Privy Council today or tomorrow.

HETCH-HETCHY WORK STOPPED

Engineer Orders Shutdown on Water Project

All Electrical Equipment to be Replaced

Six Months and $1,000,000 Cost of Safety

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23. (AP)—A six months' shutdown of the Hetch-Hetchy workings, San Francisco domestic water supply and power project, as a safety measure was ordered today by City Engineer O'Shaughnessy on recommendation of State and Federal mine officials.

O'Shaughnessy estimated the shutdown, which will result in a lay-off of 400 men, will delay completion of the project six months or until July, 1933, and will probably cost taxpayers an additional $1,000,000 which might have to be raised by bond issue.

The shutdown is a result of investigation of the project which followed the explosion in Camp Mitchell tunnel last week, in which twelve men lost their lives.

The City Engineer said all electrical equipment in the nine tunnels must be remodeled with installation of spark-proof transformers, lights, switches and motors. All existing illuminating systems will be removed, he said, and the miners furnished with safety cap lamps.

Twenty new electric locomotives will replace the present type at a cost of $5000 each.

A total of 14.8 miles of tunnel remains to be completed. The delay occasioned may result in a shortage in San Francisco's water supply if summer rains are light, the city official said.

GOVERNOR APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF INQUIRY

SACRAMENTO, July 23. (AP)—Gov. Young today appointed a State committee of five men headed by Dr. Robert G. Sproul, president of the University of California, to investigate the Mitchell tunnel disaster with a view to preventing such tragedies in the future. The committee will not attempt to fix blame for the accident, the Governor said. Dr. Sproul's committee includes: Daniel Harrington, Fred W. Bradley, M. C. Sloss and Michael Casey.

OAKLAND, July 23. (AP)—Mourning the loss of his wife, who was killed in an automobile accident near Livermore the 13th inst., Jack Taber, 26 years of age, committed suicide today by locking himself in a garage and turning on the motor of his automobile.

Miss Stourton's grandfather was the nineteenth Baron of Stourton, twenty-second Baron of Mowbray, twenty-third Baron of Segrave and senior coheir of the Earldom of Norfolk. He was senior coheir in the Baronies of Bower, Greystock, Darce of Gilliesland, Ferres of Wemme, Verdon and Gifford of Brommesfield, as well as coheir of the Baronies of Kerdeston, Dogworth, Fitz-Payne and Argtine. Miss Stourton's father, Maj. Herbert Stourton, has held diplomatic posts throughout his career in the British army.

HOW'S WILL HAS LITTLE FOR HIS KIN

Bulk of Millionaire Hobo's Estate Goes Into Fund to Help Unemployed

CINCINNATI, July 23. (AP)—Nicholas Klein, for twenty-five years friend of and attorney for James Eads How, millionaire hobo who died at Staunton, Va., said today How drew up his final will here ten days ago and left an estate of from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

How's will named Klein as executor. The document gave Ingeborg How, Los Angeles, the hobo's divorced wife, "whatever she may be entitled to at law."

Louis How, a brother, and Holger How, a stepson, each received "the sum of $5 in full from my estate."

The will also provided for the remainder of the estate to be given in fee simple in trust to How's trustees or their successors, Barney Haughey, Denver; Nicholas Klein, Cincinnati, and Herman Gual, Chicago, "for the sole use and benefit of the Workers of the World, especially for the education of the disemployed."

Observer Traces Blaze to Cigar from Plane

Federal Warning Issued on Flyers' Negligence

Officer Declares Flames Hurt Tourist Trade

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23. (Exclusive)—Sky-riding smokers are the latest menace to California's forests. This was disclosed today when Federal forestry headquarters here received a report attributing a fire in the Shasta National Forest to a cigar dropped by an airplane passenger.

The lookout, according to this report, saw the flames flare up just after an air liner has passed overhead and as no other possible cause could be discovered he expressed the belief that a lighted "butt" had been carelessly tossed overboard from the plane.

WARNINGS POSTED

As a result, placards have been posted in all transport planes by the Department of Commerce, prohibiting passengers from throwing anything from the aircraft.

Another surprise for forestry headquarters was a report of a fire in the "asbestos country," officially known as Mono National Forest. Bare of underbrush and grass, the section is regarded as practically fireproof but W. M. Maule, forest supervisor, wired from Minden it was "the worst fire we have ever fought."

Starting along the Kingsbury Road near the California line, Maule said a wind which blew all night from the southwest and then from the northwest carried the blaze nearly into the national forest before it was controlled. Maule could not estimate the acreage.

TOURISTS DEPART

Seven lightning fires were reported from Plumas National Forest. The Forest Service ordered a plane from Goddard Field, Palo Alto, to make an inspection from the air.

Six hundred acres of grass and brush were burned over in this forest, across the Feather River from Intake, a Great Western Power Company plant twenty-five miles east of Oroville. This fire, blamed on a cigar thrown from a Western Pacific train, was brought under control by 100 fire fighters.

Reiterating the warning to campers and motorists to use the utmost care in the national forests, H. B. Show, regional United States forester, declared today that figures on 1929 forest fires showed that in four days guest registrations at summer resort hotels fell off 88 per cent and that business fell off 50 per cent at other resort concerns. Every large fire, he added, is marked by a general and rapid exodus of tourists.

"The prevention of forest and brush fires," Show added, "is your business, my business and mighty good business for California."

FRUIT RATE PLEA AGAIN CONSIDERED

I.C.C. Studies Stand of California Shippers for Lower Freight Schedule

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today again took under consideration the question of railroad freight rates on shipments of deciduous fruits to the eastern half of the United States.

Nearly two years ago the commission ordered rates on such fruits moving across the continent cut from 01.72 to $1.60 a hundred pounds, basing its action largely on the Hoch-Smith Congressional resolution which directs the lowest possible rates be given agricultural products affected by depressions.

The railroads contested the order in the courts, and the Supreme Court set aside the reduction. The commission was declared to have misused the power granted it by law and the resolution.

California fruit interests then renewed the case, asserting, without regard to the resolution, the transcontinental rates are unreasonably high.

The order of the commission today permits this contention to be considered without regard to the Hoch-Smith resolution.

MORMONS TO OBSERVE CENTENNIAL TODAY

PALMYRA (N. Y.) July 23. (AP)—This village will be the scene tomorrow of the centennial of the first Mormon church. Joseph Smith told his followers it was here he climbed the hill of Cumorah and unearthed a volume of gold plates on which he said were inscribed the history of a lost American civilization and the text of "the true religion." Church records say this happened September 23, 1823, and on July 24, 1830, the first church of the Latter Day Saints—the Mormon church—was founded.

MRS. ZELLERBACH GRANTED DIVORCE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23. (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Zellerbach today obtained a divorce from Arthur Zellerbach on the ground of cruelty. She was Zellerbach's fourth wife. They met in 1928 and declared it a case of love at first sight. Before their marriage Zellerbach signed an agreement to pay his wife $100 a month for life if they were divorced. Today the wife was awarded $300 a month alimony.

DENTAL ASSOCIATION ELECTS NEW YORKER

DENVER, July 23. (AP)—Dr. Martin Dewey of New York today was elected president-elect of the American Dental Association, to take office at the close of the 1931 convention. Dr. Robert Todd Oliver of Philadelphia, selected last year, will take office Friday at the close of the 1930 convention.

HEALTHIEST GIRL RELATES HER S.O.S.

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—The nation's healthiest girl avoids alcohol, tobacco and rouge, and eats meat but once a week. Miss Florence Smock of Eustis, Fla., 18 years of age, who won the title at the last congress of 4-H Clubs in Chicago, is visiting here. She revealed her S.O.S. (secret of success) as surf, oranges and sunshine.

Hero of Three Wars Ends Life

FORT WORTH (Tex.) July 23. (AP)—John W. Lewis, veteran of three wars and seven times decorated, died from poison here last night. Found unconscious in his room, he was rushed to a hospital, but did not regain consciousness.

The man was responsible for the capture of 175 Spaniards in the war with Spain, served in the Boxer Rebellion and was gassed in 1917. He carried in his pocket a clipping from a Los Angeles paper which revealed he pawned his seven medals for $10 in that city.

HUDSON

the World's Largest Selling "EIGHT"

Registrations officially recorded by every State in the Union show that for this year more Hudson Eights have been delivered to consumers than any other eight in the world.

Saying Great Things of the Hudson Eight

"Hudson's Great Eight is the finest of fifteen splendid Hudsons I have owned." . . . from owner letter.

"It is the greatest of seventeen successive Hudsons I have owned and driven." . . . from owner letter.

"I have owned seven great Hudsons—and now the "Straight Eight"—easily the greatest." . . . from owner letter.

"After making over 400,000 miles on three previous Hudson cars, without any break-downs, I was convinced I could get nothing better than another Hudson. The running of my Hudson Eight is as smooth as any car twice the price." . . . from owner letter.

"In owning five Hudson cars I have thought each better than the one before. But my pleasure in the Hudson Eight—in its good looks, beautiful performance and economy—convinces me this is the finest Hudson and greatest value of all." . . . from owner letter.

Victor in California Tests

With nearly all makes submitting bids, Hudson's Great Eight, with 100% score, overwhelmed all competition in tests conducted in the purchase of cars for the deparment of Highway Control of the State of California.

See For Yourself the Increasing Number of Hudson Eights on the Street

Hudson Beauty, Hudson Quality, Hudson Performance and Hudson Value frankly question the wisdom of ever paying more for any car. They have made Hudson the world's largest selling Eight. And the growing power of this conviction is shown in the increasing numbers you see everywhere.

124,750 Miles with 100% Reliability

Twenty-five Hudson Eights in grueling nonstop runs of 168 hours each (7 days) gave the marvelous result of 100% reliability in a total distance of 124,750 miles. Not a motor failed, not a part was replaced, not an adjustment was required.

Wins Famous Tour de France

Against eighty-seven cars from every country Hudson scored 100% in winning the highest honors including the Ansaldo Cup in the nine-day Tour de France, most celebrated of the annual tests staged on the European Continent.

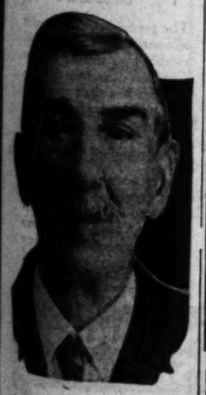
"Go Out of My Way to Tell of New Sargon"

"I am 59 years old and I don't believe anybody at any age could get quicker or better results from Sargon than I did", recently stated George T. Lemen, 625 W. Broadway, Long Beach, a Mason, and for 40 years a railroad supervisor, but now retired.



GEORGE T. LEMEN

"Over-active kidneys, a poor appetite with a steady loss of strength and energy pulled me down, while my circulation was so poor that my legs would frequently cramp and pain me dreadfully. I didn't feel 'right' at any time and was pretty well discouraged when I started Sargon. This medicine brought me wonderful improvement! My whole system is built up to a strong, healthy condition and every last one of my troubles has disappeared. I'm feeling now almost like a new man!

"Sargon Pills are the mildest and at the same time the most effective laxative I've ever taken. They stimulated my liver and regulated my bowels without upsetting me in the least. My color is clear and healthy looking, and I'm feeling as good I go out of my way to tell others what the Sargon treatment did for me."

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities. [Advertisement.

Lower California Purchase Again Advocated

Swing Backing Movement as Water Solution

Subject May be Brought Up Before Congress

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 23. (Exclusive)—The controversy over how much Colorado River water is to be awarded to Mexico after Boulder Dam has been constructed has caused a revival of the old agitation for purchase of Lower California by the United States as a means of permanently settling this international water dispute.

Representative Swing, coauthor of the Boulder Dam Act, is militantly crusading for the acquisition and is starting what appears to be a campaign to arouse renewed interest in the proposal in the Colorado River States of the Southwest. He indicated today just before leaving for his home in California that he intends bringing the subject before Congress next winter.

LIVE SUBJECT

Purchase of Lower California has been agitated periodically for many years and eight or nine years ago the Legislature of California adopted a memorial urging Congress to authorize formal diplomatic negotiations to that end. Congress did not act, however, and the subject has been mentioned only infrequently since then, although remaining very much alive in the minds of some Senators, Representatives and others from Colorado River States most intimately identified with the Boulder Dam legislation.

It was stated in a special Washington dispatch to one of the leading eastern newspapers that the international water commission, which has been attempting to iron out the Colorado River and other international disputes with Mexico and which recently resigned in a body with its work incomplete, had suggested purchase of Lower California in its report now in the hands of government printers. This was denied at the State Department and Representative Swing, who has been following the matter closely, said he was not aware that such a recommendation had been made. The commission's report is due next week.

SCHEME OPPOSED

The newspaper article referred to asserted that the three members of the commission, Dr. Elwood Mead, Commissioner of Reclamation; Gen. Lansing H. Beach, U.S.A., retired, of California, and W. E. Anderson of El Paso, Tex., had submitted their resignations because of their opposition to the scheme, said to originate with Ambassador Morrow, that the United States give Mexico half of the water of the Colorado and then buy it back.

The Morrow plan, according to the dispatch, is for Mexico to devote the money derived from the sale of the water to the liquidation of the huge American claims against her. These claims are mostly on behalf of American oil and mining companies. Mexico pleads inability to pay them in her present financial situation.

Representative Swing has denounced this rumored plan in letters to Secretary of State Stimson and Lawrence M. Lawson, who has been named to carry on singlehanded the work laid down by the International Water Commission.

PROPOSAL BACKED

At the same time, the California Representative has turned eagerly to the proposal that this government end all trouble over the Colorado by acquiring Lower California. He said in his opinion this not only would solve the water problem, but Mexico's financial predicament as well.

"With the money she got from the sale of Lower California," Swing declared, "Mexico could settle not only the claims made against her by American citizens, but also her debts to Great Britain, France and every other country. The peninsula is cut off from the mainland of Mexico so that she cannot get to it. She doesn't need the land and the United States needs Magdalena Bay. At least we don't want any foreign power to build a naval base there."

Swing said the eight States in the Colorado basin would stand as a unit against any proposal to give Mexico half the water of the river and predicted a treaty embodying such a proposition if submitted to the Senate would fail of ratification.

CURTIS'S SON ACCUSED BY ARCHITECTS

Three Chicagoans Sue on Charge That They Paid for Contracts Not Received

CHICAGO, July 23. (AP)—Harry K. Curtis, Chicago attorney and son of the Vice-President, has been sued for damages by two architects and a contractor who charge they paid him to obtain government contracts which never materialized.

The architects, Angelo Zucco and A. M. Friedman, in their complaint charged they gave Curtis a $500 check to obtain the contract of drawing plans for a postoffice at Ottawa, Ill.

Max Kovarski, the contractor, asserted he paid the attorney a like sum and in return was to receive the roofing contract on the proposed new Chicago postoffice.

Damages in each suit were placed at $1000. Both complaints set out Curtis, in a verbal agreement, promised to hold the checks in escrow until the contracts were awarded. Instead, the complainants charged, the attorney indorsed and deposited the checks in his bank.

No answer has been filed in Curtis's behalf. In the investigation of similar charges made several months ago by the State's Attorney's office, Curtis denied he had promised to secure contracts for the complainants, and said the checks given him were for legal services.

The investigation was dropped.

BEET GROWERS WILL GET AID

Marketing Act Benefits Now Available to Them

Farm Board Calls Meeting for August 2, Next

Co-operative Plan Proposed in Relief Program

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—The benefits of the Agricultural Marketing Act now may be extended to sugar beet and sugar cane growers, under announcement of the Federal Farm Board today that these products have been designated as commodities within the act.

Invitations have been sent to representatives in the seventeen sugar beet producing States to meet at Greeley, Colo., August 2, next, for the purpose of developing a national co-operative marketing program.

Selection of representatives will be made by organized co-operatives in the producing regions.

The 1929 value of the sugar beet crop was approximately $57,600,000.

It was explained at the Farm Board that sugar cane producers are not now generally organized into co-operatives. Representatives of the industry, however, it was added, will be called in to confer on any steps taken to deal with the commodity.

"CORPSE" RETURNS HOME DAY AFTER HIS FUNERAL

NEW YORK, July 23. (Exclusive) — Charles Miller of the Bronx did his best today to convince acquaintances that he is alive, but he had considerable difficulty because of the belief that his funeral took place yesterday, with his mother, Mrs. Agnes Miller, at the grave.

Miller was unaware of the funeral—although that should not astonish anybody—until on his way home this morning he began to meet people he had known. They appeared rather put out at seeing him.

As soon as young Miller—he is 20 years of age—understood the situation, he went to Dr. Charles Hochman, assistant medical examiner, and asked if it were true that Charles Miller was dead and buried. Gravely informed that it was, Miller declared he was in a position to deny it.

Dr. Hochman said he thought his visitor must be wrong because Miller's mother had identified the body, found in the Harlem ship canal. Height and weight corresponded, she had said, and there was the scar on the left hand, where her boy once cut himself with a hatchet. Miller then displayed a scar in the proper place and submitted facts that convinced Dr. Hochman. The two of them went to break the news to Mrs. Miller. At first she could not believe that her son was there.

When she was convinced, Mrs. Miller said that the body she had mistaken for that of her son would be permitted to rest in the grave she had provided, but Dr. Hochman said it will have to be disinterred in the hope of true identification. Mrs. Miller had not seen her son for six months nor heard from him. She reported him as a missing person and was called when the body was found in the canal.

ARIZONA FAILS TO GAIN SEAT

Tentative Figures on Census Dash State's Hopes

Additional Membership in House Seems Lost

Increase of 80,793 Short of Required Total

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Another change in the tentative reapportionment of the House of Representatives on the basis of the 1930 census was indicated today when computations were concluded on Arizona's preliminary population figures.

Present indications are Arizona will not gain an additional member of the House, as had been figured on the basis of her estimated population as of January 1. As a result, Massachusetts may retain her present membership of sixteen.

Arizona's population, announced as 421,641, or an increase of 80,793, falls about 77,000 below the estimate on which her increase of one member was predicted. The apportionment must exclude from consideration Indians not taxed. That will reduce Arizona's figure for apportionment purposes, since 21,134 Indians were included in the total.

HAIR AND BLOOD STIR POLICEMEN

Governor's Secretary Denies Ownership of Auto That Killed Rabbit

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23. (AP)—Six policemen awakened Vincent Kennedy, secretary to Gov. Young, as he slumbered in his room at a hotel here today and accused him of driving an automobile that had human hair and blood on the bumper and fender.

Kennedy denied ownership of the car, which was traced to a State highway patrolman. The patrolman explained he had hit a rabbit while driving from Sacramento yesterday.

Kennedy went back to sleep.

LOUISIANA HAS GAIN OF 300,367

Mississippi Census Shows Increase of 220,770

NEW ORLEANS, July 23. (AP) The population of Louisiana reached 2,098,876 on an unofficial compilation by Associated Press today from reports of the district census supervisors. The increase was 300,367, or 16.7 per cent.

MISSISSIPPI'S TOTAL PLACED AT 2,611,339

JACKSON (Miss.) July 23. (AP) The 1930 population of Mississippi was fixed unofficially at 2,611,339, an increase of 220,770, or 12.2 per cent over 1920 in a compilation prepared by Associated Press from reports of district census supervisors.

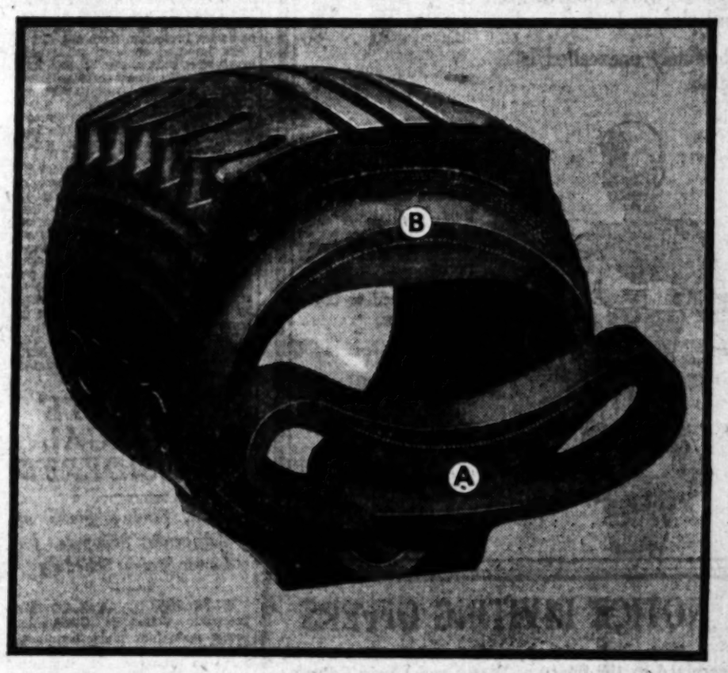
Fifty Thousand Tire Users say

"IT'S THE BIGGEST THING THAT'S HAPPENED SINCE BALLOONS"

"It's MORE than an Inner Tube," say those who have replaced old-fashioned tubes with the remarkable new Goodrich Air Container

1. SEALS PUNCTURES on Running Wheels
2. ADDS MILEAGE— 20% - 35% More
3. MAINTAINS PRESSURE at Correct Point
4. REDUCES TIRE CARE to the Minimum
5. INSURES SAFETY— Prevents Blow-outs
6. OUTLASTS THE TIRE— often Several
7. STRENGTHENS TIRE against Bruises



HOW THE AIR CONTAINER WORKS (A) shows a cross section uninflated. When air is applied, the "bridge" of rubber underneath the cord insert (B) is placed under compression by being forced into shape. Any puncture is instantly squeezed shut and sealed by compression. The patented cord insert makes the Air Container fit snugly, prevents shoulder separation.

"IT'S the biggest thing since balloons," say tire users by the thousands. "The most revolutionary improvement in tire performance in years."

And they're right. The Air Container takes the place of old-fashioned inner tubes . . . and it's more than any inner tube ever could be.

The ordinary inner tube blows out when pinched and goes flat instantly when punctured. The Air Container automatically seals punctures on running wheels . . . provides absolute safety by preventing blow-outs.

The ordinary inner tube, if allowed to develop slow leaks, will rob you of mileage that your tires should give. The Air Container, by maintaining correct air pressure, actually adds from 25% to 35% more tire mileage. Air Containers outlast the tire . . . there are records of their serving for nine years in constant use. They pay for themselves in savings on tubes and upkeep.

90% of all tire troubles are caused by under-inflation. Ordinary inner tubes call for regular attention to maintain proper inflation. Air Containers need be checked only a few times a year.

All of these advantages are to be found only in genuine Air Containers, made by Goodrich. The genuine Air Container has a patented, exclusive feature, a construction principle employed exclusively by Goodrich, which avoids the weakness heretofore found in so-called "puncture-proof" tubes. Goodrich Air Containers retain their puncture-sealing ability indefinitely, a quality found in no other puncture-proof tube.

We have Goodrich Air Containers in stock in your size right now. Come in and let us show you just why it's the biggest thing that's happened since the introduction of the balloon tire.

HOUSE TO LOSE FAMILIAR FACE

Fifteen Members and One Delegate Will Retire

Six Representatives Hope to Become Senators

Numerous Veterans Among Those Stepping Out

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP) Fifteen House members and one delegate are planning to retire voluntarily at the end of the next session and six others hope to join the ranks in the Seventy-second Congress.

Reasons, such as "business opportunities," "long public service," "age," "personal matters" have been given by some of the retiring Representatives, although a few confess privately that Congression[al service] is not what it is cracked up to be."

As far as the women of the House are concerned over retiring from the branch and aspiring for the Senate, they draw a tie.

Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican, Illinois, is the party nominee for the Senate. Representative Pearl Peden Oldfield, Democrat, Arkansas, has announced she will relinquish her seat March 4, "to make way for some young man who desires a political career."

HOUSE TO LOSE FAMILIAR FACES

Seven Members and One Delegate Will Retire

Representatives Hope to Become Senators

Veterans Among Those Stepping Out

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Seven House members and one delegate are planning to retire voluntarily at the end of the next session, and six others hope to join the ranks in the Seventy-

Congress, such as "business depression," "hog public service," "agriculture," "general matters" have been given as reasons of the retiring Representatives, although a few conservatively that Congressional service is not what it is cracked up to be.

Of the women of the House who followed over retiring from the bench and aspiring for the seat they draw a tie.

Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican, Illinois, is her candidate for the Senate. Representative Pearl Peden Oldfield, Democrat, Arkansas, has announced that she will relinquish her seat March 4, "to make way for some young man who desires a political career."

CIVIL WAR VETERAN

The last Civil War veteran to serve in Congress—Maj. Charles Edgerton, North Carolina—is not a fifth of a century as Representative from the Fifth District at the age of 90 years in March.

"I'm tired and I'm going home to rest," said the gray-bearded and bowed Confederate soldier, who carries on his body the scars of three hostile bullets.

A veteran of the Spanish-American and World Wars—Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright of Rye, N. Y., Republican Representative of the Twenty-fourth District—is planning to return to private life after serving in four Congresses. He wears the Distinguished Service Medal for bravery in action in France, and served under President Harding as assistant Secretary of War.

Representative Moore, Virginia, a recognized constitutional lawyer, is to seek the seclusion of private life after twelve years in Congress.

FORT OF NEW JERSEY

By entering the New Jersey Senatorial primaries against Dwight W. Morrow, Representative Fort, Republican, eliminated the possibility of his return to the House next year. Until a few months ago Fort was secretary to the Republican National Committee.

He directed the preconvention campaign of Mr. Hoover for the Presidency and from his close association with the Chief Executive was regarded in the House as speaking with administration authority, particularly on agricultural matters. He took an active part in drafting the Farm Relief Act.

Esterly and Watres, Republicans, Pennsylvania, are to return to private life because of business matters. Stobbs of Massachusetts, Republican, will return to the law practice after three terms.

Hudspeth, a wealthy cattle and sheep raiser of Southwest Texas, will retire because of his health. Another Democrat, Fisher, Tennessee, will relinquish his seat for personal reasons after fourteen years.

TO TAKE NEW POST

Brigham, Republican, Vermont, will accept a position with an insurance company.

Hoffman, a New Jersey Republican, has accepted an appointment as automobile commissioner in his State.

Frank M. Ramey, Illinois, and Shaffer of Virginia, Democrat, and Republican, respectively, are to leave because of business demands.

O'Connell, Democrat, of Rhode Island, already has resigned to become a member of the State Supreme Court. Aldrich, also of Rhode Island, previously made plans to retire but was prevailed upon by colleagues, including Speaker Longworth and friends in his district, to run again.

Delegate Sutherland, Alaska, is serving his fifth and last term, having, he said, "received all the honor my sourdough Territory can pay me."

Besides Mrs. McCormick, members of the House seeking Senatorial seats are White of Maine; Dickson of Iowa, Sproul of Kansas and Pritchard of North Carolina, Republicans, and Cordell Hull of Tennessee, Democrat.

ASSESSOR SENTENCED

KING WELCOMES BISHOPS

Hopes for Reunited Christendom Expressed by George at Lambeth Conference

LONDON, July 23. (AP)—Hopes for a reunited Christendom were expressed by King George in reply to an address from members of the Lambeth conference when he and Queen Mary received them in Buckingham Palace today. The King shook hands with each visitor.

"I thank you most sincerely for your address and for the spirit of devotion and affection which animates it," said the King addressing his guests.

"It is a deep satisfaction for me to receive and welcome this great assemblage of bishops of the American communion which includes not only bishops from my dominions but from the United States of America.

"I have observed with interest that among the delegations which visited Lambeth has been an important one from the orthodox church. Looking back upon the beginning of this series of Lambeth conferences, it must be a source of pride and thankfulness to reflect what testimony they bear to the growth and development of the Anglican communion. One hundred years ago it was little more than the church of a single kingdom. The present conference is a world-wide gathering of united, though mostly self-governing, churches which has attained the proportions of a general council."

G.O.P. CAMPAIGN PLANS PUSHED

Huston Resignation Looked for This Week

Delayed Retirement Will Result in Ouster

Harmony By-Word as Party Leaders Meet Hoover

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Confidently expecting the early retirement of Claudius Huston as chairman of the Republican National Committee, President Hoover and party leaders today went ahead with arranging campaign plans in the absence of Huston.

The Republican campaign discussions at the White House and the Capitol were based upon the assumption Huston is getting out. However, his continued absence was beginning to receive notice.

The chairman, who has been under fire of a powerful group in the party, promised early in the month to make an announcement of intention as chairman as soon as the Senate adjourned.

STATEMENT LACKING

When the Senate adjourned Monday, party leaders sat back to hear his statement. None was forthcoming, inquiries were launched, but Huston was not found.

It was said he will be here tomorrow "if he can arrange some things."

Out of the round of conferences today it developed if Huston does not announce his intention of resigning shortly, steps will be taken to seek his ouster.

Senator Moses, New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, conferred at the Capitol with Senator Watson, Indiana, party leader in the Senate, and Postmaster-General Brown. Considerable interest attached to this meeting. Moses has been an ally of Huston in his fight for retention of the chairmanship, while Brown has been an outstanding opponent of Huston.

MEETING PEACE MOVE

It was said after the meeting the Huston situation was not discussed, but the conference was regarded as one of the first peace moves in the new harmony program.

President Hoover had conferences with Joseph Nutt, Ohio, treasurer of the national committee, and James Francis Burke, the national committee's counsel. Both are active in the movement against Huston.

It is the belief Huston will announce some time this week he is calling the executive committee here in August or September, at which time he will submit his resignation.

Everything is apparently arranged for Senator Fess, Ohio, to take over the chairmanship when Huston gets out.

Senator Steiwer, Oregon, who will have charge of the Republican Senatorial campaign in the West, also was a White House caller today, and so was Senator Allen, Kansas, another of the young guard group which is opposing Huston.

BORAH TO TAKE STUMP AGAINST HOOVER

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—The voice of Senator Borah of Idaho, which played a leading part in the Hoover Presidential race, is being pitched for new campaign efforts.

But unlike in 1928, Senator Borah is preparing to campaign in the agricultural belt of the Northwest next fall in opposition to the Hoover farm relief and tariff revision programs.

The Idaho Senator said today he has been requested to make some speeches in the Northwest States and added he is seriously considering acceptance.

PRINCE BALKED BY WEATHER

Flight to Wales Called Off And He Thereby Misses First Engagement

LONDON, July 23. (AP)—For the first time on record the Prince of Wales today was forced to cancel an official engagement because of weather conditions.

Weather reports from Wales indicated flying conditions were impossible and the Prince canceled an airplane flight which he had intended making from London to Carnarvon to open the royal Welsh agricultural show. As it was impossible to reach Carnarvon by train in time the whole engagement was abandoned.

Widow Faces Murder Charge

REDWOOD CITY, July 23. (AP)—Mrs. Minnie Roderick, widow of Frank Roderick, La Honda ranch well victim whose body was found in an abandoned well June 27, last, was rearrested today and charged jointly with William Woodring with Roderick's murder.

CAPT. DOLLAR PLANS VOYAGE TO ORIENT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23. (AP)—Capt. Robert Dollar, founder of the shipping line bearing his name, is going to sea again. At a luncheon today he revealed plans to visit the Orient next month on one of his own vessels. "And I'm not going for my health, either," asserted the shipping magnate, who is 86 years of age.

STATE'S AUTOS CLIMBING HIGH

Total of 1,968,012 Vehicles Now Registered

Los Angeles County Boasts More Than 800,000

Net Fees Expected to Reach More Than $6,000,000

SACRAMENTO, July 23. (AP)—Passenger automobiles registered in California for the six-month period ending June 30, last, totaled 1,830,096, Frank G. Snook, chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles, announced here today. There were 14,539 solid-tired trucks, 73,853 pneumatic-tired trucks, 5182 motorcycles, 8821 solid-tired trailers and 32,521 pneumatic-tired trailers. All motor vehicles totaled 1,968,012.

Los Angeles county had 758,097 passenger automobiles, 5506 solid-tired trucks, 27,243 pneumatic-tired trucks, 2739 motorcycles, 3035 solid-tired trailers and 7105 pneumatic-tired trailers.

SIX PER CENT GAIN

The midyear motor vehicle registration increased approximately 6 per cent, or 108,489 over the same period a year ago, Snook said.

The total of fee-paid registrations did not include vehicles owned by public service corporations and political subdivisions, on which no fees are paid, which, if counted, would bring the grand total beyond the 2,000,000 mark.

Net fees will total well above $6,000,000, Snook announced, after all expenses for operating the motor vehicle division and the California Highway Patrol have been deducted.

INDIRECT RETURN

This sum will be distributed to the counties and the State Highway Commission for expenditure on highways of the State, thus indirectly returning the fees paid by the motorist in the form of better roads.

The gain in pleasure cars alone was in excess of 90,000. Motorcycles reversed their ratio of several years past and showed a slight tendency to gain.

As in previous years, Los Angeles county was responsible for more than one-third of all registrations.

SCOTCH WESLEYANS SEEKING NEW STATUS

LEEDS (Eng.) July 23. (AP)—A plea for the recognition of the national status of Wesleyanism in Scotland was submitted to the Wesleyan conference today. There were suggestions from Scottish delegates that the church should be called "the Wesleyan Church in Scotland," that the synod should be styled the assembly, and the district chairman titled the moderator. The matter was referred to a special commission.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

SAN DIEGO BANK DOORS CLOSED

California Savings and Commercial in Trouble

Will C. Wood in Possession of Institution Now

President Irwin Makes No Statement to Public

SAN DIEGO, July 23.—The California Savings and Commercial Bank, Fifth avenue and B streets, failed to open its doors for business today. A notice posted on the doors of the institution some time during the night revealed that Will C. Wood, California superintendent of banks, has taken possession of the banking concern. The notice on the doors reads: "I have taken possession of the property and business of the California Savings and Commercial Bank, a corporation, under authority of Section 136 of the Bank Act of the State of California." The notice is signed by Wood.

I. Isaac Irwin, president of the institution, has made no statement. Superintendent Wood issued the following statement: "The California Savings and Commercial Bank, San Diego, was not permitted by the superintendent of banks to open for business this morning because of internal conditions.

"An examination in progress at the time of closing is being continued by the State bank examiner to determine the present condition of the bank and the possibility of reopening.

"The bank's deposits are approximately $1,200,000 and from present indications losses to depositors, if any, should be small. The bank was organized about three years ago with a capital of $500,000 and surplus of $50,000. John McFall, chief of the southern division of the State Banking Department, took charge of the bank's affairs pending the completion of the present examination."

Upland Beards and Locks to Grow Unshorn

UPLAND, July 23.—And now the local barbers are depending more and more on the women for their daily bread. The men folk of the community have declared a ban on barber shops, safety razors and scissors. September 9 has been set as the date for Upland's pioneer pilgrimage, which is intended to get all the pioneers of Southern California together for a picnic and frolic.

To lend more atmosphere and color to the occasion, the men here have voted to let their whiskers and hair grow unshorn. Several of the longer-established residents have a head and face start on the younger element in the matter of hairy features, but the battle of the beards promises to become an epic event in the history of the district.

The American Legion and the Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring the hair-growing contest and will award prizes to the most ferociously adorned males; to those who raise the longest beards; for the silkiest, and for the most original.

An all-day program is planned for the pioneer event, which is to have as its background the statue, "The Madonna of the Trail," unveiled by D.A.R. chapters and national officers last year at Foothill Boulevard and Euclid avenue.

Negro Motorist Slugged, Robbed

SANTA BARBARA, July 23.—Slowing down for an automobile which was parked crosswise of the Coast Highway near Gaviota, James Jackson, 40-year-old Sacramento Negro, was slugged and robbed by a man who jumped on the running board of his sedan, according to a report he made to Sheriff James Ross. His car was wrecked when it plunged off the road. His watch and $85 were taken from him, he said.

Jackson said he was pinned in his car unconscious from about 2:30 p.m. until 6 o'clock the next morning, when some passing motorists removed him from his car and called the Sheriff's office.

BRAWLEY CONSIDERS FILTRATION SYSTEM

BRAWLEY, July 23.—Plans for the installation of a $75,000 filtration system for the city water supply here were discussed at a meeting of the City Council last night. Members of the board expressed reluctance to call for a bond election at this time, but indicated that they will continue their investigation and probably will ask the voters to approve bonds for the project at a later date.

PUBLIC 'ORANGE CONSCIOUS'

Bright Months Ahead for Citrus Grower, Official of Packing Association Says, on Return from East

REDLANDS, July 23.—Bright months are ahead for the California citrus industry, according to A. D. Knight, assistant sales manager of the Mutual Orange Distributors, who returned home today from a trip to the various markets.

"The most encouraging evidence is the fact that oranges are bringing good prices through the East, despite low prices for other fruits and prevalence of unemployment," said Knight. "Deciduous products are cheap but the demand for oranges holds up. Everybody is talking about business depression, but they continue to buy oranges. The American public, it seems, is insisting upon a generous portion of citrus fruits in its every-day diet.

"When such things are true in the face of unfavorable psychological conditions nationally, the outlook can be nothing but happy. Although it is apparent that the East will continue in its slump for several more months, it also is evident that we are nearing the end of a period of readjustment. When conditions improve, the orange industry will be on an even firmer foundation.

NEW MARKETS AVAILABLE

"I feel optimistic even when I consider the probability that California will have to market its second-greatest orange crop during the coming season. Last season when we had to market 73,000 carloads of fruit we found out-of-the-way markets that are still eager to take our oranges during seasons of heavy production. This season, with 45,000 carloads to market, we are able, despite depressions, to practically ignore our export business. Should we have 80,000 carloads to send out of the State during the new season, I do not believe we will suffer in the least. The American public is altogether too orange-conscious, so to speak, to leave California growers worrying about heavy production and low prices.

"Oranges today are bringing the only real money on the eastern fruit markets. You can't realize the tremendous significance of this situation until you are brought face to face with the fact that the East is ever so much more in the hollow of this depression than we are in the West. That is because the East is dependent so much upon industry. Out here in the West we are comparatively safe in the midst of good agricultural conditions."

SUFFERS FROM HEAT

Although fortunate enough to keep ahead of the heat wave during the earlier part of his journey, Knight encountered terrific temperatures in New York, and on his return through Chicago.

"During the last week in June, temperatures ranged from 87 to 90 deg., in New York and, believe me, that is genuine heat on the Atlantic Coast," said Knight. "In the midst of the torrid period we received a heavy rain on June 26, which cooled things off somewhat. I found it a relief, however, to spend June 30 and July 1 and 2 in Atlantic City, where I represented the Redlands Club at the Kiwanis convention."

BANDIT PAIR ROB CLERK OF STORE

Daylight Hold-up in Long Beach Nets Robbers $200; Gas Station Man Victim

LONG BEACH, July 23.—A pair of daylight bandits, believed by police to be the same men who robbed a drug store yesterday morning, entered Safeway Stores, Inc., 3944 East Fourth street, shortly after it was opened this morning, and escaped after obtaining $200 in money.

They compelled M. E. Marsh, clerk, who opened the store, to unlock the safe, then they locked him in a rest room, obtained the money, and pulled the phone from the wall.

Early in the morning a lone bandit cocked a pistol near the head of John Leavitt, 926 East Hill street, and forced him to hand over $21 in cash, a portion of the receipts of the service station at 3120 American avenue, owned by G. B. Glover.

Bond Interest Rate May be Reduced Now

SAN DIEGO, July 23.—Plans to save the taxpayers a sum of money by reducing the interest on the $400,000 El Capitan water bonds from 5 to 4 or 3½ per cent, were discussed by the City Council in adjourned session today, when it was decided to reject all bids for the issue received last Monday and to adopt an ordinance reducing the interest, providing for a lower rate.

It was stated to the Council by Deputy City Auditor Woodbury that a saving from $20,000 to $30,000 could be effected, depending on whether the new rate was fixed at 4 per cent or 4 1-4 per cent. Before readvertising for new bids, the Council directed the City Attorney's office to draft an ordinance making the change, and to immediately forward a copy to the New York firm of bond attorneys, Wood, Thompson and Company, for approval. A request is to be made that if that firm approves, the answer be sent by wire. If a favorable reply is received, the Council will adopt the ordinance changing the rate of interest and then call for new bids for the sale of the bonds.

The money is to be used in acquiring from the government the site for a reservoir now occupied by the Capitan Grande Indians.

Realty Given Reduction in Assessments

GLENDALE, July 23.—Assessed valuation of local realty is $6,506,825 less than it was last year, according to tentative figures released today by County Assessor Ed W. Hopkins. These figures are subject to revision by the Board of Equalization, Hopkins stated.

The total assessment amounts to $73,326,350, as compared with $78,244,775 last year.

Valuations of stocks and bonds this year is $6,582,920, as against $3,132,785 last year. Personal property is valued at $6,770,910 this year, as compared with $5,041,930 last year and solvent credits for 1930 stand at $2,066,585, as against $1,315,345 last year.

HUNTER KILLS LION AFTER LONG TRAILING

MONROVIA, July 23. — After tracking a large female lion for twenty miles, C. W. Ledshaw, State lion hunter, made his kill yesterday after his hounds had treed the lion in Clam Shell Canyon, north of this city. Ledshaw took up the trail in Barley Flats, and was assisted by Johnny Aikin, local boy, although Aikin was not with him when the animal was treed yesterday.

PIONEER DENTIST DEAD

VAN NUYS, July 23.—Dr. J. E. Waterbury, for many years a resident here and one of the oldest dentists in Southern California, is dead at Pismo Beach where he moved a year or so ago on his retirement from his Van Nuys practice. He had been in failing health for some time. Interment will be at San Luis Obispo. Two sons, Arthur and James Waterbury, survive. Mrs. Waterbury died about two years ago and is buried at San Luis Obispo.

BOY THROWN INTO OCEAN BY NEGRO LAD

SANTA BARBARA, July 23.—The Harry Johnson, 13-year-old son of Bert Johnson, real estate salesman, was recovering today from effects of being thrown into the ocean from Stearns Wharf. The Johnson lad and a chum were returning from fishing and were leaning over the railing of the wharf looking at the small boats below when a large Negro boy, whom they did not know, came up. Without warning he seized the Johnson lad by the legs and pushed him over the railing into the water and then ran. His chum gave a description of the Negro to the police.

DEATH TAKES PIONEER RESIDENT OF VALLEY

SAN FERNANDO, July 23.—Funeral services were conducted yesterday, with interment in Valhalla Cemetery, for Francis Allen Kidder, 83 years of age, who died at Hermosa Beach following the shock of a broken hip. Mr. Kidder lived here for many years and built many of the large buildings in San Fernando. He was a charter member of the local Masonic lodge and a holder of the fifty-year Masonic button. He was born in Waltham, Mass., and spent part of his early life in Iowa and Kansas. His children are Mrs. Edna Shipp and Frank Kidder of Santa Ana, and Hal E. Kidder of San Fernando.

KIWANIANS TO HEAR TALK ON BAD CHECKS

VAN NUYS, July 23.—T. J. Mailheau, captain of the forgery detail of the Los Angeles Police Department, will be principal speaker tomorrow at the luncheon meeting of the Van Nuys Kiwanis Club. His subject will be "Spurious Paper," which he will illustrate with some samples of the misguided artists' handiwork. I. H. Malin will be chairman of the meeting. Guests of honor will be Capt. Charles A. Hodson, head of the valley division of police, and Captain of Detectives Bert Massey.

MAN RINGS BELLS; JAILED

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 23.—Will Carlton, residing in county territory, after he had rung a number of doorbells at residences along Compton avenue, was picked up by Deputy Sheriff Al Wolff and brought to this city, where he was charged with intoxication. Judge Edward H. Miller found him guilty and fined him $10.

BIDS ASKED ON GARAGE

SANTA ANA, July 23.—The County Supervisors late yesterday called for bids, to be opened August 12, on the contract for building the proposed new county garage on Fruit street. The cost estimate of Architect F. H. Eley, whose plans for the building were approved by the county board late yesterday, is approximately $12,000.

"GHOSTS" IMMUNE FROM ARREST

Glendale Police Answer Call From Woman Complaining of Didoes Cut by Supernatural Visitor, But Find Natural Causes for Her Fright

GLENDALE, July 23.—Police are thumbing over their book of city ordinances to find whether it is possible to arrest a ghost, but so far the framers of the city statutes seem to have overlooked spiritual visitors, although spirituous prowlers are covered in several of the laws.

It all comes about through a call that was received last night from a woman who complained that a ghost was cutting up didoes in front of her window. The reserves, cluttered up with good luck charms and short-barreled shotguns, hurried to the scene and found that a neighbor of the woman had been "trying to throw a scare into her," as the chaste language of the blotter reported it today.

It appears that the complainant a few nights ago called police to quell a somewhat noisy party in the neighborhood and the appearance of the ghost was in the nature of a warning to the woman to abstain from breaking up such gatherings in the future. No arrests were made as there is no law that forbids impersonation of a ghost.

GRAND JURY IN QUIZ OF NAUD CASE

Apartment Occupied by Girl Now Mother But Not Wed, Enters Investigation

SAN DIEGO, July 23.—An apartment occupied by Genevieve Naud, 17-year-old State College student, prior to the time she became an unwedded mother, today entered into the grand jury's investigation of the girl's charges that a 62-year-old educator is the father of her child. The infant was born at a local hospital June 7. The educator she named is in the city and eager to be heard by the jurors before they take any definite action in prosecution, according to word received from his counsel.

George R. Naud of Calexico, and Mrs. Naud, parents of Genevieve, were before the inquisitors yesterday, and Naud expected to testify this morning as first witness when the inquiry was resumed.

Max B. Carver and his wife Edith, aunt and uncle of the girl, admitted they had been subpoenaed. They said they knew little of the case. Genevieve had been with them in their home when she first came to the city to attend college but soon left for an apartment of her own, they said.

Survey for Huge Valley Gas Main Just Completed

RESEDA, July 23.—Survey work has just been completed for the large gas main of the Southern California Gas Company that is to cross San Fernando Valley from north to south, to connect a trunk line on San Fernando Road with the districts on the south side of Santa Monica Mountains. Construction work will be started within ten days, it is stated.

The main is sixteen inches and will carry a large volume of gas. The line is surveyed down Balboa avenue to Lassen street, east on Lassen to Hayvenhurst avenue, south of Roscoe street, east to Woodley avenue, south on Woodley avenue to Victory Boulevard, and south on Haskell avenue to Ventura Boulevard. This line will connect with one of the main lines on San Fernando Road north of San Fernando.

After crossing the State highway the line will extend through the Sepulveda tunnel to Westwood and the Santa Monica Bay cities district. This will make the fourth big line the Southern California Gas Company has put through San Fernando Valley. Two lines follow San Fernando Road from the Ventura fields to Los Angeles, and the other follows the Ventura Boulevard State highway.

Long-Delayed Valley Bridge Soon to Open

VAN NUYS, July 23.—Kester-avenue bridge costing about $17,000 and which is soon to be completed will join up the two ends of Kester avenue, important San Fernando Valley highway which has been paved for more than two years. The street has been kept from being a major roadway for traffic off Ventura Boulevard, because of the lack of the bridge over Los Angeles River.

The bridge is of steel truss type, 100 feet long with a twenty-four-foot roadway, concrete floor, and five-foot pedestrian walks. Kester avenue which runs north and south through the valley was paved to take traffic from Van Nuys Boulevard.

This purpose has been held up because of various reasons that retarded the building of the bridge.

ODD FELLOWS INSTALL

REDONDO BEACH, July 23.—Elaborate ceremonies marked the installation of officers of the local lodge I.O.O.F. last night, in the presence of more than 200 members and friends. Those inducted into office were: C. W. Lewis, Noble Grand; V. D. Swain, Vice-Grand; D. C. Denton, Secretary; O. H. Palmer, Financial Secretary, and Oscar Jones, Treasurer. A supper served in the banquet room of the lodge home followed the installation program.

FIRE CHIEF APPOINTED

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 23.—After filling the position of acting fire chief ever since his appointment last April following the city election, Norval E. Wasson has now become fire chief of the local department, the appointment having been made by the City Council by a vote of three to two.

YOUNG PAIR IN CRIME NET

Dan McLoughlin, 16-Year-Old Former Inmate of State School at Ione, and 18-Year-Old Girl Held

SANTA ANA, July 23.—A career in crime, said to have included theft of an automobile and passing of checks forged with the name of Dr. C. V. Doty of this city was believed to have been concluded by police here today when they arrested a 16-year-old boy, former inmate of the Preston School of Industry at Ione, and an 18-year-old local girl.

The boy, Dan McLoughlin, was held in the County Jail on a charge of issuing forged checks and escaping from the State School. The girl, Zelma Smith, of 1102 North Sycamore street, was held on a charge of passing a worthless check for $19.60 on a local newspaper. Complaint from a clothing store was said to have been the first of several received concerning the activities of McLoughlin.

Chief of Police Claude Rogers and assistant Chief of Police Sid Smithwick said they had been informed that the automobile which McLoughlin was driving had been stolen from D. L. Stewart of 421 Granite street, Reno.

JURY TRIAL FINDS MAN TO BE SANE

Roy I. Andross of Santa Ana, Declared Paranoiac by Physicians, Freed

SANTA ANA, July 23.—After deliberating ten minutes, a jury in Superior Judge George Scovel's court late yesterday decided that Roy L. Andross, former employee of a local manufacturing company, is sane.

Andross had demanded a jury trial after two physicians had pronounced him a paranoiac, suffering from delusions that his father, in Grenada, Minn., has been persecuting him, and that while he was in military service at Fort Bliss, Tex., a certain army officer plied him with dope secretly.

The jury verdict was understood to have been reached on the first ballot and Andross went free.

W.C.T.U. Will Support Fitts

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 23.—That the local Woman's Christian Temperance Union will continue to favor the action of a few weeks ago, when it declared that it would give support to Dist.-Atty. Fitts in his race for the nomination for Governor, has been made known here, notwithstanding the State organization's executive board's indorsement of the candidacy of Gov. Young.

A statement has been made by Mrs. Margaret T. Phillips, president of the local organization, and Mrs. Emilia C. Jones, publicity director of the union here, in behalf of the local organization, reiterating the recommendation almost unanimously accorded Fitts at the meeting of the local organization held a month ago. The local group at the meeting on June 24 went on record as enthusiastically indorsing the District Attorney's policy of "economy and protection of womanhood."

Chamber Goes in for Society

SIERRA MADRE, July 23.—That the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce is going social for the hot season is evidenced in the summer's schedule announced by Robert Davies, president.

Beginning this week, weekly dances will be held on the tennis courts in the city park on Friday nights, and to diversify the program, entertainments will be sponsored by various organizations of the city, such as the Volunteer Firemen, Community Players, American Red Cross and Canyon Improvement Association.

LIFE GUARDS RESCUE SIX FROM DROWNING

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 23. Six persons were rescued from the surf here late yesterday, when they were caught in a rip tide and carried out to sea. The bathers were out at shoulder depth about 800 feet from shore when their screams for help brought Life Guards Gene Belshe, Pete De Fabio and Buck Cameron, to their aid. The guards swam out with two life-guard cylinders and an inner tube, and rescued all from drowning. Vern Peet of Tucson, Bertha Dale of Anaheim and Dick Vail of Riverside were ill, and the guards gave them first-aid treatment.

CITY MANAGERS TO CONVENE IN UPLAND

UPLAND, July 23.—City Managers' Association of California members will gather at the Sycamores on Foothill Boulevard east of here Saturday, R. G. Manley, city service manager, announced today. A. E. Stockmeyer, City Manager at Alhambra, president of the association, will preside. George Hinkley, City Engineer of Redlands, and E. P. Steffa of Pomona, will be principal speakers. Flood-control work in San Antonio Canyon will be studied during the afternoon session.

"UNLOADED" GUN DEADLY

Wayne McCalley, 15-Year-Old Pomona Boy, Dies of Wound Accidentally Inflicted by Pal

CORONA, July 23.—Tragedy stalked the Santa Ana Canyon camp of five Pomona boys last night when 15-year-old Wayne McCalley of 507 Roswell street, that city, fell victim to the fire of an "unloaded" revolver in the hands of his pal, Oliver Peterson.

The five boys, including young McCalley, Peterson, Vernon Wolfe, Tom Francis and Donald Swope, had pitched their tent near Riverbank camp, five miles west of Corona, this week for a camping experience.

Last night as the boys sat on their cots inspecting the .32-caliber revolver McCalley said: "Let me see the gun." "Just a minute, till I take out the cartridges," replied young Peterson, who held the weapon. He removed what he thought to be all of the shells and then said, "Now I'll hold you up," and he pointed the gun at his companion and pulled the trigger.

Terrified at the discharge of the gun and at seeing Wayne slump to the floor, the boys summoned others, who directed the removal of the unconscious youth in a passing automobile to the Corona Hospital.

At the hospital the lad was reported dying, with his head completely bored through with the .32-caliber bullet that had entered his skull just above the left ear and emerged just above the right ear. Parents of the McCalley boy were at his bedside when he died at 5 a.m. today.

Sheriff Clem Sweeters and Undersheriff Carl Rayburn of Riverside, who investigated the case, expressed the belief that the shooting was entirely accidental.

Indians Eligible to Register in Imperial Area

EL CENTRO, July 23.—Reversing a ruling made by County Clerk Cal Mousseau last week, the Attorney General of the State has ruled that Indians in Imperial county are eligible to register and vote at the State and county elections here this year, according to an opinion made public here today by the county clerk.

The question regarding the status of 300 Indians in the east end of the county was raised last week when Deputy Registration Clerk L. B. Emerson of Calexico turned in a number of registration affidavits signed by members of the Yuma tribe. Mousseau declared at that time that the affidavits would be canceled.

Following the announcement that the Indians could vote, the American Conservation Club, which has been holding a series of open forum meetings for the thiry candidates in the county contest this year, announced that a public meeting would be held at Bard where the Indians will have an opportunity to hear the contestants speak.

Repining Lover Tries Suicide; Life is Saved

PASADENA, July 23.—Despondent because the mother of his sweetheart sought to break up his romance, Seward Hayes, 21-year-old Monrovia machinist, swallowed poison on today and was saved from death by prompt action of Chief Surgeon C. C. Tronesegaard of the Pasadena Emergency Hospital.

The youth swallowed the poison at his home and motored to the home of the girl, Rachel Garrison, 19, of 425 West Orange Grove avenue, where he collapsed on the steps. Miss Garrison's mother, Mrs. C. L. Garrison, telephoned the police and Patrolman Percy Wescott rushed the poison victim to the hospital.

Last night, Mrs. Garrison reported to the police that her daughter had been kidnaped. When police questioned Rachel she asserted that she had gone for an automobile ride with Hayes because she wanted to.

MANY BEQUESTS IN MRS. ENGLAND'S WILL

REDLANDS, July 23.—Mrs. Emma Clarissa England of Philadelphia, late widow of Thomas Y. England, bequeathed most of her estate of more than $100,000 in trust to her two daughters, Mrs. Clarissa A. Landell, Mrs. Martha E. Walton, and two children of a deceased son, James W. England, who are James W. and Margaret England. At the death of these beneficiaries, the income is to continue to their children and the principal is to be divided among the grandchildren's heirs twenty-one years after the death of the survivor of each group of them. She also made several trust bequests for nieces and friends, including $15,000 for a niece, Clarissa N. Haines of Berlin (N. J.,) $5000 each for nieces, Bertha A. McDewell and May S. Swayne of Camden, and for her friend and pastor, John B. G. Pidge.

THREE ISSUES VOTED ON IN UPLAND TODAY

UPLAND, July 23.—Booths were built today at the police station and the Boy Scouts lodge, preparatory to the special municipal election tomorrow. Three issues are at stake, all of them involving finances. A 20-cent levy on each $100 assessed valuation of city property is sought for maintenance of parks for the coming year; a levy of 5 cents is sought for music and 2 cents for advertising and promoting the city. Council has approved the appropriations, but a special vote of the people at large is required by law. Two-thirds majority is necessary for the three issues to carry. There has been very little opposition to the issues manifest.

ORDINANCE BANNING FIREWORKS SOUGHT

HERMOSA BEACH, July 23.—Requests sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce asking an ordinance prohibiting the sale or use of fireworks will be before the City Council at its next meeting, it was made known today. The measure is being put forward at this time in order that merchants may be familiar with the ordinance before another year's stock is purchased. The requests are made on the ground that the fireworks are a menace to life and property, having resulted in forty minor injuries here on the Fourth of July, and are a general nuisance.

SUPERVISOR TALBOTT SUCCUMBS

Former Member of State Legislature and Pioneer of Lompoc Valley Dies

LOMPOC, July 23.—William L. Talbott, Supervisor, pioneer of Lompoc Valley and former member of the California Legislature, died at his home here this morning, shortly after 2 o'clock, following an illness which came upon him but a short time ago while attending the California Supervisors' convention in Yosemite. He had seemed to recover from that attack but suffered a relapse.

Mr. Talbott was born in Iowa April 23, 1848, and was 82 years of age. He came to California with his parents in a covered wagon drawn by oxen when he was 4 years of age. The family settled at Michigan Bar, gold diggings in Northern California. He spent several years in Solano county and in San Francisco, and moved here in 1874. He served as Assemblyman from this district in the California Legislature in 1892.

He was one of the first colonists here assisting in founding the community fifty-five years ago. His first wife, who died some years ago, was the sister of the late Postmaster Erwin of Lompoc. His second wife still lives. He also leaves four sons, Dr. W. T. Talbott of Calexico, Attorney Edward Talbott of San Francisco, Dr. J. L. Talbott of this city, Chester Talbott of the local police department and a daughter, Mrs. Irene Case of Anaheim.

During his long and active life Talbott served this district in the State Legislature, where he made a distinguished record. On the death of E. K. Hardenbrook, Supervisor of the Lompoc district, Talbott was elected November, 1920, to the Board of Supervisors and was serving his second term. His death concluded an honorable career.

In his lodge affiliations Talbott was a member of the Masonic order. Funeral services will be conducted Friday.

Children Barred From Theaters at Crown City

PASADENA, July 23.—"Children under the age of 12 are not permitted to attend this theater," reads a placard placed at the box office of every amusement house in this city today when theater owners voluntarily agreed to prohibit attendance of young children in an effort to eliminate all possibility of an infantile paralysis epidemic.

The Board of City Directors at a special meeting today passed an emergency amendment to the local sanitary ordinance providing that "whenever, in the opinion of the city health officer the prevalence of a contagious disease shall necessitate such action, the said health officer shall order that all children of or under the age of 12 shall be excluded from all public gatherings playgrounds, or places of amusement, education or entertainment."

The board formerly planned to pass an ordinance forcing the theaters to exclude children from theaters until October 1, but when the theater representatives agreed to exclude children voluntarily, the City Directors voted merely to increase the powers of the city health officer so that he will be in a position to meet every possible emergency.

There are five cases of infantile paralysis in quarantine here at the present time.

MOVE MADE TO STOP "HOOKING" OF RIDES

INGLEWOOD, July 23.—"Hooking" rides to school, or elsewhere, will be prohibited in this city hereafter, and students who in the past have boasted that they have received fare money from the school district and have not spent any of it for fares, but have "hooked" their way instead, will have to forego this particular practice of thrift and play fair with the school board, if the request of the trustees of the Inglewood Union High School to the local City Council meets with approval. It is the opinion of the school trustees that the students' practice of standing in the roadway and blocking traffic while soliciting free rides is not only dangerous to the students, annoying and unfair to motorists, but is directly contrary to the principles of honor and square dealing. Inasmuch as fare is provided by the trustees for all students living one mile or more away from the school "bumming" rides is entirely unnecessary. The trustees have requested the City Council to make such solicitation a misdemeanor. A similar request is being made by the Inglewood Union High School trustees of the city councils in all cities in the school district.

"SHOOTING" SCARES RESIDENTS

Santa Paula Believes Gangland Invades City as Passengers Speed Through Town, Pumping Shotguns and Police Siren Screams; It Was "Movie"

SANTA PAULA, July 23.—Residents of this city thought for a while yesterday afternoon that they had been transplanted suddenly to the streets of Cicero, Ill., or like suburbs of Chicago, as a furious fusillade of shots mingled with the whine of the siren on the police car, resounded on Main street.

Startled citizens rushing to the street, saw a large truck speeding through town with two men sitting on the top firing shot after shot from double-barreled shotguns. There was a general scramble for places of safety, but they reappeared a little sheepishly a few seconds later when another speeding car carrying two cameramen passed the large truck.

The cause of the excitement was the taking of scenes for a motion-picture company.

The police siren was that of Police Thomas Bishop's official car, which passed the truck, clearing the way for traffic.

The plot of the story is that two tramps are riding on the back-end of a hay truck, when hi-jackers attempt to turn the liquor cargo. The company will be here for [illegible] days.

BAROMETER OF BUSINESS RISING

Congressman Evans Declares Depression Lifting

Tariff Act Defended in Talk to Glendale Gathering

Designed for Protection of Agriculture, He Says

GLENDALE, July 23.—The economic depression that has hung over the United States for several months is steadily lifting and the nation is emerging from the conditions that have hampered its business progress, Congressman W. E. Evans told the Glendale Realty Board today. The business depression, he asserted, has not been confined to the United States, but has been felt all over the world.

Evans predicted that the five-day week for labor is almost certain to be adopted as a part of the economic Renaissance, as a part of the program to absorb the workers who have been lacking employment in industry. Congressman Evans defended the tariff against the attacks that have been made on it by foes of the administration, asserting that it imposes an ad valorem duty on all products by 38 per cent as compared with the 25 per cent duty under the previous bill. He declared that the tariff was not drawn out of consideration for the views of foreign nations but to protect American industries, especially the agriculture of the country, which has been clamoring for protection for ten years.

"The market for American products is right here in the United States, and it is this market that the tariff was designed to protect," he declared. "Experts have shown that prices have fallen under a protective tariff, instead of rising, as the tariff encourages industry and leads to competition that tends to reduce prices."

Under the reapportionment Southern California is due to receive five or six new Congressmen, he said, which will assist this section of the State to protect its interests in the National Legislature and will prevent a repetition of such incidents as the proposed transfer of the navy and army aerial bases to the northern areas, which was advocated by the northern members of the California delegation in the last Congress.

Cannery Opened in Oakland by Ontario Firm

ONTARIO, July 23.—The biggest and largest cannery operated by the Cutler-Lobingier Canning Company, with headquarters here, was opened today at Oakland. J. Frank Lobingier, president of the company, announced. The new plant is one of the finest canneries in the district and will have a capacity of 500,000 cases of fruit. The Oakland plant supplants the Pomona plant which was closed down several months ago when decision was made to build the cannery in the north. All equipment formerly used in the Pomona plant has been moved to Oakland. The new Oakland plant will be installed with a 5000-ton run of peaches. William Filbert, superintendent of the Pomona plant, has been transferred to Oakland to take charge of the new cannery. Walter Brown and Paul Parish of the Ontario plant have gone to Oakland to supervise the opening operations.

Chief of Police May Have Aid

COVINA, July 23.—Whether an assistant to Chief of Police Saunders will be appointed by the City Council, as proposed by the Covina Business Men's Association, is to be decided by the Police Committee of the Council, which will confer with Chief Saunders in the matter.

The duties of the new assistant, as set forth by the association, would be to handle traffic in the city business section and to arrest violators of city ordinances.

"The association is in no way criticising Chief Saunders," C. C. Custer, president, declared. The city at present has only one police officer. Chief Saunders, who receives a salary of $25 a month, handles the collection of license fees. The business men feel that something should be done to regulate traffic on Citrus avenue during the daytime and to pick up peddlers and other violators of city ordinances. We cannot expect Chief Saunders, who is also constable of Covina township, to do this work, and so we ask that an assistant be appointed."

The matter will probably be disposed of at the next Council meeting.

AMTORG'S CHIEF HINTS REPRISAL

Soviet Business Relations "Threatened by Charges"

Whalen Documents Declared Forgeries on Intuition

Inquisitors Clash With Red on Party Membership

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—Peter A. Bogdanov, president of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, soviet business representative in the United States, acknowledged today he has no actual proof that the so-called Whalen documents are forgeries, although it is his firm conviction they are not genuine.

Bogdanov was questioned at length concerning these papers at the afternoon session of the special Congressional committee investigating Communist activities in the United States.

Last May Grover A. Whalen, then Police Commissioner of New York, made public various letters indicating that Communist activities directed from Moscow were being carried on in the United States through Amtorg officials. On the day these letters were published Bogdanov wrote Whalen a letter saying they were forgeries.

REPRISAL HINTED

The letters were first mentioned today in a long statement submitted by Bogdanov. It outlined the history of Amtorg as the soviet purchasing agent and said continuance of the company's $100,000,000 annual business here was threatened unless charges such as are contained in the Whalen documents are investigated and refuted. It also pointed out the same day the letters were published Bogdanov wrote Whalen calling them forgeries.

Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., chairman of the committee, examined Bogdanov, bringing out that although the Amtorg head considered the Whalen papers of such importance he himself had conducted only a cursory investigation concerning them. Bogdanov said he considered the burden of proof was Whalen's.

JUST INTUITION

He called the documents forgeries, he said, after conferring with other Amtorg officials, who expressed doubt as to their authenticity. One of the officials was a man to whom one of the letters was supposed to have been addressed. This man said he never received such a letter.

During the day's examination Chairman Fish and Representatives Nelson of Maine and Bachman of West Virginia all took a hand in questioning Bogdanov. Asked about his entry into the country last January, he said the American official who vised his passport did not ask him and, therefore, was not told Bogdanov was a Communist for many years, resigning from the party shortly before he come here.

"And when you go back to Russia," Representative Bachman asked, "you will apply for reinstatement in the party?"

REJOIN REDS

"I will if it is my wish at that time to rejoin the party," Bogdanov replied. "If I should go tomorrow I would apply for reinstatement."

Bachman laughed and said, "You will be fortunate if you stay that long."

Bogdanov testified he resigned from the party because men sent here from Russia for trade purposes were not allowed to engage in political matters.

DRY AGENTS INSTRUCTED TO USE WITS

Two Suspended Because They Searched Man's Car "Without Probable Cause"

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Amos W. W. Woodcock, prohibition director, today instructed prohibition agents to use "brains" instead of force in dry-law work.

At the same time he announced suspension of two agents for searching the automobile of E. G. Duncan, Maryland road commission engineer. The officers, Charles R. McCartney and John T. Weigel, were laid off three days without pay.

They also were charged by Duncan with firing on his car on the night of the 16th inst. Woodcock said investigation failed to show this to be true.

"I did not suspend the men for using weapons, but suspended them for searching the car of a citizen without probable cause," he added. "Our plan in enforcing the important and serious problems of prohibition is to do it properly, and I am trying to teach prohibition agents to use their brains instead of other things."

Coast Shipyard Bid Fight Won

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23. (Exclusive)—Pacific Coast shipyards have won their fight to be allowed to bid on Shipping Board contracts.

This was the word received here today by the Chamber of Commerce from its Washington representative, and is regarded by President Cutler as a victory after many months of negotiations with the Federal authorities to give west coast shipbuilders a chance to show that they can produce.

GARMENT WORKERS IN BALTIMORE STRIKE

BALTIMORE, July 23. (AP)—Demanding union recognition, a forty-hour, five-day week and creation of a minimum wage scale, workers in the women's garment industry of Baltimore went on strike today. Union officials said 2000 of 3000 persons employed in the industry left their work, paralyzing nineteen of the two dozen shops in the city. Operators, however, said there are not more than 1000 women garment workers in Baltimore. The union leaders were accused of attempting to drive the industry out of the city.

El Rey Da la Bienvenida a los Obispos

LONDRES, Julio 23.—En contestación a un discurso de los miembros de la conferencia de Lambeth, pronunciado al ser recibidos hoy por el rey Jorge y la reina María en el Palacio de Buckingham, expresó el rey su esperanza de que la Cristiandad llegase a formar un todo bien unido.

"Las más sinceras gracias por vuestro discurso y por el espíritu de devoción y afecto que lo anima", dijo el rey a sus huéspedes. "Es para mí una gran satisfacción recibir y dar la bienvenida a este gran concurso de obispos de la comunión norteamericana, en el que no sólo figuran obispos de mis dominios, sino también de los Estados Unidos de América.

"Con interés he observado que entre las delegaciones que visitaron a Lambeth estuvo allí una de la Iglesia Ortodoxa. Rememorando el principio de esta serie de conferencias de Lambeth, debe ser motivo de orgullo y gratitud el considerar cuan brillante testimonio son del crecimiento y desarrollo de la comunión anglicana. Hace cien años era poco más que la iglesia de un solo reino. La conferencia de hoy constituye un concurso mundial de iglesias unidas, aunque autónomas, que ha alcanzado las proporciones de un concilio general."

Aviador Lesionado en un Vuelo de Portland Hacia el Este

BUTTE (Montana), Julio 23.—Cortaduras en la región de las cejas, y acaso una fractura craneana, son los recuerdos que le deja al mayor Gilbert H. Eckerson la intempestiva interrupción de su vuelo de Portland (Oregon) a Nueva York.

Eckerson, que fue a estrellarse anoche contra un banco, a treinta y tres millas al sudeste de ésta, fue traído aquí a un hospital. Su avión quedó inutilizado.

Dice el aviador que no se explica cómo ocurrió el accidente. Calcula que aconteció como a las 11 de la noche, y cree que ha de haber dado contra algún obstáculo al tomar tierra.

El Capitán Dollar Planea un Viaje a Oriente

SAN FRANCISCO, Julio 23.—El capitán Robert Dollar, fundador de la línea de vapores que lleva su nombre, se hace de nuevo a la mar. Hoy, en un almuerzo, reveló sus planes de marcharse a Oriente el mes próximo a bordo de uno de sus propios barcos. "Y no creáis que lo hago en busca de salud", advirtió el significado naviero, que ya lleva encima sus 86 años.

Cincuenta y un Vástagos Presencian el Matrimonio de una Pareja

BALTIMORE, Julio 23.—Con sus diez hijos y cuarenta y un nietos en los bancos de la iglesia, Charles Zeller y la que fue Margaret Langhirt renovaron hoy los votos nupciales que hicieron hace cincuenta años ante el mismo altar de la Iglesia Católica de San Jaime.

La Vista del Pel y la Sangre Alarmó a los Policías

SAN FRANCISCO, Julio 23.—Seis guardias urbanos despertaron a Vincent Kennedy, secretario del gobernador Young, que estaba dormido hoy en un cuarto de hotel de esta ciudad, y le lanzaron el cargo de haber venido en un automóvil que traía el parachoques y un guardabarro embarrados de pelo y sangre humanos.

Kennedy desmintió ser dueño de dicho vehículo, que después se averiguó pertenecía a un guarda de carreteras del Estado. El guarda manifestó que, viniendo ayer de Sacramento a ésta, había atropellado a un conejo. Kennedy pudo reanudar su sueño.

Negros que Confiesan una Serie de Atracos

Despertados de su sueño por los detectives, los negros Willie Norman, Jr., de 20 años de edad, con domicilio en la calle Treinta y Siete Oeste, 1655, Y Hart Pitman, de 19, habitante en el 118 de la avenida Westlake Norte, confesaron ayer que habían cometido once atracos en el curso de la noche, además de haber perpetrado otra media docena el sábado último. Tal reza el parte que rindió la policía.

Dióse con los delincuentes merced a un auto abandonado que encontraron los tenientes detectives Anderson y Bergeron, quienes, con otros cuatro guardias, habían sido comisionados por el capitán McCaleb para hacer averiguaciones sobre distintos robos. Dicen los detectives que, bajo la almohada de Norman, encontraron una pistola y una cantidad de dinero, habida, según confesión del negro, en los atracos.

EASTERN REGION IN NEED OF RAIN

Cotton Suffering, Bulletin on Crops Reports

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Lower temperatures have not lifted the shadow of drought from the region east of the Rockies.

The Agriculture Department reported today in its weekly weather and crop bulletin that except for a few localities a general rain is needed badly in all sections east of the Rocky Mountains.

Cotton deterioration from shedding in the northern two-thirds of Texas was reported and the plants on the Oklahoma uplands are said to be poor because of dry weather. Damage also has been caused in the Central States of the cotton belt.

PACKING DECREE CHANGE URGED

Committee Advises Farm Board to Allow Retail Sales

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Modification of the packers consent decree to permit packers to sell meat at retail was recommended today by the live-stock advisory committee in a report to the Federal Farm Board.

The change in the decree, before the local courts on application of the packers for modification, was urged as "in the interest of both the producers of live stock and consumers." Further, the modification would "determine for those who produce and buy live-stock products whether the retail price can be lowered materially."

BABY TANGLE DECISION NEAR

Chicago Mothers to Accept Scientists' Ruling

Health Commissioner Hints Switch to be Made

Branding of Infants Urged Upon Hospitals

CHICAGO, July 23. (AP)—Seven scientists—modern Solomons—who have been trying by a series of tests to decide a baby mix-up at Englewood Hospital, are to make their decision tomorrow and the mothers have agreed to abide by it.

At the hospital June 30 babies were born to the Bambergers and the Watkins. When the mothers went home with their infants, they discovered the tags on the children's backs indicated each had the other's child. Scientists were called in.

The baby tangle may result in the branding of future infants, it was revealed today.

MACHINE INSTALLED

Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, Chicago Health Commissioner, announced in his office he has installed a machine for branding infants. He will call hospital heads to inspect the machine and urge its adoption in a further precautionary measure.

"The machine is an ultra-violet ray affair which will brand the baby's entire name shortly after birth," said Dr. Kegel. "The light, shining through a stencil, will produce the name so it will last for two months."

Following a conference with Dr. A. E. Paul, superintendent of Englewood Hospital, Dr. Kegel advanced the theory the babies may have been switched after they were bathed. The infants had tags on their backs and on the dresses which they wore.

BATHED AT SAME TIME

They were bathed at the same time and Dr. Kegel believed it possible the nurse put the wrong dresses on them and gave them to the two mothers, who were in the same ward, according to the clothing tags and not according to the tags pasted on the infants' backs.

"I have already suggested to the mothers the possibility they may have to trade infants," said Dr. Kegel. "I did this because it is essential to the welfare of the babies their mothers be spared too great a shock."

Dr. Kegel said the most impressive material gathered by the scientists is that obtained by Dr. Gerhardt Von Bonin of the University of Illinois, whose measurements indicate the baby in the hands of the Watkins has the narrower, longer head, corresponding to the shape of the heads of Mr. and Mrs. Bamberger.

JESSE JAMES III HELD IMPOSTOR

Santa Monica Son of Noted Outlaw Wires Chicago Suspect Bogus

CHICAGO, July 23. (Exclusive)—A telegram from Jesse James, Jr., of Santa Monica, Cal., received by the police today, declares that a man identifying himself as Jesse James III, is an impostor.

The man was arrested last week when he applied for a blank check book in the First National Bank. He was arraigned in court and released on his cash bond og $50, when he said he was procuring the check book for somcone else.

Detective Chief John Norton will question James when he appears in court again.

Huge Narcotic Seizure Made

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—Three cases of morphine valued at $73,500 were seized by agents of the Treasury Department Friday on the steamship Innoko of the American Diamond Line, plying from Antwerp to New York. Announcement of the seizure today said no arrests were made.

NEW SOUTH WALES HAS CHARITY STRIKE

SYDNEY, July 23. (Exclusive)—A charity strike is the latest labor surprise. The New South Wales government recently taxed workers 6 cents for every $5 received in order to raise 15,000,000 to provide work for the unemployed.

The government arranged to distribute the work as far as possible and introduced a forty-hour week at $16.40, based on the basic wage of $19.80 for forty-eight hours. Communists convinced the men that they were entitled to at least the basic wage, and 1300 walked out. The Minister of Labor thereupon suspended the relief works and withheld food relief from the strikers.

SIGN-UP DRIVE PUSHED TO WIN

Campaign Renewed With Vigor by Fresno Workers

More Than 10,000 Attend Mass Meeting There

Decision Made to Go After 10,000-Acre Balance

FRESNO, July 23. (Exclusive)—In anticipation of a definite decision by the Federal Farm Board early next week on the fate of the grape stabilization program, the organization committee and volunteer workers today resumed with renewed vigor the drive to obtain grower contracts for acreage to insure the success of the project. Resumption of the campaigning was decided upon at a mass meeting of more than 10,000 persons here last night, when it was announced that approximately 10,000 acres of vineyards, or 2 per cent of the total acreage requirement, was needed.

Leaders of the movement expressed confidence today that the additional acreage can be signed up prior to midnight Friday, when it was said the campaign must close in order to give the auditing committee time to complete compilation of the figures prior to the conference in San Francisco Monday between C. C. Teague of the Farm Board and the directors of California Grape Control Board, the principal agency in the farm-relief program.

Considerable time will be required by the auditors to complete their work of changing the acreage figures represented by the grower contracts to tonnage totals, as required by the Farm Board, which has set control of 85 per cent of the aggregate State tonnage as the lowest figure under which the program can be successfully administered.

With but the small margin of 2 per cent to go, and three days in which to obtain the contracts, it is the belief that success is assured in the campaign, although the outcome of the three-months drive will not be known until Teague has analyzed the auditing committee's figures and satisfied himself that the tonnage requirement has been met.

Lutheran Synods to Merge Soon

COLUMBUS (O.) July 23. (AP)—Merger of synods embracing 1900 Lutheran congregations with 1400 pastors and 500,000 baptized church members will be effected in August, it was announced at Lutheran headquarters here today.

The merged churches will be known as the American Lutheran Church.

Comprising the merged bodies will be the present Buffalo synod, the joint synod of Ohio and the Iowa synod. The membership of the body rests mainly in thirty-one States and Canada.

Bones Hint at Family's Fate

NEW MARTINSVILLE (W. Va.) July 23. (AP)—Ashes of supposedly human bones were found today in the ruins of a burned house at Mobley, near here. The house was owned by Lot Loudenflager, 34 years of age. He and his wife Nora, 45, and the latter's daughter, Annabelle Hupp, 14, are missing.

LEXINGTON (Neb.) July 23. (AP) Gerald May, 20 years of age, and Fred Taylor, 21, both of Lexington, were killed tonight when the airplane they had borrowed from Glen Morton of Grand Island burst into flames and fell in a field, twenty miles from here.

PRISONER RETURNED BY WOMAN OFFICER

EUREKA, July 23. (AP)—Mrs. Nettie S. Drew, Humboldt county jail matron, arrived here today from Los Angeles with Harlan Cox, who faces charges of failure to provide for his family.

She denied vigorously reports she carried a gun or handcuffs, but said she gave "her man" full freedom of the train.

LINDBERGH MAY QUIT NEW YORK

Colonel Embarrassed by Constant Acclaim

Can't Go Anywhere Without Being Mobbed

Friends Say He Might Move to Oklahoma

NEW YORK, July 23. (NANA)—If Col. Lindbergh can't attain some degree of comparative privacy for himself, his wife and that much-written-about son of theirs he may decide to establish a home remote from New York.

Speaking with complete good humor, but with a puzzled frown at the problem presented, friends say, the colonel pointed out that he might have to do something of the sort if his life were to be bearable.

Should the Lindbergs give up their home at Englewood, N. J., which is near New York City, there is a possibility, according to friends, that they will move to Tulsa, Okla. Col. Lindbergh likes that part of the country. Furthermore, he feels that the people in a community of that size would become used to his presence and eventually would take him for granted.

CROWDS FOLLOW

In New York, with its millions of residents and its transient thousands, Col. Lindbergh is a constant source of interest. Every time the public gets a glimpse of him he is recognized instantly, surrounded and embarrassed and harassed with acclaim for a feat now more than three years old.

Friends say the colonel has told them he could not travel by train, even if he wished, because he would be singled out at once and would get no peace thereafter.

This may be one reason, aside from his passion for the air, that Col. Lindbergh never travels by train. When he has to go any distance he goes by plane, with himself piloting.

SEE NO REFUGE

He did seek another means of escape and bought himself a boat, a trim cruiser of coastwise range. But he didn't find the privacy there he wanted. Every time he tied up he was recognized.

The subway, of course, is completely out of the question. In New York, unless he is driving his own car, Col. Lindbergh uses taxis. And even these are far from satisfactory. As soon as the driver finds who his passenger is he begins to boast about it.

"Hey," he'll call to the traffic policeman when a red light is holding him for a moment. "Who d'you think I've got aboard? Col. Lindbergh!" And in a second a knot of people will collect.

Col. Lindbergh's latest experience with unwelcome attention was at the time his son was born. Photographers for some of the more persistent picture services set up a camp outside the Dwight Morrow gates in Englewood. Even servants leaving the place were stopped. Photographers would block their path with a car, half them and bombard them with questions and offer bribes.

And that was why, when the colonel was ready to distribute to the press the first photographs of the baby, pictures he had taken himself, certain picture agencies found themselves excluded.

OFFICE SWARMS

Col. Lindbergh set a day and an hour when the newspapers which were to receive the pictures were to have their representatives at the office of an associate of his in New York. When the time came the office was swarming, for each of the services which had not been invited had sent several men. Col. Lindbergh met that problem instantly with the aid of the police. The office was cleared quickly. It so happened, however, that the agencies which were excluded got their pictures anyway, through one subterfuge or other.

If the colonel dares set foot inside a hotel he is besieged at once. Not by hotel employees, even the hero-worshipping bellhops, for they have had strict orders from the management, but by the guests.

It is the same at the airports around New York. If word gets about that the colonel's plane is coming in an enthusiastic, impromptu reception party organizes itself and there is a mad rush for the Lindbergh ship as soon as he sets it down.

It was bad enough when Col. Lindbergh had only himself to consider. But now, he points out, there are Mrs. Lindbergh and that newcomer at Englewood.

CHORINES NOW SALESGIRLS

Theater Slump Hits Show Folk Hard in Chicago; Vaudeville, However, in Increasing Demand

CHICAGO, July 23. (AP)—Chorus girls en route to Broadway in their dreams are detouring behind cigar stands and hosiery counters in Chicago these days, for the theater here is suffering its worst summer in the city's history. But not only is the rank and file of the profession affected. A matinee hero is running an elevator in a loop skyscraper. A popular juvenile lead has found employment in a lumber yard. Leading ladies are saying "Order, please?" and a villain is selling neckties in a shop on Michigan Boulevard.

In fact, despite reports, vaudeville is in increasing demand, stage folk are taking any jobs they can get—and are glad to get them—it was learned from the Actors' Equity Association and various theatrical employment agencies.

The talking films, too many applicants to a job, a change in public taste, and the stock market "hangover" are blamed for the situation by those in the theatrical know. Yet their theme song is "better times are coming."

MANY STILL HOPEFUL

About 2000 actors, actresses and performers look to Chicago for their ham-and-eggs in the summer. Nearly 800 of these still are making the rounds hopefully.

The main sources of pay checks in the profession during the summer in Chicago are the stock shows cast here and sent on the road.

But—not one stock show has been sent out of Chicago this summer. Generally there are from twenty-five of them up.

It also is an off-season for traveling tent shows, as only a few were made up here, and several of these are reported folding up or losing money.

Chances of substitute work in local current attractions are slim, because for the first time in nearly a century there is only one legitimate attraction playing here. Last year in the middle of July there were five.

VAUDEVILLE BOOMING

Yet the booking office of a vaudeville corporation reported that there is no lack of work for standard vaudeville acts, and it was learned the organization now is signing up acts for eighty-seven weeks' work instead of forty-five. But only twenty of the corporation's chain of 250 theaters are booked out of Chicago

Last year popular motion pictures stayed in one house from five to six weeks in the summer, but the best any has done this season has been four weeks, and the general run is two.

However, theatrical people here are looking for a marked improvement in the situation next month, as several outstanding musical and dramatic productions are booked for August. One of the large film chains has plans ready for immediate construction of two large motion-picture houses here.

PACKARD HOLDERS GAIN

DETROIT, July 23.—Packard Motor Car Company now has around 70,000 stockholders. On the last dividend record date of May 15, last, stockholders totaled 62,917 as against 9798 on May 12, 1929, an increase of 53,119, or 542 per cent.

PLEA MADE TO GANDHI FOR PEACE

India Liberal Chieftains Confer With Nationalist Leader at Prison

POONA (India) July 23. (AP)—For more than four hours today Mahatma Gandhi, Indian Nationalist leader, talked with Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and M. Jayakar, Liberal leaders who sought an interview with him for the purpose of attempting settlement of the civil disobedience campaign.

The conference was held at Yeroda prison, where Gandhi has been interned for several months as an outgrowth of the movement for independence in India.

The secret of the interview of the two peacemakers was well kept. Neither would reveal what took place and M. Jayakar appealed to the press not to say anything which might disturb the balance of the present delicate situation, adding that a word out of place would do great harm.

Later the two Liberals talked with Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, noted Indian woman leader, who succeeded Gandhi as head of the civil disobedience campaign until her own arrest.

Two Men Shot as Coast Guard Captures Yacht

WOODS HOLE (Mass.) July 23. (AP)—Coast Guard patrol boat No. 2387 fired on the yacht Marge off Burne early today, wounding two of the six men aboard her. Frederick Stone and Daniel Conway, both of New Bedford, received machine-gun bullet wounds in the leg.

The Marge, owned by Howard Jackman of Salem, was held here pending orders from Boston on a charge of rum - running and the men were released.

Stone declared the patrol boat had flashed its searchlight on the yachts and opened fire with the machine gun without further warning.

Commander E. A. Nichols of Base Eighteen here expressed regret the two men were wounded, but asserted the Marge was well known as a rum-runner to the Coast Guard and every effort had been made to halt the craft before firing on her.

RAIL MERGER OPPOSED BY TWO MORE STATES

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Two additional northwestern States, Montana and Washington, today joined the opposition before the Interstate Commerce Commission to the merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads. The Montana and Washington State petitions adopted the language of the Minnesota intervention and asked the commission to give them opportunity to extend the protest in hearing and argument.

MISSIONARIES BELIEVED SAFE

Chinese Rebels Who Held Them Suffer Defeat

NANKING, July 23. (AP)—A telegram from Nationalist field headquarters at Kweiteh, Honan, today said government forces had captured Pochow, Anhwei Province, but that the northern defenders of the city had escaped westward toward Luyi, Honan.

If the report is true, it probably solves the problem of the four American missionaries who have been trapped there.

The missionaries are Miss Olive Riddell, Dr. Mary King and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Strother.

Pochow had been in northern hands for two months since the present civil war started.

Budget Bureau Begins Work on 1932 Outlays

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Preparation of the government's 1932 budget was started today by the budget bureau which began hearing department heads on the money they will need during that fiscal year.

Only a week ago President Hoover urged all Cabinet officers to make a close scrutiny of estimated expenditures for the present fiscal year and reduce them wherever possible. He pointed to mounting expenditures together with the indicated decreases in revenue due to the business depression.

Indications are that the 1932 budget will amount to $4,000,000,000 or more. The budget for the present fiscal year is only $100,000,000 under that mark.

MEXICAN SHOT ON OWN GROUND

Liquor Runner Pursued Over Border, Says Judge

MEXICO CITY, July 23. (AP)—The District Judge at Juarez today reported to the Department of Justice that Felix Garcia, Mexican rum runner shot several days ago near Juarez by American prohibition officers, had met his fate on Mexican territory.

The judge reported officers had pursued a band of four rum runners fifty yards over the line.

The judge said the case would be given to the Department of Foreign Relations for a protest to the United States government.

St. Louis Flyers Up Three Days

ST. LOUIS, July 23. (AP)—In a cheery mood and feeling confident, Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine kept their endurance plane, Greater St. Louis, cruising leisurely over Lambert-St. Louis Field tonight, the third night of their projected thirty-day flight to regain the refueling endurance record.

At 7:11 p.m. they had been up sixty hours.

TARIFF PLEA BY MEXICO LIKELY

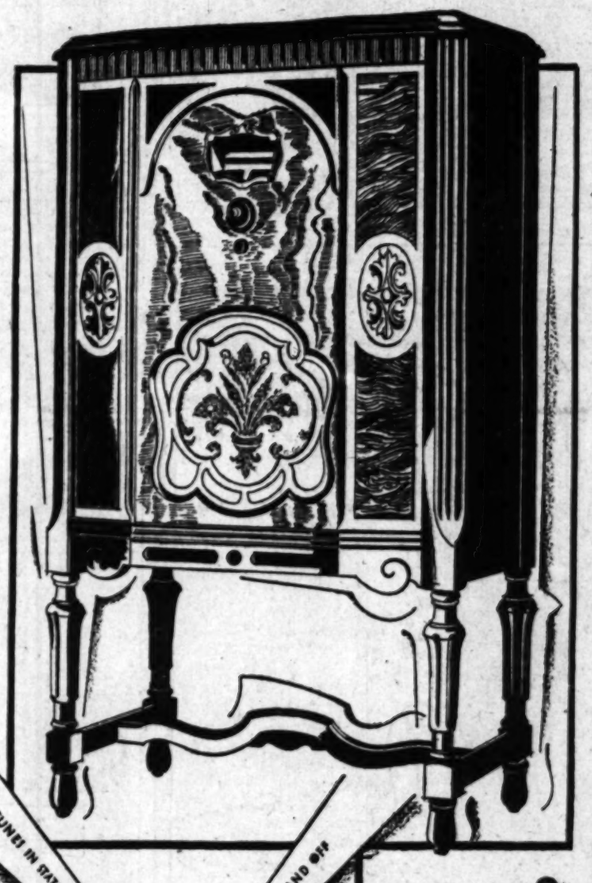
Data on New Law Sought, With Overtures in Mind

MEXICO CITY, July 23. (AP)—The Department of Industry, Commerce and Labor ... instructed its agents to obtain country-wide data on the text of the new American tariff law with a view to possible overtures to the United States government for reconsideration of the measure as applied to Mexican products.

The department places Mexico's loss in exports at $30,000,000 yearly under the new law and predicts the law's further effect will be increase in unemployment and accentuated economic depression.

the RADIO of the FUTURE

is here today!



● Designed for distant days when cities tower far into 'plane-clouded skies, the new Brunswick Radio greets the world today!

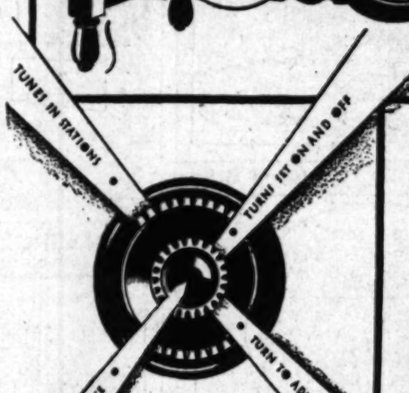
When styles in cars and clothes and skyscrapers have changed, the Brunswick you buy now will still be up-to-date... For Brunswick's Futura models for 1931 carry a pledge of permanence—guarded against change by their perfected tone and by revolutionary improvements which anticipate the future.

● Some day ALL radios will have the sensational UNI-SELECTOR—a single dial to operate the set...But only Brunswick has it today.

Some day ALL radios will have the RIGID TUNING SCALE, which perfects selectivity by bringing in stations at invariably the same point on the scale—an ALL-ARMORED CHASSIS, shielding the mechanism from dust, damage and electrical interference—and the TONE CONTROL, which puts bass or treble emphasis at your command...But only the Brunswick is completely equipped with all these features of the future now.

● Every quality others offer is at its best in the Brunswick—velvet tone, pulsing power, hair-breadth selectivity, all-weather reception, splendid cabinets ...

But to these the Brunswick adds the security of permanence, the certainty of years of prideful ownership, guaranteed by far-seeing mechanical design...THAT is what makes the 1931 Brunswick the one great extra-value buy in radio today!



THE AMAZING UNI-SELECTOR
An exclusive feature of the new Brunswick. A single control that takes the place of three or more dials in ordinary sets! Performs all functions shown on diagram.

Here are the 3 NEW BRUNSWICK MODELS!

BRUNSWICK LOWBOY MODEL 15

BRUNSWICK HIGHBOY MODEL 22
One of the most artistic cabinets ever produced, with French doors and gracefully curved corner panels. $170.

BRUNSWICK RADIO-WITH-PANATROPE MODEL S-31
Combines in one cabinet the Brunswick Radio and the world-famous Brunswick Panatrope, supreme electric record-playing instrument. Only $185.

All Electrically Operated. 4 Screen-Grid Tubes. All Prices Less Tubes.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

A mountain rill furnished von Harben pure, cold water to quench his thirst, and he carried his pistol cocked, hoping that he might bag some small game to satisfy his hunger. Nor had he gone far before a hare broke cover, and as it rolled over to the crack of the pistol, von Harben gave thanks that he had devoted much time to perfecting himself in the use of small arms.

On the spot he built a fire and grilled the hare, after which he lit his pipe and lay at ease while he smoked and planned. His was not a temperament to be depressed or discouraged by seeming reverses, and he was determined not to be hurried by excitement, but to conserve his strength at all times during the strenuous days that he felt must lie ahead of him.

That night from below there came the noise of the jungle subdued by distance — the yapping of jackals and faintly from afar the roaring of a lion. Toward morning he was awakened by the scream of a leopard not from the jungle far below, but somewhere upon the mountain slopes near by. He knew that this savage night prowler constituted a real menace.

Sane and phlegmatic as he was, von Harben forgot the menace of beasts of death from starvation in his eagerness to go on. At last he scaled the final barrier and stood upon the crest of the first ridge. Before him stretched a rolling plateau, dotted with stunted wind-swept trees, and in the distance lay the next ridge. Within him surged the eager thrill of discovery.

MOTOR CAR NET RECORDS SLUMP

Largest Unit Reports $1.17 for Second Quarter

Compares With $2.01 Earned in 1929 Period

Inclusion of Nonrecurring Profit Raises Total

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—General Motors Corporation in the second quarter this year earned $1.17 a common share, compared with $2.01 for the like period last year and 92 cents a share in the first quarter this year.

In addition, the corporation has a nonoperating, nonrecurring profit of $9,517,943 from the sale of 1,375,000 shares of General Motors common to General Motors Management Corporation, which was equivalent to 17 cents a common share, making the total net for the second quarter, equal to $1.34 a common share.

Net earnings for the second quarter were $53,286,769 compared with $89,949,323 for the second quarter last year. Including the nonoperating nonrecurring profit the total net was $60,963,941.

FIRST HALF OFF

Earnings for the six months ended June 30 were $98,355,355, equal to $2.15 a share compared with $181,860,310, or $3.38 a share for the like period last year. Including the nonoperating, nonrecurring profit, net for the first half this year was equal to $2.32 a share.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president, announced that for the six months ended June 30 General Motors dealers delivered to consumers 657,829 cars, compared with 847,751 cars in the corresponding period last year. Sales by General Motors operating divisions to dealers in the United States amounted to 679,572 cars compared with 929,384 in the like period of 1929. Total sales to dealers were 764,219 cars compared with 1,171,868.

Cash United States government and other marketable securities as of June 30 amounted to $175,693,782, compared with $127,351,530 December 31, 1929. Net working capital June 30 amounted to $290,577,234, compared with $251,287,782 December 31.

Mr. Sloan said the unfavorable comparison with the previous year was "a direct reflection of the current economic conditions prevailing not only in the United States, but in practically all other markets of the world that normally are important factors in the absorption of General Motors products."

RESULTS SATISFACTORY

He added that it was felt the relation of earnings to volume in comparison with previous year was a favorable one as, with a reduction in dollar sales of 30.1 per cent, the reduction in net operating income had been 35.2 per cent.

"It is to be regretted," Mr. Sloan said, "from the standpoint of all concerned that knowledge of the fundamentals of economics and philosophy of industry has apparently not yet developed to the point where the business cycle can be said to be under control. On the other hand, it appears to me that if we view the situation with the right attitude of mind that an opportunity is presented not only to General Motors, but to all other business and industrial organizations of establishing higher standards of effectiveness. If we are frank with ourselves we must admit that during any long period of prosperity such as we have recently passed through, inefficiencies will creep in; we become less sensitive as regards the relationship of expense and result; we become too self-satisfied; our attitude toward intensive work becomes less constructive.

"If we will recognize and capitalize these and other influences and thus establish new and still higher standards, then when business adjustment has been completed—which is only a matter of time—we can go forward with renewed strength and still greater confidence in our ability to cope with the problems of the future. We are striving earnestly to do that very thing in General Motors."

HALF-YEAR NET OF TRICO PRODUCTS OFF

NEW YORK, July 23.—Trico Products Corporation reported today for the six months ended June 30, last, net profits of $1,158,780, equal to $3.09 a share on 374,991 no par shares of unrestricted stock as against $1,240,427, or $2.70 a share on 327,500 unrestricted shares in the first half of 1929. Net profits for the June quarter were $584,106, equal to $1.56 a share on 376,991 unrestricted shares as against $642,727, or $1.90 a share in the June quarter of 1929.

NATION-WIDE BANK STOCK ON BIG LIST

Transamerica to Make Bow on New York Mart at Friday Session

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP) — The governing committee of the New York Stock Exchange today approved the application of Transameroca Corporation, billion-dollar Giannini holding company, to list its shares.

Trading in the shares will begin on Friday on this market. The shares have been traded heretofore on the New York Curb and the San Francisco and Los Angeles stock exchanges, having their principal market in San Francisco. Announcement that application had been made for New York Stock Exchange listing was made last week.

Outstanding stock totaling 24,140,500 shares has been listed, with authority to add 708,289 shares, which will be issued as a stock dividend on the 25th inst., in keeping with the declaration of the directors on March 26.

Transamerica becomes the sixth corporation to be listed on the stock exchange with outstanding capital stock in excess of 20,000,000 shares. The others are Standard of New Jersey, General Electric, United Gas Improvement, Commonwealth and Southern and General Motors, the last-named topping the list with 43,000,000 shares.

Transamerica was formed two years ago as successor to Bancitaly to unify the Giannini holdings. Its important holdings include Bank of America N. A., New York; Bank of Italy of San Francisco, the Bank of America of Los Angeles, and the Banca D'America E D'Italia of Milan, Italy. It has important investments in foreign and domestic corporations, having recently acquired an important interest in General Foods Corporation. Transamerica's stockholders approximate 185,000.

The company plans shortly to apply for listing of its shares on important European exchanges.

Blue Chip Bank Stock Off Curb

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23. (AP)—Common stock of the San Francisco Bank will be removed from trading on the San Francisco Curb Exchange, effective tomorrow. Exchange officials in making this announcement today said the number of shares available for trading was too limited to allow continuance of trading.

Only one sale was made over the board this year when one share of the stock was sold for $13,500. The issue is said to be the highest-priced stock on any exchange in the nation. In 1929 one sale was made, when one share exchanged hands at $14,000. In 1928 seven shares were sold at prices varying from $13,000 to $15,000. There are 1000 shares outstanding.

RIVALRY FORCES PIPE LINES

Mid-Continent Refiners Spending Large Sums to Lay Gasoline Down Cheaply at Markets

BY EARLE E. CROWE

While California refiners have their share of competitive troubles, it is not likely that rivalry for markets will ever impel the building of gasoline pipe lines. This is the phase of competition now confronting Mid-Continent refiners, and it is costing large sums of money.

To meet the competition of refiners who manufacture gasoline at plants located nearer the great consuming markets, the larger Mid-Continent producers and refiners are joining in the gasoline pipe line ventures. The object is to lay the gasoline down in the central market at a cost more nearly approaching the figures of the better located refineries.

LOWER THAN RAILS

Transportation costs by long-distance pipe line are estimated to run lower than the freight rates charged by railroads for gasoline tank car shipment. Railroads have declined to meet the pipe line rates.

Latest of the major gasoline ventures is the Great Lakes Pipe Line Company, formed by the Continental Oil Company and the Barnsdall Corporation to construct a 1400-mile pipe line from Oklahoma to Chicago. The line will cost approximately $12,000,000 and will have a capacity of 30,000 barrels daily.

This will be the third major pipe line project for gasoline. The Phillips Petroleum Company is building a trunk line for the movement of gasoline from Borger, Tex., to St. Louis, a distance of 800 miles, and in the East the Sun Oil Company is constructing a line from Marcus Hook, Ja., to Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Toledo. For some time the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has been sending gasoline through a line from Bayonne, N. J. to Pittsburgh.

PROCESS REVERSED

Through the use of these long-distance underground systems, refiners are reversing the process more commonly in effect in the industry. Crude oil is usually the commodity transported by pipe line from the field to the refinery. Unexpected increases in crude-oil production in the Mid-Continent area have forced the construction of refineries at the source, but the gasoline manufactured from this crude has accumulated in such quantities that refiners have been compelled to market in the distant centers of population. The utilization of tank cars has considerably increased the cost of this gasoline laid down at the market.

In California the refiners are more fortunately situated. Virtually all refineries are located at or near tidewater, and are readily fed by extensive crude oil pipe systems extending from the producing areas in the San Joaquin Valley and the Los Angeles basin. Surplus gasoline is distributed by tankers along the Pacific Coast, around to the Atlantic Coast or to foreign ports.

One difficulty of the gasoline pipe line was recently mentioned by W. B. Storey, president of the Atchison, who pointed out that the use of pipe lines for a number of large refineries will not permit the sale of a distinctive gasoline at the marketing end.

Utility Bonds Go on Market

NEW YORK, July 23.—Public offering of $6,000,000 Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company first mortgage 5 per cent bonds, due March 1, 1950, at 99 1-2 and accrued interest, was made today by H. M. Byllesby & Co., Harris, Forbes & Co., W. C. Langley & Co., A. C. Allyn & Co., Inc., and J. Henry Schroder Banking Corporation.

LONDON, July 23.—Tenders will be received Thursday for £2,000,000 Port of London six months' bills, which likely will be allotted a share under 3 per cent. The Indian government is issuing an unlimited rupee loan consisting of 6 per cent bonds of 1933-1936 at 100. Lists will be open from the 28th inst. to August 6.

UTILITY EARNINGS UP

NEW YORK, July 23.—United Light and Power Company reported today for the twelve months ended June 30, last, earnings of $2.40 a share on 3,311,583 average combined Class A and Class B common stock outstanding during the period as against $1.78 a share on 3,176,217 average combined shares in the preceding twelve months.

OPEN MARKET MONEY SAGS

Monthly Survey of Federal Reserve Bank Says Rate Lowest in Past Two Years

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Open market money rates have declined to the lowest point in more than five years and the rates charged customers to the lowest level in two years.

The Federal Reserve Board said today in its monthly review of financial and business conditions the drop was due chiefly to the continued policy of ease on the part of Federal Reserve banks, represented in June by the purchase of $50,000,000 of government securities in the open market, reduction of Reserve bank buying rates for bankers' acceptances and further reduction of discount rates at Cleveland, New York and Chicago.

"The discount rate at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, as reduced on June 20 from 3 to 2 1-2 per cent, now is the lowest that ever has been established at any Federal Reserve Bank," the board said. "Reserve bank credit outstanding decreased in June by about $22,000,000 and at $977,000,000 for the week ending June 28 was $344,000,000 lower than a year ago, with discounts for member banks at $257,000,000, nearly $750,000,000 lower than a year ago. Member bank credit outstanding, which has been increasing since February, increased further in June to a level higher than at any other time except at the end of 1929 and during the October-November break in the security market.

"From the middle of May to June 25 the increase in the loans and investments of reporting member banks in leading cities amounted to about $525,000,000 including for the last half June an increase in all other loans and for the period as a whole a further substantial growth in loans on securities and in investments."

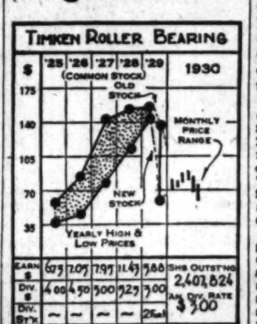
The board said easier conditions in the open market, evidenced in particular by low rates for call loans, acceptances, and commercial paper, at a time when the effective demand from customers for over the counter loans has been lessened by business depression, have influenced member banks to increase their holdings of investments.

The increase for member banks in leading cities has been almost continuous since the middle of March, when the money market was for days exceptionally easy and amounted in the period from March 12 to June 25 to $550,000,000. The increase since last October, when the investment porfolio of those banks was at the lowest level since early in 1927, has approximated $690,000,000 bringing the total to the highest level in more than a year.

The board said available information for member banks outside leading cities indicated the position of those banks in June was easier than at the same season of any other recent year except 1927.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK

TIMKEN ROLLER BEARING



Although the bulk of Timken's present business is with the automobile industry, the management successfully is pioneering the use of its tapered roller bearings in the industrial, agricultural and paper machinery field. While the application of bearings to railway passenger, freight and locomotive equipment is still in the early stages of experiment, the potential business from this source, should tests now under way prove to be as successful as is expected, will furnish very considerable revenues for the company in later years. The Pennsylvania Railroad is now operating, under rigid test conditions, a freight train equipped throughout with Timken bearings. In addition to the large bearing business, Timken ranks as the world's largest producer of electric steel and alloy seamless welding.

Despite the big slump in automobile production in the last quarter of 1929, the company reported a slight increase in net income for the year amounting to about 2 per cent. Although the $1.29 earned per share in the first quarter of the current year compares unfavorably with $1.77 reported in the 1929 period, it is still far in excess of the quarterly dividend requirement of 75 cents.

Gold Movement From America Gains Impetus

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—The movement of gold to foreign countries, begun last week when exchange rates became favorable, gathered momentum today with announcements of shipments totaling $15,000,000 of the metal to France and Canada.

Consignments to France totaled $14,000,000, of which Lazard Freres, international banking house, arranged to ship $8,000,000 on the liner Europa. The remaining $6,000,000 went forward on the same vessel from the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. The International Acceptance Bank shipped $1,000,000 in gold to Canada.

Today's shipments brought the total of the recent movement of gold to foreign countries to $25,000,000. It began a week ago and constituted the first exportation of gold of any consequence since January.

Utility Income Shows Decline in Past Year

Gross earnings of Los Angeles Gas & Electric Corporation for the twelve months ended June 30, last, yesterday were reported at $23,535,025.50 as against $23,939,788.39 for a like period a year ago, a decrease of $404,762.89, or 1.69 per cent.

Operating expenses and taxes were $12,945,931.77 as compared with $12,487,191.78 in the 1929 period, an increase of $458,739.99, leaving net earnings of $10,589,093.73 as against $11,452,596.61, a decrease of $863,502.88.

Depreciation and amortization reserves were increased $284,372.13 to $3,269,685.07 and interest charged to operation was $2,481,815.80 as against $2,471,840.36, leaving balance for dividends and surplus of $4,837,592.86 as against $5,995,443.31 in preceding year, a decrease of $1,157,850.45, or 19 per cent.

Broker House Draws Penalty

Suspension of Revel Miller & Company from the Los Angeles Stock Exchange for a period of sixty days and the levy of a fine of $1000 was announced yesterday by the exchange. The penalty was imposed by a special committee appointed by John Earle Jardine, Exchange president, for violation of Article 21 of the constitution and by-laws.

The offense was described in the announcement as a technical violation of the commission rate schedule between members, and the penalty is the minimum prescribed by the constitution.

EDISON UTILITY TELLS PROFITS

Operating Report for First Half-Year Issued

Gross at $19,394,435 Shows Gain of 2 Per Cent

Decrease in Net Recorded at $270,350.66

Southern California Edison Company, Ltd., for the six months ended June 30, last, showed gross earnings of $19,394,435.87, as compared with $18,925,184.22 for the corresponding period last year, an increase of $362,234.69, or 2 per cent, according to a statement issued yesterday by John B. Miller, chairman.

Net earnings after deducting operating expenses and taxes, were $12,201,715.66, as against $12,238,277.68 last year, while the amount remaining for dividends and depreciation after fixed charges was $8,714,870.16 in 1930, as against $8,985,179.82 for the first half of 1929, a decrease of $270,309.66, or 3 per cent.

For the month of June alone the gross earnings were $3,497,754.52, as compared with $3,502,199.67 in the same month of 1929. Net earnings, after deducting operating expenses and taxes, were $2,347,227.25, as against $2,447,350.83 in the previous year. The balance remaining for dividends and depreciation, after deducting fixed charges, amounted to $1,751,172.92, as against $1,912,998.62 in June, 1929.

The comparison of 1930 earnings with 1929 is affected by rate reductions made during the past year which were estimated to reduce gross earnings $1,400,000 per year, and also late rains which reduced kilowatt-hour sales for agricultural purposes in June, 1930, 10 per cent under June, 1929, according to the statement. Earnings for 1930 were further affected by the maximum use of steam generation during the first six months of the year, conserving water in storage.

Approximately 250,000 acre-feet of water is now in storage in the Big Creek system, and beginning the 1st inst., operation of water power plants has been increased and steam plant operations reduced to a minimum. Total connected load on the company's system was 3,335,234 horsepower on June 30, last, as compared with 2,074,707 horsepower on the corresponding date of 1929, an increase of 261,217 horsepower, or 13 per cent. Kilowatt-hours sold for the first six months of 1930 totaled 1,202,761,501, an increase of 3 per cent.

Cheerful Note Found in Local Trade Review

Business, while far from normal, is showing some small improvement in many lines, the weekly review of business conditions in Los Angeles by Bradstreet's states. The forward movement is attributed principally to the demand catching up with production.

Inventories are now low, the review continues, and if any buying activity of importance materializes by September 1, business should show a decided improvement. Women's wear manufacturers are now making fall showings and opening orders are described as very encouraging. Popular-priced and novelty clothing are in the greatest demand.

The petroleum industry is gradually improving, according to Bradstreet's, after an expensive price war, and producers are endeavoring to hold down production, since storage was at a peak when the price-cutting started. Retail gasoline with few exceptions is now selling at 19 1-2 cents a gallon. With respect to crops, the review states that some small damage has been done by hot weather, but ranchers report demand for produce and fruits has been very good at firm prices.

Exchange Lists Oil Debentures

Governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday approved the application of Union Oil Company of California to list $15,000,000 5 per cent debentures, Due April 1, 1945, with capital subscription warrants attached. The debentures were admitted to trading yesterday.

The governors also approved the application of the same company to list 150,000 additional shares of $25 par value common stock. This additional stock is to be reserved for the exercise of the stock purchase warrants attached to the debentures. This brings the total shares of Union Oil Company listed to 4,497,497, of which 4,304,453 are currently outstanding.

Price Pared on Somerset Crude

PITTSBURGH, July 23.—Somerset crude oil was reduced 17 cents a barrel today by purchasing companies, the new price standing at $1.30 in the Kentucky lines of the Cumberland Pipe Line and $1.14 in the lines of the Eureka Pipe Line Co.

Wayne District crude in the West Virginia line of the Cumberland Pipe Line Co. also was reduced 17 cents to $1.17 a barrel.

STEEL HOOP NET DROPS

NEW YORK, July 23.—Sharon Steel Hoop Company reported today for the six months ended June 30, last, profits of $30,129, equal to 8 cents a share on 375,000 no par shares of common stock after depreciation, interest and Federal taxes as against $944,550 or $2.46 a common share in the first half of 1929.

STEEL PRODUCTION NORMAL

Half-Year Showing Compared With 1929 Record Bad, But Up to Average for 1926-27-28

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, July 23.—The outlook for steel is anything but gloomy, with the ingot production for the first half of the year reaching the "normal" figure of 23,793,199 gross tons.

Of course, if this figure is compared with the record-breaking first half of 1929 it shows a decrease of about 18 per cent. But if it's compared with such years as 1926-27-28, it stands out as a "good" half-year.

Until the 1929 record came along the records for these other years were considered exceptionally good. But when we have a drop of 18 per cent below the 1929 figures everybody talks about the terrible conditions in the steel business.

Now prospects look better for the second half of the steel ingot line than they did in the first half, although July, probably will be the low month for the year. A total output of 47,000,000 or 48,000,000 tons of ingots for 1930 is very probable.

Who can say such production is bad? No one who knows the steel business, surely.

Outside the ingot line orders for steel pipe, tin plates and structural steel are all satisfactory.

On paper steel production is nothing to shout over. But its prospective record for 1930 is nothing to weep over, either. Steel—a basic industry—is a long way from being down and out.

Wages in the United States rose slightly in 1929 over 1928, says the National Industrial Conference Board.

The study discloses that hourly wages in the manufacturing industry in 1929 averaged 58 cents, as compared with 57 cents in the preceding year. On railroads the average hourly wages were 64 cents in 1929 and 62 1-3 cents in 1928; in gas plants, 57 cents in 1929, half a cent lower than in 1928; in the electric-generating plants, 63 cents in 1929, nearly a cent lower than in 1928.

Farm wages declined 1 cent from $2.40 a day in 1928 to $2.39 in 1929. In the building trades the wages rose from $1.15 an hour in 1928 to $1.18½ an hour in 1929.

The substantial rise in wages during the last fifteen years has not been at all uniform. Hourly earnings on railroads, from July, 1914, to July, 1929, increased 132 per cent; in manufacturing, 127 per cent; in electric-generating plants, 127 per cent, and in gas plants, 113 per cent.

Wage rates, however, per hour in the building trades rose 136 per cent, and in agriculture 66 per cent.

Weekly earnings for manufacturing workers increased 125 per cent, as compared with 123 per cent for workers in electric-generating plants, 114 per cent for those in gas plants and 110 per cent for those on railroads.

No facts are given on the wage cuts for 1930, but that the record fill show a considerable drop is already forecast.

New Policy for Goodrich Unit

AKRON, July 23.—B. F. Goodrich Company is transferring all boot and shoe manufacturing facilities at the Akron plant to the Hood Rubber Company at Watertown, Mass., a wholly owned subsidiary. All mechanical goods operations now conducted at Hood will be transferred to Akron.

Under the present arrangement the unit cost of production on boots and shoes has been too high to meet competition. This cost is expected to be lowered with concentration of these operations in east because of the proximity of fabric mills and lower wage scales in comparison with Akron. At same time mechanical goods can be manufactured more economically in Akron.

VICK FINANCIAL IN INITIAL DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, July 23.—Vick Financial Corporation declared today an initial quarterly dividend of 10 cents a share on the common stock, placing the stock on a 40 cents annual basis, payable August 15 to stockholders of record August 5.

STRONG 7% BONDS of a Nationally-Known Corporation

THE Pickwick Corporation owns one-third of the capital stock of the Pickwick-Greyhound System which controls all the larger Coast lines, and 45% of the capital stock of the Pickwick Greyhound Lines, Inc., operating a transcontinental system. The remaining interests in these companies are held by Southern Pacific Co., Pennsylvania Railroad, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, Greyhound Corporation (Chicago) and similar institutions.

From the stand point of the conservative investor seeking seasoned security and a liberal 7% income, we recommend the 7% Bonds, due 1942, of Pickwick Corporation, which occupies a dominant position in the motor transportation industry in the west.

These bonds are the direct obligation of the corporation and are specifically secured by first leasehold mortgages on the company's magnificent San Francisco and San Diego terminal properties and by the pledge of substantial blocks of the common and preferred stocks of Pacific Greyhound Corporation and Pickwick Greyhound Lines, Inc. The aggregate value of the pledged security is in excess of 2½ times the amount of these bonds.

MISSOURI-KANSAS PIPE LINE CO.

ON SCHEDULE

Construction work is proceeding on schedule on the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Company 1250-mile natural gas pipe line—the largest in America. Its completion in December will link the company's field in Texas to an already established market in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana.

The company's subsidiary construction program in Kentucky and Indiana is also progressing rapidly. The gas line crossing the Ohio River at Cannelton, Indiana, has been completed and delivery of gas in a dozen new Kentucky and Indiana communities will begin in the near future.

These rapid strides emphasize the desirability of the company's common stock (listed on the New York Curb) at current levels. Send name and address below for full information.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—Bonds displayed a firmer tone in a typical midsummer session today. Some response to the easing of time money rates this week was shown by the best grade issues and United States governments continued their upward climb at a moderate pace. Increased activity developed in stock privilege bonds which finished the day at higher levels.

The sales volume continued about on a par with previous dull days of the week. Some dealers reduced the loaning rate on six months time loans to 3 per cent, a ¼ of 1 per cent reduction.

Many stock privilege issues were accumulated extensively with nearly all classes—railroad, utility and miscellaneous—marked upward. Atchison 4½s, International Telephone 4½s and American Telephone 4½s led the advance with gains of about 1 point. Pathe 7s reacted point.

Greater interest was displayed in United States governments, particularly Liberty 3½s, and long-term Treasury issues. Liberty 3½s, Treasury 4s, and Treasury 3¾s gained about 1-3 of a point and Treasury 4½s advanced 11-32nds.

Railroads suffered from inactivity but a firm trend was maintained. Canadian Pacific 4s and Rock Island general 4s reached new highs for the year. Southern Pacific 4½s (Oregon division) was unusually active and firm.

Marked strength of New York and several other traction issues lent a better tone to utility issues. American Telephone 5s of 1946 equaled their 1930 high.

Foreign governments and several municipal issues were moderately accumulated. French 7s established another new high with a ¾-point gain.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Transamerica Features Session With Stronger Undertone for Constructive Movement

With Transamerica Corporation trading the highlight of the session, the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday developed a stronger undertone and, while many issues remained inactive, the active stocks for the most part registered slightly higher prices. Thus far the list has not reacted to the renewal of the upward trend manifested in the New York market, but with recent liquidation of stocks apparently completed, the market here is in a position to stage its delayed advance, according to traders on the constructive side.

The oil shares give indications of getting into a better position shortly. The offerings recently have been limited and quickly absorbed, supporting the contention of the oil share followers that the improvement in the industry resulting from the curtailment programs and the cessation of the gasoline price war has not yet been fully discounted marketwise.

Transamerica sales yesterday totaled 11,100, opening at 25, up 5-8 from the previous close, and advancing to 26 1-8 with a reaction to 25 7-8 shortly before the announcement of the listing of the stock on the New York Stock Exchange. After the listing news was out, the stock eased to 25 3-4, and closed strong at 25 1-2, making a net gain of 1 1-8.

Richfield Oil gained 1-4 to 17 1-4 on a turnover of 800 shares, Standard Oil of California advanced 1-2 to 63, while Union Oil moved up 1-2 to 41 1-3 and Union Associated rose 1 point to 40 3-4. Bolsa Chica at 9 3-4 and Rio Grande at 17 1-3 were unchanged.

Claude Neon of Delaware, which apparently has been under steady accumulation, made another advance, up 1 1-8 on its close of 33. Security-First National, on sales of 150 shares, closed at 102 1-2, up 1-2, while Citizens' National was off 1 point at 101 1-2, a new low, on a sale of fifty shares, and Seaboard National eased 1-8 to 44 1-8 on ten shares. Los Angeles Investment held firm at 16 on a turnover of 2100 shares.

Pacific Mutual made a 1-point gain to 82, Southern California Edison common, on sales of 1300 shares, scored a net gain of 3-8, and Pickwick Corporation closed at 5, up 10 cents. Globe Grain and Milling common with 200 shares selling was off 1 1-2 to 23 1-2, a new low.

Sales totaled 19,985 shares, valued at $620,892; previous day, 12,905 shares, valued at $408,338.

Corn Futures Advance Given Slight Check

CHICAGO, July 23. (AP)—After an almost continuous upward movement of about 12c a bushel from low prices, the corn market today hesitated, and last prices, while still showing substantial gains, were below the best. Advices indicating a halt in crop damage from heat and drought had much to do with bringing about the setback, but the movement that also was a result of efforts which many traders made to realize profits after the sharp upturn of the last few days. Besides, the fact that the crop is making good progress toward maturity in the face of unfavorable weather conditions was a bearish influence. Predictions that the movement would be carried to a new high record for the season before any material reaction took place were not realized, however, at the last was all of 1c a bushel under the best figures of the day. Corn closed nervous, 1c to 1¼c net lower, with September 1.04¼@1.04¾ and December 1.07¼@1.07½. Oats finished unsettled, ½c to ¾c off to ¼c up, and provisions varying from declines of 7c to 12c to gains of 2c to 5c.

Predictions that 40,000,000 bushels of corn would be moved into Chicago by the end of September were freely circulated today, but the movement was not expected to be heavy enough to cause any congestion. Receipts here today were 1,000,000 bushels, against 1,000,000 bushels a year ago. Shipments were 1,000,000 bushels, against 1,000,000 bushels a year ago. OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

George F. Getty, Inc., completed its first producer yesterday in the new Venice field by bringing in its No. 1 for an estimated flow of 2000 barrels of oil a day from a depth of 4161 feet. A check on the yield during the earlier producing stage showed it to be rapidly cleaning up. Getty's first completion at Venice is on a small lease near Thirty-seventh avenue and just opposite the Redondo canal. It offsets the Pure Petroleum Company's No. 1 well and is within a short distance of the Barnsdall-Cypress company's Burks No. 1, which is nearing ahead.

The problem of disposing of the Standards Getty in common with several other operators. Following Getty's first completion, a fleet of tankers hurried to the scene and now is trucking the products to storage tanks in the Santa Fe bridge oil field.

Pulling Up

The Pacific Western Oil Company's Tideland Permit No. 92-5 at Elwood came in yesterday and early returns showed that it was flowing at the rate of 4200 barrels of 35-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 3474 feet.

According to field scouts, Pacific Western was endeavoring to complete the well in an orderly manner and that a little trouble was experienced with high gas pressure. It may eventually build up to 6,000 a day is the belief of neighboring operators.

Completion of its Tideland Permit No. 92-2 gives Pacific Western its fifth producer at Elwood. Four of these are on ocean piers and one is on shore. Progress is being made on the company's Tideland Permit No. 92-6 and No. 92-7. It is the same field the Seaward Oil Company's Tideland Permits No. 3 and 4 yesterday was swabbing with the bottom of the hole at 3654 feet. It may be the next completion here.

Production Increase

With the completion yesterday of George F. Getty's No. 1 in the Venice field, production there increased to approximately 10,000 barrels of oil a day. Arrangements have been made for handling most of the production at Venice by hooking up pipe lines. It was revealed that the Venice Oil Syndicate had been ordered to turn its production into the pipe line of the Shell Oil and Refining Company's line, and it in turn would tank into the Union Oil Company's line that would feed the Shell Oil Company's line carrying the production to a tank farm near Watts.

The first discovery of the Venice field last December by the Ohio Oil Company, twelve wells have been completed. Four of these belong to the Ohio Oil Company and one each to Union; Allied Petroleum, A. J. Ingles Trust, Mohawk Petroleum, Doud Petroleum, Star Petroleum, Venice Oil Syndicate and George F. Getty, Inc. Throughout the field thirty-five projects are being developed.

Rabbit Situation

No indication has been given that the Continental Oil Company will not start operations on its government permit on the north dome of Kettleman Hills, although Secretary of the Interior Wilbur recently granted the company permission to drill at least three wells with the understanding that they are not to be placed on production before the expiration of the operating agreement.

While Secretary Wilbur's answer to a request to permit Continental is encouraging, yet it does not allow the operator to protect its permit from present drainage by offsetting producers. The Millham Exploration Company's Elliott No. 1 discovery well has been flowing high-gravity oil nearly two years, and during that time five producers have been completed, all within a few distance of Continental's permit.

According to field reports, it appears logical that the Continental Oil Company will take advantage of the opportunity to drill the wells. The immediate drilling of them would enable the company to bring them in when the present agreement between field activities expires July 31, 1931.

Continental has a derrick up for Well No. 16, which is a direct offset to the Standard Oil Company's No. 38, Section 35, 21-17, on the north. The company has staked locations to offset the Petroleum Securities Company's Felix No. 1, a gusher, and the company's Felix No. 3 is making progress with the drill. On the adjoining section to the east the Shell Oil Company is drilling ahead in Dixon No. 1, and to the south of that project the Pacific Western Oil Company is grading location for a new well.

The Millham Exploration Company is seriously considering a new location for a well to be drilled on the south one-half of the northwest quarter of Section 1, 22-17. On the same section Standard's No. 8 is producing and should Millham decide to drill, indications are that the Standard will at once make locations for offsets.

May Offset Soon

The fact that the Continental Oil Company is dismantling two derricks on its Carpinteria leases indicates that the company may move one or both of them to a lease offsetting the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company's Hobson A-2, two miles southeast of the Seacliff field. The Hobson A-2 has been tied up in a repair job for several weeks, and is expected to resume swabbing with bottom at 7479 feet within a week in an endeavor to develop production.

Drilling Permits

Drilling permits issued last week by the State Mining Bureau increased in number in the Signal Hill and Venice oil fields, the former because of the likelihood of finding deeper production on acreage where there has been considerable shallow production, and at the latter because it is a new field discovered within the past seven months.

Of the twenty-two permits granted, seven were at Signal Hill, five at Venice, two at Huntington Beach, four in the fields of Kern county, one each in the Potrero town-lot area, Piru district, Seacliff field, and one in the Erburu field discovered last year by the General Petroleum Corporation

Following are the permits at Signal Hill: Signal Oil and Gas Company's Goodyear No. 3, Golden Gate Oil Company's No. 1, Petroleum Securities Company's Painted Hills No. 3, Kale No. 1, the McKeon Oil Company's No. 8 and No. 9, and Stevenson Brothers' No. 1.

Venice permits included the following: A. T. Jergens Trust's Meyers No. 1, W. A. Cory and Robert A. Randall's No 1, Union Oil Company's Townsite No. 1 and No. 2, Bishop Corporation's Venice No. 1, Inter-Coast Oil and Transport Company's G. P. No. 1, at Potrero, Standard Oil Company's Thomson No. 13 and Rex Oil Company's No. 16 at Huntington Beach; Richfield Oil Company's Miley-Hobson No. 4 at Seacliff, Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation's Snow 1-A in Piru district, George F. Getty's Lincoln Drilling No. 1 at Lost Hills; Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company's No. 1 and Shell Oil Company's Jewett No. 13 at Round Mountain, Allen F. Bullard's No. 1 in Tulare county; General Petroleum Corporation's Erburu No. 7 in Santa Barbara county.

Director Vacationing

Edward Higgins, managing director of the California Oil and Gas Association, left yesterday with Mrs. Higgins on a two weeks' vacation, which will take them into the famous apple district along Hood River, in Oregon, and also to the Rogue River country, where Mr. Higgins will spend some time fishing. D. S. Kilgour, assistant secretary and auditor, returned early this week from his vacation and will be in charge of the association activities during Mr. Higgins's absence.

RADIO PROJECT ON PORT SLATE

Speedy Communication Plan for Area Offered

Many Interests Reported as Sponsoring Move

Matter Referred to Harbor Affairs Group

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Proposals for a short-distance radio telephone and telegraph station at the harbor, sponsored by shipping interests and available for shipping, oil and fishing interests in communicating with near-by craft, were submitted to the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce for support yesterday. It was referred to E. R. Brucker's harbor affairs committee. Approval also will be sought of Los Angeles and Long Beach chambers, before application is made to the Federal Radio Commission for a permit.

The project, explained to the chamber by G. A. Skolfield, a director, has been under consideration by shipowners of the Coast for a year. Skolfield cited its utility in arranging for docking of ships, assembling of stevedores, handling of ship fires and such.

The range would be short, possibly 200 miles by telephone, and would not be intended to interfere with big commercial radio concerns. A nonprofit corporation would be formed, and service would be purchasable by the public.

Wilmington Transportation Company also was granted a hearing by the Federal Commission last week for renewal of its short-distance set for dispatching tugs. The new project, it is said, is not intended to conflict with such sets.

COAST YARDS TO BID ON NEW LINER GROUP

Specifications are reported in the hands of shipyards on both coasts asking bids on four $5,000,000 Panama Mail liners to ply intercoastal. Yards favored by climate for the rush job, calling for completion in twenty-two months, are declared to be Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation, and the San Francisco yards of Bethlehem and General Engineering Corporation. Four eastern yards will bid.

Harbor Commissioners yesterday ordered the Harbor Department to do its own construction on the case-oil dock, Berth 181, involving extension of a fire wall, installation of electric equipment, fire doors and safety appliances, to cost $11,400. The commission contracted with Osborn Company for $18,400 of paving in various parts of the port, and with McCormick Lumber Company for $16,311 of creosoted piling for berths 144-145-146. Bids for paving the latter were opened, but remain to be analyzed. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer were permitted to erect a $5000 movie set at Fish Harbor, and Pennoil Company was granted a pipeline right-of-way near Berth 228 to connect with storage tanks on Union Pacific land.

Bids are to be submitted by several coast yards August 4 toward possible reconditioning of the liner City of Honolulu, which burned at Honolulu May 25. Offhand estimates are the job will require $2,000,000, and it is declared there is no certainty underwriters will sanction such work.

R. C. Thackera, chairman, is seeking a meeting of eastern and western committees of the Intercoastal Conference at Colorado Springs next month, in an effort to avoid an open break of the conference. Several major lines are in process of resigning and a rate war by October is said to threaten.

With the arrival from the north of the steamer Pacific Hemlock today, Dimon Steamship Company will inaugurate its eastbound freight service out of this port. Hereafter all vessels of the line will accept freight eastbound.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23. (AP)—The Coast Guard cutter Morris sailed from here today on a search for the tail-end of a huge log raft, which was being towed to San Diego from the Columbia River.

The tail broke away five days ago, and is believed off the Mendocino coast. It is thought currents carried the logs offshore, so they will be a menace to coastal shipping.

The log raft has been beached on San Francisco Bay and its chains are being tightened.

TACOMA, July 23.—Shipping schedules here this week have been upset due to squalls and storms raging off the California coast south of Point Concepcion. Almost a score of vessels coming up the coast have been delayed in reaching here.

The Edward Luckenbach, of the Luckenbach Line, and the Pacific Pine, of the Dimon Line, were both overdue, when they reached port today. Both intercoastal carriers are loading pulp for the Atlantic Coast, taking a total of 142 tons.

The Norwegian motorship Tranger, of the Westfal-Larsen Line, will arrive here Thursday morning with a cargo of chicken feed from Buenos Aires. The vessel is more than a week late as she has been in drydock in Vancouver, B. C., following a collision there.

SEATTLE, July 23.—Two more ships will load wheat at this port for the Orient before this month is over. The Misha Maru will take on 500 tons tomorrow, and the same quantity will be loaded by the Tamahoko a few days later.

PORTLAND, July 23.—Another Benson log raft, similar to the one taken south recently by the tug Sea Lion, will be brought out of Wallace Slough Friday in preparation for the tow to San Diego.

The raft, which will carry a deckload, will be moved by the Shaver Transportation Company's tugs Shaver, Hercules and Henderson.

KETTLEMAN HILLS

ROYALTY SYNDICATE NO. 1

This valuation has been made after the most careful mathematical calculation of the possible oil and gas recovery on the 1300 acres on the North Dome Structure, operated by the Associated Oil Company of California.

Kettleman Hills Royalty Syndicate No. 1

is capitalized at Four Million Dollars, and consists of 4000 Beneficial Interests, at $1000.00 per interest.

The appraised valuation is TWELVE FOR ONE of capitalization, and this valuation has been made by Messrs. Roy G. Mead, Merwin H. Soyster and Ralph Arnold, all three of whom are nationally known Petroleum Engineers and Geologists. Their opinion has been concurred in and is being concurred in daily by other prominent Geologists, Engineers and foremost heads of the Oil Industry.

A copy of this report, with maps, charts and complete information of KETTLEMAN HILLS OIL FIELD and the appraisal of this royalty, will be sent upon request.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Bard's Eighth between Broadway and Hill—"The Big One." All night until Edmund Lowe decides on prison and Dolores Del Rio must suffer with him.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"On the Level." Opens today.

California, Main near Eighth—"A Lady to Love." A capable, though censored, transcription of "They Knew What They Wanted." Good performances by Vilma Banky and Edward G. Robinson.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"So This is London." Will Rogers goes abroad again and finds London as funny as ever.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"Hell's Angels." It took Howard Hughes four years and $4,000,000 to produce the colossus of the air; and it was worth it.

Criterion, 637 South Grand—"Romance." Garbo more glamorous than ever in a picture not equal to the play.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard—"The Border Legion. One of the best of westerns is made funny and exciting by Richard Arlen and Jack Holt.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"True to the Navy."

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"Peter the Pirate." A few grand scenes and the rest isn't worth your while.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Sweethearts and Wives." Another social triangle but deftly handled. With Billie Dove.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Wild Company." Opens today.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"The Big Pond." A comedy of sum and love. Maurice Chevalier.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"The Big House." An exciting story of prison life well told. Wallace Beery and Chester Morris.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Queen High." Opens today.

Rita, Wilshire at La Brea—"The Social Lion." A very humorous story of a prizefighter who went polo, then back again. Jack Oakie.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Dixiana." Bebe Daniels in a musical something of the South and of very uncertain caliber.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Dumbbells in Ermine." A bit of frothy entertainment provided one is not too critical. Jack Mackaill.

United Artists, Bdwy. at 9th.—"Raffles." Reviewed in today's Times.

Uptown, Wilshire at Tenth—"True to the Navy." For once Clara Bow has more than she can handle.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"Three Faces East." A thrilling entertainment furnished by the war and Erie von Stroheim with Constance Bennett.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"The Way of All Men." An effective story, though not unusual in its point. With Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

Westlake, 638 Alvarado—"True to the Navy."

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"Rebound." Ina Claire sparkles in various moods, and the dialogue has bright moments.

El Capitan, Hollywood Blvd. at Highland—"To the Ladies." The lighter side of domesticity provides amusement such as only Glenn Hunter can offer.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1733 N. Vine—"Fata Morgana." Elsie Ferguson charms anew in this dramatic tale by Ernest Vajda. Tom Douglas comes near to being a sensation as the boy.

Vine Street, Vine at Hollywood—"Oh, Judge." A musical melange somewhat enlivened by Bernard Granville.

VARIETIES

Relieves His Own Mother of Neuritis

She's Out of Bed and on Her Feet Every Day Now

So certain does Nurito banish sciatica, rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago and neuritis that the head of the syndicate which has purchased this German Specialist's prescription treats his own mother with it. Although 80 years old, she never feels a pain or ache since using it. Many who had despaired of ever getting relief have been overcome with joy after a few doses of Nurito. For not only has it stopped their suffering but it has done so without the use of narcotics or opiates.

If you're tired of using ineffective remedies, make this simple test: Go to your druggist and ask for Nurito. If the very first three doses do not stop your pain your money will be refunded without question. Don't wait a single unnecessary minute—go to Owl Drug Co. or Liggets.—[Advertisement.

INFANT KILLED BY CRIB COVER

Grand-daughter of Millikan Dies of Suffocation

Tragedy Occurs in Home of Noted Pasadena Savant

Parents of Baby Abroad at Scientific Meeting

PASADENA, July 23. (Exclusive) Little Marcia Millikan, 1-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clark Millikan, died at the home of her grandfather, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, director of the California Institute of Technology and noted physicist, this afternoon.

The baby, who had been in perfect health, was suffocated when her neck was caught as she tried to climb from her crib after awakening from a nap.

Dr. James E. Harvey, child specialist, and the local fire department's inhalator squad worked frantically for two hours, but were unable to restore signs of life.

COVER CATCHES NECK

"The crib was equipped with a screen cover," Dr. Harvey asserted, "and the child apparently stood up, pushed this cover high enough to get her head out, but was caught by the neck when her hand slipped and the cover dropped. She was dead when I arrived."

Mrs. Robert A. Millikan and Miss Cecil De Mots, registered nurse, were at the house at the time. The baby's crib was located on a sleeping porch on the second floor. The nurse related that she had looked at the baby but then half an hour before she discovered her plight and that the child was sleeping peacefully.

The nurse's scream brought Mrs. Millikan to the porch and after placing the baby on a bed and unbinding her clothing she promptly telephoned Dr. Harvey and the Pasadena Emergency Hospital.

PARENTS IN EUROPE

Dr. Millikan was conferring with Dr. John F. Buwalda, professor of geology, when his secretary notified him of the tragedy at his home.

He rushed from his office, arriving at his residence in time to give first assistance to the physicians and inhalator squad.

Dr. and Mrs. Millikan took charge of their only grandchild a few weeks ago, when her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Clark Millikan, went to Europe to attend scientific gatherings. The parents were notified by cable at Aachen, Germany, of their daughter's death, but may not return immediately in view of the length of time required.

HAS OLD THIS MONTH

Dr. Clark Millikan is assistant professor of aeronautics at the California Institute of Technology, where his famous father is chairman of the executive council. Mrs. Clark Millikan, whom he married slightly more than two years ago, is the former Mrs. Helen Stuart Bell. Marcia Millikan was born a year ago this month.

The tragic death occurred in the Millikan home, recently erected at 1500 Oak Grove avenue, San Marino. Dr. Millikan's former residence, 300 Palmetto Drive, is occupied at the present time by Herbert Hoover, Jr., son of the President, and his family.

Arrangements for the baby's funeral services will be announced by Turner & Stevens Company.

Dr. Hernandez Taken by Death

Dr. Fortunato Hernandez, 58 years of age, formerly personal physician to ex-President Porfirio Diaz of Mexico, and former Minister from Mexico to Argentina, died yesterday at his home, 4708 Second avenue.

Dr. Hernandez was a native of Durango, Mex., and was educated in the colleges of Mexico and Europe. He was the author of volumes dealing with the Mexican Indians and Mexican history and also wrote on medical topics. He was a member of the Spanish Academy and was well known in Spain as well as the Mexican republic.

Dr. Hernandez was married twice, his first wife having died some years ago. He leaves his second wife, Senora Carmen Ortega Hernandez, and his mother, who made her home with him.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

The City Council yesterday confirmed the assessments for the improvement of Two Hundred Fifty-second street between Belle Porte avenue and the west city boundary and for the improvement of Regina Court at Eighty-seventh street.

SHIP NEEDS OUTLINED BY NAVY CHIEF

Rear-Admiral Rock, Here on Inspection, Sketches Building Program

Next session of Congress being willing, the Navy will start construction on almost $1,000,000,000 of new warships to bring the fleet up to the new treaty's provisions, according to Rear-Admiral George H. Rock, chief constructor for the department, who arrived on the Lassco liner Calawaii yesterday after inspecting Pearl Harbor.

Admiral Rock is decidedly in favor of private shipyards receiving a large portion of the proposed new construction.

"By all means they should," he declared. "It is tremendously important to encourage such going concerns so they may be effective in an emergency."

A small amount, $20,000,000 to $30,000,000, would allow the Navy to get such a program started, Admiral Rock said, adding that it obviously would call for more cruisers and destroyers at the outset. Although the pact allows America to build only two more 10,000-ton cruisers, Admiral Rock declared, "We can build some very satisfactory ones of the six-inch-gun class."

He expressed the hope Congress will sanction construction of five new aircraft carriers. "Under the treaty we are allowed 69,000 tons of such carriers more than we now have. That would admit of five of the smaller, 13,000-ton class now favored," he said. Bids on one of these, it is understood, will be opened August 15, next.

Admiral Rock transferred from the Calawaii in the outer harbor to the U.S.S. Tennessee to witness a firing problem at sea. Today he will inspect facilities at San Diego and return to Washington by way of Mare Island, San Francisco.

GRAND JURY GROUP SEES DAM REGION

Committee Picked to Name Engineers for Inquiry on Dirt Job Inspects Site

Members of the grand jury committee appointed to select a group of representative engineers to survey the abandoned excavations of San Gabriel Dam, yesterday spent the entire day in inspecting the dam site to become personally acquainted with the situation before reaching a decision.

At the close of the inspection tour, Frederic I. Morris, grand jury foreman and a member of the committee, stated that the committee has under consideration the names of seven engineers from whom three will be chosen to do the work.

The inquiry was precipitated ten days ago when individuals charged that the county had been overcharged $800,000 by contractors who are asserted to have collected for removal of 273,000 yards of earth which never was removed.

Confronted with a flood of technical facts, the grand jury decided to appoint a group of engineering experts to review the situation.

RISE IN COUNTY TAX EXPECTED

Increased Budget Renders Jump Almost Certain

Expenditures for Year May Total $62,729,789

Supervisors Fix August 18 For Public Hearing

A jump in the Los Angeles county tax rate for 1930-31 was predicted yesterday when it was learned that the new tentative county budget, which will be off the press on August 1, calls for expenditures for general purposes for the fiscal year amounting to $62,729,789, an increase of $4,841,147 over the year before. The tax rate for last year was 88 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation.

The tentative budget, which was adopted by the Board of Supervisors on the 1st inst., is the highest in the history of the county.

REDEEMING FEATURE

There is one redeeming feature, however, which will have some bearing on the fixing of the new rate. This is the fact that the income of the county from nontax sources this year will be greater. These sources are fines, fees, interest and grants.

Then, too, the tentative budget figure may be pared somewhat before the final one is adopted, the same as last year. A year ago the tentative budget called for expenditures amounting to $57,788,642. When the final budget was adopted it had been shaved to $56,248,586. However, this year it seems almost inevitable that the new tax rate will be higher.

HEARING DATE SET

The board yesterday set August 18 as the opening date for public hearings on the tentative budget. The hearings will last for ten days, the period fixed by law, at which time the board will hear protests from taxpayers.

The board will meet the first week in September and fix the new tax rate.

COLISEUM'S FUND WILL BE DEBATED

Matter of Finding Cash to Continue Enlargement Before Council Today

The matter of appropriating money for the enlargement of the Coliseum to seat 100,000 people under the provisions of Unit B comes before the City Council this morning in a report from the Finance Committee refusing to allocate the necessary funds, amounting to $227,000.

The committee contends that no action can be taken due to lack of funds. The money, however, was set aside in the permanent improvement fund, a special fund, by Mayor Porter. This item in the budget was stricken out by the Council.

Work on Unit A, the reconstruction of the upper tiers of seats, is now nearing completion, and the contractor has notified the Board of Public Works that the working crews soon will be reduced from 350 to 100 men.

It is pointed out that if the money for Unit B is now appropriated there will be no lay-off of laborers, and that the completion of the Coliseum can go forward without delay.

Mayor Porter, President Austin of the Chamber of Commerce, President Von KleinSmid of the University of Southern California, and many individuals and organizations have urged the Council to proceed with the Coliseum work.

Oil-Drilling Permits Voted

The City Council yesterday voted to permit the drilling of oil wells on five lots in Venice between the Speedway and Ocean Front Walk, which is very close to the bathing beach. Councilman Williams voted against the plan, but the City Attorney was instructed to bring in the permissive ordinances.

The drilling permits already have been approved by the City Planning Commission and the City Planning Committee. The locations of the lots are between Forty-second and Forty-sixth avenues.

SYNODS WILL OPEN SESSION

Triple Conference of Presbyterians Will Get Under Way at Meeting Tonight

With the host church prepared to entertain more than one thousand delegates and their wives and hundreds of visitors, the first session of the three synods of California, Arizona and the United Presbyterian Church of this State will be conducted this evening at Immanuel Presbyterian Church, the opening sermon to be preached by Dr. Frank M. Silsley, moderator of the synod of California. Election of a moderator and temporary clerks will feature the session. Devotional and business conferences of the three organizations will be conducted every morning, afternoon and evening until and including the 30th inst.

Presbyterian women do not have membership in the synods but they have their own organization known as the Women's Synodical Society for Missions of which Mrs. J. G. Klene of Long Beach is acting president. Meetings will be conducted concurrently with the synods, the first session for women to be at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Speakers tomorrow morning and afternoon will include Mmes. C. E. Cornell of Oakland, E. L. McCartney of Riverside, Ina Wells of San Francisco and other leaders from various cities of the State.

Presiding at the women's meetings next Saturday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively, will be Mrs. J. A. Stevenson, Mrs. J. G. Klene, Mrs. W. J. Fisher and Mrs. Klene.

Appointment of committees and reports of officers will feature the men's business session at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow. Following the business meeting, addresses will be given by

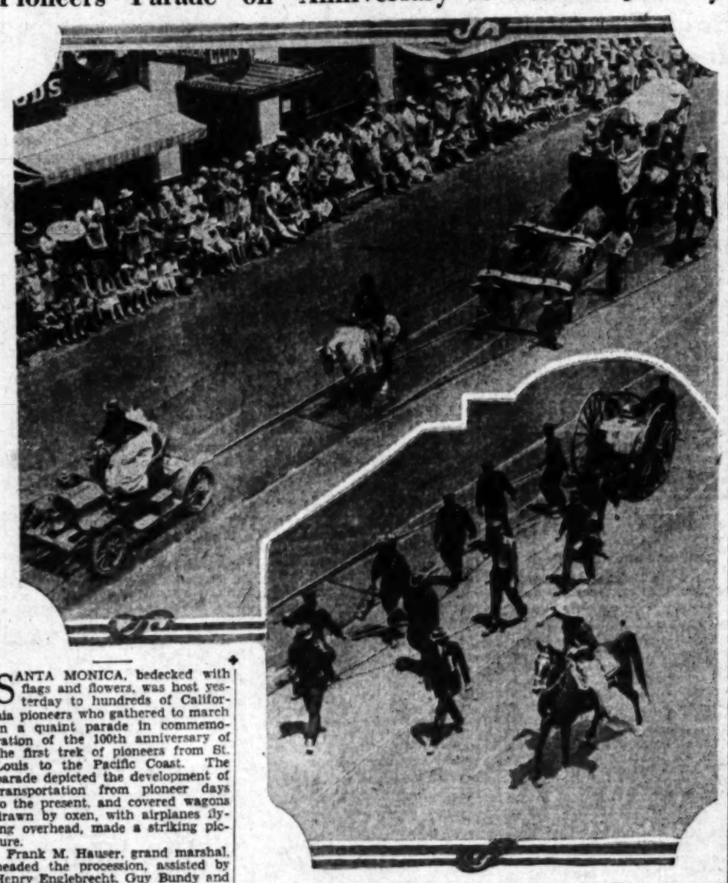
OVERLAND TREK COMMEMORATED

Pioneers Parade on Anniversary of Historic Journey



SANTA MONICA, bedecked with flags and flowers, was host yesterday to hundreds of California pioneers who gathered to march in a quaint parade in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the first trek of pioneers from St. Louis to the Pacific Coast. The parade depicted the development of transportation from pioneer days to the present, and covered wagons drawn by oxen, with airplanes flying overhead, made a striking picture.

Frank M. Hauser, grand marshal, headed the procession, assisted by Henry Englebrecht, Guy Bundy and William Sharples, director. It started at 10:30 a.m. at Ocean avenue and San Vicente Boulevard, and after making a tour through all the main streets disbanded at Wilshire Boulevard and Twelfth street.

Among the pioneers to appear were Mrs. Mary Sheckles, 83 years of age, of 623 Santa Monica Boulevard, the oldest surviving settler of Santa Monica; T. C. Hull, 1137 Twenty-second street, one of the few still living who made the cross-continent trip in oxen-drawn covered wagons, and Miss Josephine Potter, first white girl born in the Bay City.

In the parade and in the dedication ceremony which followed in the evening were the Santa Monica Municipal Band, the Santa Monica Harmonica Band of 400 boys and girls; the Newsboys' Band of the Santa Monica Outlook, the Boys' Band of Inglewood, the police and fire departments of Santa Monica, and scores of pioneers in tallyhos, victorias, buckboards and other ancient vehicles.

The celebration culminated in the dedication of a $10,000 plaque to the covered-wagon pioneers. Mayor Michel of Santa Monica and President A. R. Pratt of the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce were the principal speakers. The entire dedication program was broadcast over radio station KTM. A carnival in the evening concluded the day's festivities.

Western Union's New Building Being Planned

Engineers of the Western Union Telegraph Company are in the city conferring with local architects regarding plans for a limit-height building which the company announced some time ago it planned to erect here.

A tentative site fronting 120 feet on the west side of Spring street just north of the Garland Building is under consideration, and it as reported that if the type of building the company desires can be erected on the property definite announcement of building plans will be made within ninety days. The property has a depth of 160 feet.

Another Person Found Who Tells of Mystery Man Sitting Near Flint's Slayer

Discovery of another witness whose testimony will support the theory that Frank D. Keaton had an accomplice in the slaying of Motley H. Flint in Superior Judge Collier's courtroom was announced late yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Burgess, in charge of the prosecution of Flint's slayer.

"This makes four persons who saw another man enter the courtroom at approximately the same time Keaton did and take a seat close to that of the murderer," said the prosecutor. "All four agree that the as yet unidentified stranger left a seat directly in front of Keaton only a few minutes before the shooting occurred."

SECRECY MAINTAINED

Two of the four persons who noticed the suspected accomplice, Burgess said, are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Selznick, who were seated in the front row of seats in the courtroom when the shooting took place. He refused to reveal the names of the others until he has more time in which to follow clews opened by their statements, details of which he also kept a secret.

Keaton put in an unexpected appearance in Superior Judge Schauer's court yesterday morning. He was taken to the courtroom, where he is scheduled to go on trial for his life August 1, from the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital, where he has been under observation for several days, when Dr. Edwin Waite, one of three psychiatrists appointed by the court to examine him, informed Judge Schauer that he will not be able to be in the city when the trial is scheduled to begin. By consent of the defense and prosecution, Dr. F. J. Van Meter, assistant superintendent

SUIT FILED OVER DEATH OF HAWKS

Administrator Asks for $150,000 in Film Plane Crash Tragedy

Suit for $150,000 damages for the death of Kenneth Hawks, director for the Fox Film Company, killed January 2, last, when two airplanes collided in the air off Point San Vicente, was filed by Thomas J. Parker, administrator of Hawks's estate, yesterday.

Defendants in the case are James Grainger, Inc., owner of the planes, and the Tanner Air Livery, Inc., corporation operating the planes.

The petition, prepared by Attorney Lasker B. Gallagher, states that the decedent's heirs are his wife, Lucile, known on the screen as Mary Astor; his father, Frank Hawks, and his mother, Mrs. Helen Hawks.

DETECTIVE AGENCY OPENED BY BURKE

Charles W. Burke, once said to have been considered by Mayor Porter for appointment as superintendent of police, and also as reorganizer of the police department, announced yesterday he has returned to his former calling of private detective and opened an agency in the Merritt Building, Broadway and Eighth street. "I hope that my old clients and friends will again trust me with a portion of their patronage," said Burke. "It is my intention to handle nothing but legal and commercial investigations."

DOLORES DEL RIO DENIES SUNDERING PAIR'S LOVE

Dolores Del Rio

A vigorous denial to charges made by Gunther R. Lessing, well-known attorney, that she influenced his wife to leave him was made yesterday by Dolores Del Rio, Mexican motion-picture actress, following a conference with her attorney, Walter Burke.

"Mr. Lessing's charges are false and malicious and are made in an attempt to embarrass me and to collect money which is not due him," asserted Miss Del Rio yesterday. "There is absolutely no foundation for his ridiculous statements. They are made of whole cloth and are falsehoods."

The money referred to by Miss Del Rio is in connection with a suit brought recently in Superior Court by Lessing in which he asks for judgment of $31,000 which, he asserts, is due him for legal services.

Yesterday Mrs. Lessing also took occasion to say that Miss Del Rio had nothing to do with the Lessing marital break. She, too, branded her husband's charges as ridiculous.

"Miss Del Rio is one of my dearest and truest friends but Mr. Lessing's charges are entirely unfounded and approaching the ridiculous," said Mrs. Lessing through her attorney, Philip Cohen.

Lessing makes his charges in an amended answer he filed in court to his wife's complaint for a divorce in which he asserted "said Dolores

CHILD BEATER SENT TO JAIL

Mother Convicted of Torturing 8-Year-Old Girl Sentenced to Forty Days

Convicted of beating her 8-year-old daughter, Jennie, in accordance with a superstition, Mrs. Jennie Papeleo, 9423 Compton avenue, was sentenced to serve forty days in jail by Municipal Judge Sheldon yesterday. Before passing sentence, Judge Sheldon denied a motion for probation filed by the woman's attorneys. She was charged with inflicting cruel and unnecessary punishment on a child.

Probation Officer Minnie Barton, the court said, recommended that Mrs. Papeleo be not given probation. Mrs. Barton reported that Jennie, since her birth, had been badly treated by her mother on account of the fact that the latter believed the little girl had brought a curse upon her by being born cross-eyed. Jennie was for a time forced to live in a chicken coop in the rear of the Papeleo home, Mrs. Barton reported, and was continually beaten and ill-treated, not only by her mother, but by older brothers and sisters. Jennie has been made a ward of the Juvenile Court, Judge Sheldon said, and will be placed in a neutral home today.

On trial in the same court for a similar offense D. P. McCalib, 5007 Laroda street, Eagle Rock, admitted to a jury that he had punished his twin sons, David and Preston, 12 years of age, but declared the punishment was deserved and not as severe as contended by the State. McCalib said the twins had teased younger twin boys, Daniel and Donald, 8, until he had to interfere. David and Preston testified that their father beat them with a heavy strap on June 21, last. The case will go to the jury today.

Federal Officials Here to Study City's Needs

Money for Actual Erection Expected in Few Months

Structure to be Proud of Promised Civic Center

In five months preparations for a magnificent Federal building in the Civic Center and appropriate to the greatness of Los Angeles will have been brought to the stage where Congress will be requested to allocate money for actual construction, it was announced here yesterday by three officials of the United States Treasury and Postoffice departments.

Today they will confer with a citizens' committee concerning sites, building types and general information necessary in the survey of Federal building needs in Los Angeles that they have just come to make. They arrived yesterday and the night before and will leave tomorrow and Sunday. Their visit follows several preliminary surveys by advance agents for the government.

CITY WILL BE PROUD

Addressing a group of 130 citizens at luncheon in the observation room on the top floor of the City Hall yesterday, Ferry K. Heath, assistant Secretary of the Treasury, said:

"I can assure you that when the Federal building is finally completed it will be a building of which you can be as proud as you are of your City Hall.

"I can't say just what we will do. We came to hear you tell us what you want us to do. We know your needs are very great."

Mr. Heath explained that the Federal government is engaged in the greatest building program ever undertaken by a people. He said that soon after the first of next year the government will have 350 buildings of major importance in various states of planning or construction and that by that time also $92,000,000 of contracts will have been put into effect.

"The purpose of my coming here," said Arch Coleman, First Assistant Postmaster-General, "is to get a picture of the postal service on the Pacific Coast. It is our purpose that you shall have as fine a service as anywhere in the United States.

ARCHITECTURE TO FIT

"There is no doubt that the building to be erected will be thoroughly in keeping with the requirements of your city and Civic Center. We want architecture, too, that will fit into your scheme.

"I intend to check up with your Postmaster O'Brien and if humanly possible plan to build for fifteen or twenty years in the future. We wish to co-operate in every possible way and give you a postal service that will be satisfactory in every way."

Mr. Coleman said the rapid growth of Los Angeles had given the Federal Postoffice Department some of its most perplexing problems and he said that the only reason why they were handled as well as they were is because of the abilities of Mr. O'Brien here. He said that in Mr. O'Brien's recent reappointment was the hand of the department. He said he has been on the West Coast three weeks studying postal service and that Los Angeles service is "in a very bad way as to housing."

"We will be very happy," John W. Philp, Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General, said, "if our work here and later will result in our going before Congress in December and recommending allocation of the funds for what we believe should be done here and we believe we will be able to do so by that time.

TO BUILD FOR FUTURE

"We will do our best to give Los Angeles that which it so urgently needs and will try to build a structure that will still satisfy the city's needs in twenty-five or thirty years. We are here to make a study of your needs and find out what it will cost to provide them."

Immediately following the luncheon, the two postal department men and O'Brien went to the Arcade Postoffice branch to see how mail is handled in and out of Los Angeles on rail lines. The three visitors will meet today at 10 a.m. in Security-First National Bank's Fifth and Spring-streets office, with the citizens' committee, which includes James R. Martin, its most active figure; Henry W. O'Melveny, chairman; Joseph F. Sartori, president of Security-First National; C. J. S. Williamson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce city and county planning department; Carl Bush, member of Regional Planning Commission and executive offi-

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

FOR gratitude, expressed with delicacy and warmth, I know of nothing to equal the case of the Los Angeles school-teacher who has just returned from a tour of Japan. She devoted many years to helping the Japanese children in the public school at the fishing village at San Pedro.

This spring the Jap fishermen collected a fund and paid her expenses to Japan, giving her letters and introductions that must have made her tour a delight. Japanese and Chinese may lack many things—but not the quality of gratitude.

AN UP-TO-DATE DREAM

I loathe hearing people tell their dreams; so I will tell one of mine.

I dreamed I saw a terrific storm of meteors falling in the sky. The sky was full of them. Some were as large as moons as they floated by. By my side sat Col. William May Garland. As a particularly big moon sailed by he grasped my arm. "Say," he demanded, "do you suppose those worlds are inhabited?" I said it was likely.

At this Col. Garland leaped from the porch, presently to return with a chain of small balloons hitched together in a line. Between the balloons were rockets. When the balloons petered out the rockets automatically ignited so that the balloon chain was carried right up to the falling worlds. As each balloon gave out it ripped open to display a huge floating sign.

The signs said: "Come to the Olympic Games in Los Angeles in 1932."

THE BLUE BOOK

Antonio Moreno is the only actor this year to achieve the heavy distinction of getting into the society Blue Book. And, knowing Tony very well, I feel very sure that he is the least impressed of any actor who could have been there.

DO YOU SPEAK SANSKRIT?

If you have any burning yen to speak Sanskrit you can do it now. Classes in that forgotten tongue have been opened at the Theosophical Institute at Point Loma. Dr. G. De Perucker, the leader, is regarded as one of the greatest Sanskrit scholars in the world. At the age of 14 years he translated works in Hebrew.

In Mexico City I found classes in Aztec; and I know of several people learning to speak Navajo. The language of the Arapahoe Indians is said to be the most difficult tongue in the world; but Navajo is plenty.

Krishnamurti, who speaks nearly all modern languages, told me that he never consciously studied them. He achieves them by getting in complete sympathy with the people who speak them.

IS IT RUSSIA?

There is a temptation to see the hand of Russia in every evil disturbance; but there is strong reason to believe that she has a part both in the threatened revolution in Egypt and the Gandhi rebellion in India. The truth is, the British Empire is in a terrible dilemma.

THE LIFE ARTERY

The Suez Canal is the jugular vein of the British Empire. Russia has always had a vicious eye upon this waterway. Were it closed, England's hold on India would be gone. With England out of India, Russia could easily become master of the Orient.

It is impossible not to see that

THEFT BLAMED ON SHELL SHOCK

Neurologist Examines War Flyer Under Arrest

Asserted Purse Snatcher Held Mental Case

Doctor Declares Proper Care Will Cure Him

Capt. George Clifford, 40-year-old World War ace awaiting a hearing on charges of purse-snatching, is a victim of "depressive insanity" induced by his terrifying ordeals in battle, Dr. S. M. Marcus, neurologist, said yesterday following an examination of the prisoner in the city Jail. He is a striking example of shell-shock, the physician added, and as such is given to uncontrollable impulses such as resulted in his present plight.

But it is possible to cure him, for his is what is known as "a borderline case;" in other words, he is not incurably unbalanced.

Dr. Marcus examined Capt. Clifford purely of his own volition in the interest of neuro-medical science, he, too, having served during the war with the rank of major in the Medical Corps. The interview lasted an hour; and in announcing his findings the physician stated also he stands willing to appear at Capt. Clifford's hearing and ask that the ace he paroled in his care. He is confident, he said, that with the proper treatment the former combat aviator can be restored to mental normalcy.

Capt. Clifford was arrested Tuesday after snatching a purse from Mrs. Baba Raytzecs of 1236 Innis street as she alighted from a street car near her home. A private citizen, William L. Low, employee of the Board of Public Utilities, pursued him in an automobile and afoot, overtaking him finally in a store at 1235 Sunset Boulevard and holding him for police. A passport and other documents revealed his identity as an aerial-warfare hero of the Canadian forces. He insisted he did not know what prompted him to grab the woman's purse. Since arriving here he has been living at 126 North Verdugo Road.

HOOSIERS TO PICNIC

Former residents of Wabash and Wabash county, Indiana, and summer guests will picnic at Bixby Park in Long Beach, Saturday. The gathering is called for the afternoon with dinner at 6 o'clock.

CITY ENJOYS "PERFECT DAY"

Cool, westerly breezes from the ocean, coupled with an early morning fog and afternoon clouds, gave the Los Angeles area a "perfect day," according to Col. Hersey, United States weather forecaster, yesterday. The maximum temperature recorded was 74 deg. The minimum was registered at 60 deg.

"The day was slightly below normal in temperature," Col. Hersey say. "Thursday, Friday and Saturday also will be below normal for this time of the year, according to all indications. Clouds from the northwest are drifting toward Los Angeles and all the reports show that there will be a continuation of the sea breezes."

The early morning fog for the next three days will be high and the daytime clouds will be scattering, according to the weather report. The prediction for today indicates weather similar to yesterday's with probably a few degrees higher temperature.

Huge Financial Increase Shown By Adventists

Increasing their income through tithes and offerings and their medical, educational and publishing interests until they reached the total of $164,818,371.23, Seventh Day Adventists have established new records in all branches of their work, according to the report issued yesterday for the last quadrennium.

That the denomination is growing encouragingly in all parts of the world is evident from the fact that it now is operating in 139 countries, in 384 languages and dialects. The church operates 4755 conference, mission and institutional organizations, and has an investment valued at $50,281,614.54.

According to H. E. Rogers, statistical secretary of the denomination, the greater portion of the material resources of the church have been provided within the last sixteen years, in which time there has been an increase of $38,197,176.41 in the investment of the Adventists.

D'ORR MAY TAKE CASE

Keaton was represented in court by Public Defender Vercoe but it was learned yesterday from Attorney Paul Barksdale D'Orr, who once represented Rev. R. P. Shuler in several criminal libel actions and who recently was interviewed by Keaton's wife, that he may possibly conclude negotiations to take over the slayer's defense before the end of the week.

When Mrs. Keaton first talked to D'Orr more than usual interest was taken in her selection of a lawyer because of the assertions of the police that they found one of Shuler's pamphlets on Keaton soon after the slaying, a pamphlet that the minister since has charged was "planted" and one about which Keaton has made contradictory statements.

Arrest Made in Job Bunko

Charged with having taken $100 in cash from R. J. Van Derlenden of 1407 West Fifty-ninth street as security in return for employing him to paint traffic lanes in Manhattan Beach at 80 cents an hour, Axel T. Lane of 1028 South Hope street was arrested yesterday on suspicion of petty theft.

Van Derlenden asserted that, responding to a newspaper advertisement, he interviewed Lane and was told by Lane that he had a contract for painting the lanes. In order to get the job he gave Lane the $100, he said. Later he learned, he said, that Lane had no such contract, and reported to detectives, who took Lan. into custody.

HOUSEKEEPING STRIKE CHARGED BY HUSBAND

A wife's housekeeping strike was asserted yesterday by Robert H. Mueller in inducing Superior Judge Bowron to grant him a divorce from Annette Mueller. "She had the water turned off, told the ice man and milk man to stop their services and, finally, she stopped cooking and me," said Mueller. He added that his wife admitted loving another man and that she remained out nights. Judge Bowron awarded Mueller custody of his son Robert.

DIVORCE GRANTED TO DESERTED WIFE

A stepdaughter's appearance in their home after a year of unhampered married life was the cue for her husband to leave, testified Mrs. Rosemond Weisse yesterday. Superior Judge Rector granted her a divorce from William Weisse on grounds of desertion. The Weisses married July 27, 1927, and separated June 3, 1929.

Attorney Rufus C. Porter appeared for Mrs. Weisse.

Mayor Porter was toastmaster at the luncheon given so that the Federal officials might hear something of the city and so that its leading men might hear what they came to do. It was the first ever held in the top tower room of the City Hall. Among those present were many of the most prominent persons in various phases of the city's activities in civic and government circles.

YOUNG SENDS REGRETS

Vice-President James Shelton of Security-First National made the opening talk and presented a picture of Los Angeles' rise from an Indian pueblo to a city of first rank in the world—all within a remarkable short period of years. His address drew prolonged applause.

He told the visitors especially how the Civic Center had come into being, how it has evolved, what is intended for it, and bespoke on behalf of the city co-operation with the Federal officials when it comes to new Federal buildings.

Gov. Young sent a telegram of regrets to the luncheon on being unable to attend in which he said:

"Assure your honored guests of my complete co-operation and support in making your Civic Center par excellence. The new State building will add to your site and increase government efficiency. We need the new Federal building in the Civic Center group."

Director Diggs of the Regional Planning Commission provided the visitors with literature setting out maps and drawings regarding the Civic Center and other planning data.

This afternoon the Federal officials will be guests of Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce.

CHARGE DENIED BY MISS DEL RIO

entered upon a course of conduct calculated and intended to persuade plaintiff (Mrs. Lessing) to leave the defendant." He charges that Miss Del Rio on many occasions alluded to him in a slurring and contemptible manner.

Miss Del Rio, he charges, referred to him as "an ugly old man," and told his wife she is "a young and beautiful girl," and, he adds, the actress advised his wife to abandon him and "secure her freedom and liberty as she, the said Dolores, had done, and that the plaintiff was entitled to real experience and romance as she, the said Dolores, had found the same."

Continuing, his charges assert that Miss Del Rio informed Mrs. Lessing that the actress' home was always open to her. Lessing charges that his wife promised to remain away from Miss Del Rio, but that after this promise she met her secretly and spent many days and nights thereafter at the actress' home, and attended dinners and parties with her.

In addition, he asserts, Mrs. Lessing wore jewelry belonging to Miss Del Rio, much to his humiliation, Mrs. Lessing was in Miss Del Rio's company, he charges, in spite of the fact she knew Miss Del Rio "to be a personal and violent enemy." Miss Del Rio, he says, "has furnished supplies and money and made many presents to Mrs. Lessing and has promised to get her lucrative work in pictures" for the purpose of assuring permanent separation between the plaintiff and the defendant.

Lessing also asks for the custody of their minor child on the ground Mrs. Lessing is "emotionally unstable and unfitted to care for the child."

Lessing for many months represented Miss Del Rio as legal adviser in consummating her picture contracts, and it was he who filed her divorce in Nogales, Mex., in 1928, against her husband, Jaime Martinez Del Rio, who died a short time later in Berlin. In his suit for asserted fees, Lessing asserts Miss Del Rio paid him but $4000 of the $35,000 due him.

Dr. William H. Oxtoby, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, James B. Wootan of Chicago, Dr. Josiah Sibley, Dr. W. E. Roberts, Dr. Remsen D. Bird, Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Dr. Joseph Risco of Washington, D. C. Following the luncheon hour, addresses will be given by Dr. Frank Silsley, Elder David Black and Dr. F. M. Larkin, secretary of the State Church Federation.

The feature of the meeting tomorrow evening will be an address on "Character Building Work in California" by Gov. Young.

Reports from heads of various committees of the California Synod and addresses by Drs. Risco, S. H. Devine and J. R. Stevenson, president of Princeton Theological Seminary, will feature the session next Saturday morning. Saturday afternoon the delegates will visit Occidental College and the Monte Vista Groves Homes. At 6:30 p.m., Saturday, the men will meet in the banquet hall of Immanuel Church and will hear addresses by Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, Henry C. Swearingen and others. At the same hour a banquet for women will be given at the Elite Tea Room, with Mrs. T. M. Buley presiding.

Next Sunday morning a sermon will be preached by the Moderator of California Synod. Dr. Herbert Booth Smith, pastor of Immanuel, will preside at the Sunday evening meeting.

Speakers at the sessions next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will include Drs. E. O. Heuser, W. E. McCulloch, Clarence Spaulding, Henry B. Master, Duncan G. MacLennan, William C. Isett, Murdoch McLeod, Wallace Hamilton and others.

McGahan Rites Will Be Today

Funeral services for Luther D. McGahan, former member of the North Dakota State Legislature and community newspapr publisher, will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. today at Florence-avenue United Presbyterian Church, 7501 South Normandie avenue. Members of the Elks' lodge will officiate.

Following the church services Masonic rites will be conducted at the grave in Roosevelt Memorial Park.

Mr. McGahan, who was the victim of an automobile accident in Long Beach on Monday, lived at 1038 West Eighty-third street. He owned the Southwest Topics. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Jennie H. McGahan, two sons, Luther S. and Edward A. McGahan; two daughters, Mrs. Edgar P. Sorenson and Mrs. Alyce De Fazio, and a brother, George L. McGahan.

TINY PLANES TO COMPETE

More Than 100 Boys to Vie for Prizes Saturday in "Times"-Playground Aircraft League

More than one hundred boys, all members of the Los Angeles Times-Playground Aircraft League are busy completing their models to be entered in the outdoor model aircraft competition Saturday, at Los Angeles Junior College Field, 855 North Vermont avenue, starting at 10 a.m. Glider, pusher, fuselage and designs of every imaginable type will be demonstrated by the youngsters.

Entrants in the contest are those boys who survived the rigid qualification tests given at the club centers on the forty-two playgrounds throughout the city and are the pick of more than 2500 boys who received instruction in model aircraft through the Junior Times.

The youngsters, ranging from 11 to 21 years of age, are eligible in either novice, pilot or ace classes, and will compete in the following events:

(1.) Glider for distance, open competition.

(2.) Stick (scientific) model, for duration of flight; optional launching, junior and senior classes.

(3.) Fuselage model for duration of flight, junior and senior classes.

(4.) Exhibition flying —may include a parachute release (b) (smoke screen model.)

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be presented by The Times to the winners in each division.

Nick Rose, designer of the Nick Rose bomber, one of the most popular models this season, will be present to give exhibition flights on smoke-screen laying and parachute drops.

This exhibition completes the summer course of the Los Angeles Times-Playground Aircraft League. All instructions are free, and any boy or girl not more than 21 years of age is eligible to enter. Clip out the entry blank in the Junior Times or send in your name and address to the Los Angeles Times-Playground Aircraft League, Times Building.

Lynn Sullivan, a graduate of the Los Angeles Times-Playground Aircraft League, holds the world's record for duration flight, his plane staying up thirty-five minutes forty-five seconds. Don Sullivan, another member, is a world-record holder with his fuselage model with a flight of more than fourteen minutes.

New national records for miniature planes are expected in Saturday's tournament.

REPORTS OF KEITH FIGHT BELITTLED

Actor's Agent Says He Battled Fellow-Player, Not Noted Director

Ian Keith, motion-picture actor, was in a fight, but not with a motion-picture director, nor was his face badly damaged, as Hollywood reports indicated. This was the statement made yesterday by his business representative, Arthur Landau. Keith has left the city and cannot be reached for his statement.

The first reports were to the effect that Keith and a prominent motion-picture director had engaged in a fistic encounter on a train en route to Los Angeles from a Santa Barbara location trip several days ago and that his face and eyes were badly marred as the result.

"Keith did not engage in a fight with any director," Landau stated yesterday. "There had been some bad feeling between him and another member of the troupe. They encountered each other on the train and the other man pushed Keith and his face struck against a wall and was slightly discolored.

"I talked to Keith and saw his face and he is not badly hurt at all. Inasmuch as the other man had been drinking at the time Keith did not want to mention his name. That is all there is to it."

Keith, his manager declared, went out of the city to get a rest before starting a new picture for which he has already signed.

RELATIVES CONTEST G. M. HANDLEY'S WILL

Three sisters and seven nieces and nephews filed a suit yesterday to have set aside the will disposing of the $30,000 estate of George M. Handley, who left half his estate to his housekeeper, Mrs. Grace Guthrie. It is asserted in the petition that Handley, who died August 23, 1928, at 70 years of age, was incompetent and subject to undue influence when he made his will. The contestants are Agnes Mitchell, Annie Johnson and Elizabeth Gallatin, sisters, and Goldie Fuller, Charles G. Norton, Grover Stanley, Russell and Martha Stanley, and Mrs. Ruth Handley McBride.

Dandruff
is inexcusable!

A swift, pleasant way to get rid of it

Annoying, unsightly, unhealthy — dandruff! How it repels others. How quickly it betrays you as a careless person.

Why put up with loose dandruff when full strength Listerine will rid you of it? Thousands of women are enthusiastic about Listerine used this way.

Simply douse Listerine on the scalp full strength and massage vigorously. Within a day or two, you ought to see marked improvement. Of course, if you have a stubborn case, it will be necessary to keep the treatment up several days. If your hair and scalp are excessively dry, use a little olive oil in conjunction with the shampoo.

Listerine first removes and dissolves loose dandruff. Then it cools and heals the scalp. And since it kills to 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds, Listerine automatically checks any infection that may be present. This is important in connection with dandruff since many dermatologists declare dandruff to be of germ origin.

Get a bottle of Listerine today and use it. See how much better your hair looks, how much better your scalp feels tomorrow. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Missouri, U. S. A.

DREDGING PLEA FOR PORT FILED

Senate Committee Urged to Act for Resurvey

Harbor Board Resolution Asks for Deep Water

War Department Reported Need Not Indicated

A resolution to the Commerce Committee of the United States Senate urging that action be taken for a resurvey by the War Department of a modified dredging plan for the West Basin, so that vessels may navigate the waterway and use the new municipal wharf being constructed on the east bank of the basin, was adopted by the Board of Harbor Commissioners yesterday and forwarded to Washington, D. C.

The board's former request for a 35,000,000-cubic-feet dredging project which would provide thirty-five feet at low tide in the entire West Basin resulted in an unfavorable report by the chief of engineers of the War Department. The result was that the dredging was not included in the appropriation bill by Congress recently for dredging operations in the outer harbor, the Cut channel, Cerritos channel and other points. The War Department's reason for the unfavorable report was that shipping in the West Basin at present has not extended to the point where the dredging is necessary.

The harbor department, however, is constructing modern berths on the east bank of the basin and Harbor Engineer Nicholson contends that a channel fronting the berths and entering basin in the south end, involving the removal of 660,000 cubic yards of silt, must be dredged to a depth of thirty-five feet in order that the new berths may be used. The cost of the modified plan is estimated at $500,000.

BANKS GET PRAISE FOR TAX ACTION

Withdrawal of Suits to Recover Protested Levy Explained by Elliott

Ernest Elliott, vice-president of the Security-First National Bank, yesterday expressed gratification over the action of California banking institutions in withdrawing their suits for recovery of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 taxes paid to the State under protest in conformity with the old share tax method. Elliott is chairman of the committee on legislation and taxation of the California Bankers' Association, which moved for the withdrawals.

"It has taken a long time to bring these actions to a point where they could all be dismissed simultaneously," he said, "but the action taken has saved the State several million dollars which the banks could have recovered. Until Congress amends the present Federal statute it is not possible for the State to put into operation any other method of taxing banks which will produce more income than will the present plan. Of course, if the banks and other corporations should pay more taxes, it can easily be accomplished by the Legislature through an increase of the rate."

The method of taxing national banks, Elliott explained, is controlled by an act of Congress which determines also the extent of such taxation. Under the present State law banks are being taxed for State purposes in exactly the same manner as are all other financial institutions and all mercantile, manufacturing and business corporations.

Withdrawal of the suits was requested here by Attorney Arthur E. Inskip and at San Francisco and Sacramento by Attorneys Vincent E. Boalter and Herbert W. Clark, the majority of plaintiffs being national banks. Previous decisions by the United States Supreme Court had convinced bankers the lower tribunals would have ruled in their favor and against the State, but the action was taken with the understanding that defects in the old laws will be rectified.

Alarm System Change Favored

Following a conference yesterday in the Building and Safety, Police and Fire Commissions, heads of the departments and the Bureau of Budget and Efficiency on the proposal to transfer jurisdiction of the fire-alarm and police-telegraph division to the fire department, the Bureau of Budget and Efficiency was directed to investigate and report the cost of the transfer and the benefit expected from the change.

The fire alarm and police telegraph at present are under jurisdiction of the Building and Safety Department, but both the police and fire departments desire to place it under the jurisdiction of the latter to obtain more direct results.

The police traffic signal division recently was transferred from the Building and Safety Department to the Police Department.

"Prince" Light's Trial Delayed

Trial of "Prince" Alexander Light on petty theft charges growing out of the operation of his asserted unregistered school was delayed yesterday by Municipal Judge Northcutt until August 1. Light is to be tried by a jury in Municipal Judge Shelton's court.

Evidence as to whether he was guilty of conducting a school without a license is expected to be handed down today by Judge Carter, before whom he was tried Monday and Tuesday. During the trial Light admitted accepting nearly $1000 "tuition" from dramatic students, but denied that he was conducting a school.

Today's Bible Text

Children, obey your parents in the Lord; for this is right. Honor thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise; that it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.—Eph. vi, 1-3.

HIGHER UPS

The annual rainfall at Bergen, in Norway, is said to be more than six feet. No wonder the men there are tall. They have to be to keep the water out of their ears.

NOT FORGOTTEN

Congressman Michaelson of Michigan was defeated by a small margin for renomination in the recent primary. This is the gentleman who had the leaky trunk on his return from abroad. His district appears to be a rather dry one.

MORE GARAGES

More than 135,000 garages were built in this country last year. This represents over 45 per cent of all building operations—not in value, of course, but in numbers. Folks are giving the old bus a cover. Also there are thousands of homes demanding two garages instead of the one they had. As a nation we are garage conscious.

CALLING THE ROLL

The statistician reports that Congress had 745 roll calls in the voting on various items and differences in the tariff bill. This means that no less than eighteen full days of legislative time were taken up in the mere matter of putting individual members on record. A roll call of the House takes considerable time. Neither is one of the Senate a momentary affair.

TAXING BACHELORS

If a man wishes to remain single the Germans are going to make him pay for his independence. Once more the government is pressing a measure which places an extra tax on bachelors. There is considerable opposition, but the bill is likely to pass. The funny thing is that a bachelor tax has never stimulated matrimony to any particular extent. The men have paid the tax and looked as cheerful as possible, but they have steered clear of the Mendelssohn music.

MEXICAN DANCES

One of the Mexican States has forbidden its citizens from indulging in any but Mexican dances. The lawmakers could not stand for some of the stuff that was being brought in. Even the Argentine tango and the American fox trot are on the black list. What if the California Assembly should pass a law forbidding anything but the waltz and the two-step. Maybe the Mexicans are merely encouraging home production. Some of the Mexican dances are not so tame.

CELEBRATION AT CONCORD

At Concord, where "once the embattled farmers stood and fired the shot heard 'round the world," there has been a celebration of late in honor of the bold patriots who gallantly stood their ground against the British regulars soon after the opening of the Revolution by the first fight at Lexington. Thousands of people viewed a mimic engagement between the farmers as impersonated by members of the Massachusetts militia, appropriately clothed, and other soldiers masquerading as British troops.

"The rude bridge" with which nearly every schoolboy is familiar was lavishly decorated and the Emerson poem was recited as a part of the day's program. The bridge is said to be as rude as ever on ordinary occasions, but this time it was gay with bunting. It would have been well if all America could have been there to witness the mock skirmish which pictured the battle of old Concord. Not that one would wish to have our people retain the spirit of enmity which existed when that historic fight took place so many years ago, for that enmity long since has died. But our people need to keep alive in their hearts a remembrance and an appreciation of what those embattled farmers did to establish their and our independence and start the nation on the way to the glory and grandeur that is now America.

Britain's error was our opportunity. May we never be led into a national error that shall deprive us of what we have gained by the sacrifice of the old patriots of Concord!

THE FOREST FIRE SEASON

Col. Hersey, in forecasting the cessation of the late hot spell, added the impressive rider that one serious phase of it will continue, "high fire hazards in the interior." And though we enjoy nothing but normal California weather for the rest of the summer, that one serious phase will be with us till at least the middle of October, or until the coming of the first seasonal rains. Three months of certain risk to our forests and watersheds through high fire hazards is a condition we have to meet annually. In no other single particular has our State so much at stake.

State authorities are taking special precautions this year to cut down the sad record of forest-fire disasters. Neither our people nor our officials should rest content with any accomplishment that does not reduce our fire hazard losses substantially in each succeeding year. Science and education are both being employed in this campaign and by its success the progress of the State, in wealth and population will be largely determined.

The Supervisor of the Angeles National Forest has added three scout airplanes this summer to the equipment for fighting this worst enemy of human life on the planet. They have a large area to cover—some 3,000,000 acres of forest reserve—but they may be depended on to give a good record of their stewardship. And if the experiment brings the expected results no doubt more planes will be added to this branch of the service.

Forests are closed to smokers except under specified exceptions until the rainy season arrives to eliminate the risk from this quarter. Penalties are severe for infringement of the law, $500 fine or six months' imprisonment, or both, and every case will be prosecuted vigorously. There will be no palliation for this offense against the public welfare. It will go extremely hard with the visitor permitted the freedom of the forest reserves who is caught smoking or lighting matches in forbidden areas.

State fire-fighting forces are using additional emergency patrolmen and a closer watch than ever before will be kept during the period of extreme hazard. So important is the preservation of our watershed and the protection of our standing timber that unless the public co-operates whole-heartedly with the authorities in the difficult task of preventing forest and brush fires, all forest reserves may be closed to the public in the future during the season of extreme hazard.

Such a misfortune, however, is unlikely, since at least ninety-nine out of every hundred of campers and vacationists seeking the tonic and rest of the high mountains and the cool forest glades are as anxious as the State authorities to preserve this great gift of God to the children of men. A thorough co-operation of all interested either in the natural resources of the State or in the privilege of the mountain canyon and forest camp includes something more than the observance of the laws against dangerous fire practices by the individual. It signifies further that everyone enjoying the freedom of the forest will constitute himself a guardian of this precious right and help the authorities in every way to bring to justice the criminally careless handful whose lawbreaking propensities may endanger thousands of acres of invaluable timber and hundreds of miles of brush-conserved watersheds to say nothing of human life.

So much has been printed and circulated about the irreparable damage caused by forest fires that the situation must be well known to all camping or hiking in the hill-brush or mountain-timber sections of California. The loss of timber is a disaster, but the denuding of the watersheds of their natural foliage is a calamity.

Destruction by fire of ground cover lays bare the soil and thereby leaves the hillsides open to erosion. Loss of stored waters in the subsoil and floods in distant valleys are inevitable. The whole balance of nature is upset. By such processes great areas of the earth have been totally changed, climatically and physically, and lands, once productive and life sustaining, have been turned into desolate deserts—not natural deserts that may be reclaimed, but artificially produced wastes beyond redemption.

The United States was in some danger of incurring the fate that has befallen parts of China, regions in Northern Africa, large tracts in Asia Minor, through man-made catastrophes such as that which centuries ago sank the mighty city of Babylon in a sea of mud. But common sense and an aroused public opinion came to the rescue of our natural tree and water resources. California may set a good example to other States by reducing the forest-fire damage to a minimum this summer—if everyone will co-operate for that end.

TABLE TOOLS

Not content with starting new religions and new architecture and new styles for the flappers, California has invented a new lettuce fork with a blade attachment to cut succulent salads. We are inventing a new etiquette to go with it.

This naturally cuts the old-timers to the quick. We grow more lettuce in Imperial Valley than anywhere else on the globe and something just had to be done so that so much of it would not be left on the plate. The Western Protective Association has taken the heroic initiative in the matter.

Heretofore it was regarded in good form to twist the salad into a large gob and thrust it into the maw even as the hayfork jams the grass into the mow of the barn. Not even the best circles could see anything unpleasant in the struggle to drape one's facial foliage around these large, unwieldy quantities of fodder.

But with this new trick salad fork, with a combination like the old jackknife with a corkscrew and fifty-seven other varieties of tools, we are able to inhale lettuce with comfort and stimulate another of California products.

The silversmiths are also said to be backing the innovation and that means that the best families will lend themselves to the cause. For many of them have stock in the concern or have mines and will be pleased to have old cutlery out of date.

California has taken the orange out of the Christmas stocking and got it on the breakfast table. For a time it was in peril of being put up in prescriptions like spinach by the doctors; but it has turned the corner and can be gedunked at the soda fountains. The whole country is alkalizing its system by orange juice and we are picking the profits for our purses.

Once we got the world full of prunes; but it woke up one morning and turned to fruit cocktail instead. It got grapefruit in its eye and hope in its heart. The great question a few years back was how to eat an orange. But now the spiffy are acquiring lettuce forks and the price of sterling silver is about to take a sudden advance.

JUDICIOUS POLITENESS

David Gray says that manners, as a fine art, have gone out. So many women are getting to be bosses, the studied variety should remain, at least.

COMPENSATION
By James J. Montague

The robin glories in the song
That while, as on a twig he perches,
Re-echoes all the morning long
Among the slender, slanting birches.
And when he wearies of his lay
And toward the distant wood goes winging,
He has a look that seems to say:
I guess that's singing!

And then the crow swells out his throat
As if it were by way of warning,
And pours forth note on raucous note,
Which desecrate the quiet morning.
And when the last harsh accents fade,
He gives a croak designed to tell us:
"Some music, folks, I think I made
That robin jealous!"

The donkey has no sort of doubt
That any creature who is near him
The while his strident bray rings out
Will thrill with eager joy to hear him.
The ugly whip-poor-will assumes,
His graceless person contemplating,
That his poor dowdy brownish plumes
Are fascinating.

But more widespread is happiness,
Because the poorest living creature
From birth to death may never guess
His lack in voice or form or feature.
We may be quite unknown to fame,
We may be nature's clumsy blunders,
Yet we imagine, just the same,
That we are wonders!

(Copyright, 1930, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

THERE is good in everything and a little depression which will make people stop and think and realize what fools they have been may be the salvation of our country.

Yesterday we sat for a while in the old Plaza, just to smoke, look and listen. There are always loafers there and there seemed no more of them than usual, which may be a measure of unemployment. There still were plenty of vacant seats, though those in the shade were all occupied.

But the thing which impressed us was that two street-car conductors, lounging in the seat next to the one we took, were discussing the stock market. They were not interested as mere spectators, either—both were financially interested.

"Saving money out of a salary's too slow," one argued, when we butted into the conversation. "I've been doing that for thirty years and where has it got me? I own a little cottage and that's all."

And today, we suppose, he no longer owns that, for his stock was slipping badly. Not content with a modest competence when he saw so much spending and extravagance about him, he had turned to a game he didn't understand at an age when he should have known better, and when disaster would find him too old to start again with the buoyancy of youth.

Those two men were two of thousands in this city, of millions in this country. They want more money. They don't know just why, but they have caught the infection of the spending age. And nothing but depression can cure that dangerous ailment.

Money Goes Further

On the other hand, we Scotchmen are finding many consolations. The shop which does our suit cleaning and pressing has reduced its price. "The cleaners have reduced the price to us," explained the tailor—who does most of his tailoring with an ironing machine—"and we are passing it on."

When you leave your clothes at a "tailor" shop to be cleaned and pressed they aren't cleaned there. Every day a big truck comes around and collects them, just as laundry wagons collect laundry, and they are taken to one big steam-cleaning establishment which does the work for 100 or several hundred little shops. So most of you readers should have profited by this reduction, too.

Times Not So Bad

When times are prosperous you simply can't find a good home wash woman. The bright, keen-minded, go-getting American man is getting along so well that his wife doesn't need to do anything like that. But when a few plants close down and the bright, keen-minded hustlers are too unimaginative to know which way to turn, their wives turn back to the washtub just as starvation is staring the family in the face and save the day. As long as you can't find any wash woman you know the reports of slack times are greatly exaggerated.

Search the want-ad columns today and you won't find anyone seeking work as a laundress. And practically all those seeking housework specify that they will work for small families only.

Heat Reflections

We thought the landlady said "furnished room," but after we got into it we realized our ears must have deceived us. She must have said "furnaced room."

It's not surprising that the 3-year-old who drank fly spray recovered. Don't most of the flies recover?

A rose by any other name may smell as sweet. But a rival candidate for office by the same name smells just a little fishy.

Paul Mellon, heir to $500,000,000, says he dislikes banking and is going to be a publisher. Before doing anything definite it might pay Paul to consult with Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr.

No wonder this beats 'em all as a land of opportunity. Elsewhere you have to go to the ant to consider its ways and be wise, but here the ants come to you.

Safety razor companies practically give away razors in order to create a market for blades. There's a tip in that, now that the automobile manufacturers are crushing up the used cars to get them out of the way, for the independent gasoline men. They might buy up used flivvers and give them away to create a market for gas—for heaven knows it's the old that use most of it.

A Seattle minister has become a policeman, arguing that he has a wider field for doing good. Furthermore, when a cop passes the collection basket nobody puts in any wooden nickels.

Sometimes we are awfully glad that we're a Scotchman. The other day everyone else in Ourville was grouching that it was an awfully hot day, but we got a big kick out of getting a Turkish bath, right at home, for nothing.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

EXIT THE PRIVATE OFFICE
(Christian Science Monitor.)

Patrons who once sat expectantly in the outer court of a banking institution to face the words "Private" or "President," painted in black letters on the frosted glass of a formidable door, may now indulge in a smile or two, for a recently opened financial house announces that it has abandoned all private offices and has brought all its officers into plain view. This does not mean that the president of the company may be interrupted while conferring with a customer, or that he personally attends to every person who seeks his advice, but it does indicate that inaccessibility is no longer practiced and that personal attention is now of primary importance in the conduct of business.

The bank in question has gone a step further in humanizing its relationships with its family of patrons. If a stranger enters its doors he is met by an official who asks him courteously how he may be of service, and directs him accordingly. The official not only has a friendly greeting and an intelligent concern in making the stranger's visit entirely satisfactory, but he has also a good memory. Thus he is able to recall his name and his particular mission when the patron makes his appearance at some future time.

The whole routine of banking, transformed into a specialized service made easily available, thus loses much of its old-fashioned mystery and chilliness, and emerges into a co-operative enterprise where officer and client talk things over in leisurely fashion. Thus the open inclosure of today lends itself to greater confidence, and certainly challenges the older methods of conducting business.

THE VICEROY'S APPEAL TO INDIA
[New York World.]

It is well for England to have an Indian Viceroy who occasionally makes speeches which disturb the Conservatives. Lord Irwin's frank address at Simla did that, and must in equal degree have reassured all moderate Indians. The statement he again made about eventual dominion status is not important; that might be taken for granted. What was important was the way in which he enlarged upon the declaration that the coming Anglo-Indian conference will in no sense be bound by the Simon report. This report is advisory only; the Indians will be expected to draw up a similar advisory plan of their own; and the future constitution of India will be worked out together. Lord Irwin stated this with an emphasis which leaves a strong suspicion that he does not believe the plan of the Simon commission to be sufficiently liberal.

A QUESTION OF DEPRESSION
[Detroit Free Press.]

A member of the local homicide squad of the police department has advanced the theory that the increase in gang killings is the result of a "depression" in the bootleg business and of consequent attempts by "small-time chiselers" to invade that field. "The business depression has made itself felt in the liquor and associated rackets, and with fewer customers the racketeers are jealously guarding their enterprises from outsiders," explained the officer. In a narrow, immediate way, the policeman may be right in his diagnosis. We do not pretend to an expert knowledge of the state of the contraband liquor market. But, in a large way, he is entirely wrong, and the matter-of-fact style of his acceptance of the existence of a criminal, illegal trade under the very noses of the police and courts is itself an indication of the true reason for the prevalence of killings.

Quien Sabe

TUJUNGA, July 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] About the famous Lindbergh baby—of course, he's a darling and, of course, he'll never grow into anything that isn't fine and admirable and good; but just the same those who have pictured him as the great aviator of the future, winging his way to a place in the sun, may be due for a disappointment. Likely as not he'll turn out to be a staid college professor wearing horn-rimmed glasses, or a banker or maybe a mere Congressman; while the successful aspirant to be first to fly to Mars is the seventh son of Bill Jones, the bricklayer.

Life is like that—you never can tell.

Where Was Brooklyn?

LYNWOOD, July 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Just a line to correct a statement in the article in today's Times under "Uncle Sam First." It says Brooklyn was a little burg of 1600 souls on Oyster Bay. The town "Oyster Bay" is on the north shore of Long Island, about thirty miles from Brooklyn. Brooklyn is at the west end of Long Island, stretching along the south shore.

I Was Wondering

WHITTIER, July 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I was wondering if that man, B. D. White, in his Saturday letter, hasn't been observing how nature builds its dams? Anyway, he has good sense, and for San Gabriel, he or any of us old-time dam builders would pull a spare mountain into the canyon, cover it over with boulders, spill over the top on an apron of boulders, high or low and let her go Gallagher; had he cement he would spread it on a road for visitors to view a real dam on a natural damsite—and several millions left the technicians might want.

Then I wondered again why the Anti-Saloon League, non-partisan, by its board, indorsed Gov. Young, then sent letters to its financial supporters asking support for that candidate? Wonder if that really means anything to anybody other than the few who did it?

And also, if suspended sentences are not somewhat similar to contemptible courts that are not contemptible, and if the law was not broken, but just fractured, would a fractured law be in contempt of the law? Is there no remedy for contempt of the law, and would the ire of a judge be contempt of the law? I wonder?

In the Senate, are we like Al the local politician sized it up—"One fur an' One Agin it, Nothin' doin'"?

What, No Poetry?

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] H. M. Alexander has the right idea. When it comes to starting a library poetry should be given a prominent place. As I read Harry Carr's list I noticed this omission and said, "What, no poetry? We can't get along without verse. It is the spirit of literature."

Why has none of your correspondents mentioned Boswell's "Johnson"? Pepys's Diary also has been neglected. I would put these two books and Emerson's Essays on the handiest shelf of my library if I were starting one. But being a mere traveler and almost constantly on the go, I am one of those poor mortals who are not blessed with a library.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Morse Telegraphy?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Commercial Morse telegraphy is taught free at the Frank Wiggins Trade Evening School. Only those in that trade or some allied trade are admitted to the evening class, though any serious-minded beginner is admitted to the day class.

Ability to spell correctly is of prime importance. The course includes the mastery of the Morse code, key manipulation, transmission and receiving practice; drill on commercial practice and a review in touch typing. The time required to achieve mastery varies from eight to ten months, attending fifteen hours a week; but instruction is individual, and each student may advance at his own rate of speed. The desirable training age is 18 to 25 years and employers usually prefer high school graduates.

The school is at 216 West Venice Boulevard and the class meets on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 7 to 9 p.m. The day class is from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the same days. The only expense is $1 enrollment fee.

Those stately candles of the Lord,
High in the hillside there,
Above the clamor of the town,
Above the noise and care.

They seem to cast a mystic spell,
And ever point us toward
The things that are unseen of men—
Those candles of the Lord.

BEAT BRUCE'S SPIDER

BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

Across from my home is a vacant lot whose owner has thoughtfully planted it to wild flowers, but whose abrupt front—it is well above street level—makes an ideal home for gophers. And they have made good use of it, as its pock-marked surface indicates.

On a recent afternoon a gopher from this vacant lot across from me by some means found its way out of the high bank and strayed into the cement gutter along the street, where I first observed it. The gutter is bordered by a curb, of course, perhaps six inches high, and smooth. At this hour, it was broad daylight—and a gopher sees but poorly when the sun is shining high. Yet there one was, on a hard cement runway, the street pavement on one side, the perpendicular wall of the curb on the other, itself unable clearly to vision where safety lay, and physically inhibited from digging its way out—or in, as is usually its plan—or leaping to softer ground in the parkway above the curb. Truly, a problem for a full-sighted creature; certainly one for an animal so dim of eye as to be badly handicapped.

The gopher sought egress from its dilemma strenuously. Back and forth up and down the gutter it hastened; I had little idea one could step so fast. Time after time it tried to scale the gutter wall; but a gopher is ill equipped for such a feat; its legs are admirable as an excavatory apparatus, but puerile in other respects. It raced for a distance of ten or twelve feet one way, then turned to retrace its path; it paused every few moments to leap fatuously up that cruel parapet; it ventured timorously on the pavement, but easily learned that that way was danger. Then it would try again its strength as a leaper; once more it went back and forth, covering up and down its little span. Never did it pause, weary, or become discouraged; it fought on and on, against seemingly insurmountable odds.

Now, just beyond the course which that gopher took back and forth in the gutter, a driveway debouched into the street; an easy pathway up which the gopher might have won its way from its imprisonment to safety in the high bank whence it came. But this was evidently beyond its purview, and not once in its running hither and yon did it quite reach this way out; it always stopped just a few feet from safety and retraced its futile steps.

Then, of a sudden, in one of its frantic leaps, the little gopher reached to the top of the curb and scrambled over. It was a tremendous effort, but the unfailing courage, determination, desperation, of the creature carried it over the top. In all haste it set its course, now down the parkway, across the very driveway it had not been able to discover in all the time I had stood there watching it—upwards of half an hour—up the high bank and into a hole it furiously excavated, to safety.

I am a sworn enemy of gophers—but I let this one go; it put up too fine a fight. Do you see in this true incident what I do? Do you catch the meaning of it in human terms that it so forcefully brought home to me? Would you have slain even a pest of a gopher after what my eyes beheld and my mind interpreted?

FILOSOFISMS

By The Foothill Philosopher

In moral and spiritual matters, those teachers are most worth while who demonstrate the truth of the doctrines they teach.

Any schoolboy who knows that two and two are four is as well aware of that fact as is the most learned professor of mathematics and he may be as capable of imparting his knowledge. However, to know what is right and fail to do it is to fail as an instructor in moral and spiritual realms.

The average man might not be so bold in considering and declaring his right to speculate on the profound mysteries of life were it not for the fact that practically all great thinkers frankly admit that they might be mistaken in their conclusions.

It is more conducive to development of character to discover and admit that one has been mistaken than to have some one corroborate an opinion born of egotism.

If you want to know a person's real character, do not seek to learn what he eats and drinks nor how he works, plays and sleeps or even what he thinks, believes and dreams. If you really wish to know a person, find out what he loves and you will have the key to his life.

JAMES WARNACK.

FOOLED BY QUACKS

Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk, medical director of the Life Extension Institute, is one of several eminent authorities who are more alarmed about fat people than about those seeking to get thin, and is inclined to think that the note of warning regarding harmful weight reduction has been somewhat overdone.

"There has been a good deal of hysteria over the question of the harmfulness of weight reduction methods, the public has been fooled by quacks to a remarkable degree and people have sustained damage by reckless methods of dieting," he agrees, however.

"There are so many other factors at work in this group which would make for the same result that they must be given due credit, or discredit, for the situation. Late hours, high-tension existence, the influx of young women into industrial and commercial life and, therefore, to a more sedentary existence must all be considered. On the whole, it seems to me that greater damage is done by lack of dieting than by dieting."—[McCall's Magazine.

"ENDURANCE CONTEST" CRAZE

BY J. M. SCANLAND

Again we are infected with the endurance contest pest that spread over the land a generation ago. It is now more epidemic and includes almost everything from up in the air to the ground and underneath and in the seas. One thing alone is excepted—that is, an endurance of silence. The suffering public could stand a great deal of this especially from the combine in Congress, legislatures, our City Council and radios.

A generation or two ago these endurance contests broke out in this country, the disease being handed down from the past ages. There were walking endurance tests, fasting endurances, talking endurances and most all the diseases known today, except that of the air. In the latter endurance of the absence of Dr. Tanner, there were close of deception. That is, that he took a thin lunch between fasts.

In the dark ages, or about 1000 years ago, a moron desiring publicity (without the moron's an objective) erected a pole about fifty feet in height and posted himself on a crow-box near the top. Crowds daily assembled and called for him to come down. He had ordered food three days without food and finally the village lifted him that the pole be cut down. When the chips began to fly, he frightened endurance man hastily descended. Then he was tied to a post and given another endurance with an official rawhide.

At about the same time a Cretan crank, named Epimenides, attempted an endurance sleep, for 57 years. He disappeared and after 57 years reappeared, claiming that he had and saying that he had been asleep all the time. But the man with the grass money had disappeared or was dead and the moron got nothing but jail. These instances are no doubt the origin of the present endurance craze. That of the Cretan sleeper furnished Washington Irving material for his "Rip Van Winkle."

There seems to be nothing new under the sun.

SCOTT PRAISES FITTS ON RADIO

State Must be Saved from Bureaucracy, He Says

Southland Should Give Next Governor, His View

Introduction of Religious Question Deplored.

To save California government from bureaucracy, to preserve the standards of party responsibility, and to introduce courage, honesty and vision into State affairs, it is imperative that the citizens of California elect Buron Fitts as Governor on August 26, Joseph Scott declared last night through a Statewide radio broadcast. Scott in a half-hour address over the Don Lee chain pointed out that the government of the United States has but nine departments while today California government has thirteen departments and more in the offing.

He charged that no private corporation could long be out of the hands of a receiver if loaded down with such overhead as is California under the existing system of State government. The speaker, who has stumped the State for every Republican Presidential nominee since Taft, declared that he believes Fitts to be the only qualified available candidate who is pledged to introduce reforms so necessary today. He also pointed out that since 1898 but one Governor has come from Southern California.

UNITY SOUGHT

"I believe it is time to call the roll and let Southern California have a chance to administer the affairs of our beloved State," declared Scott.

"This is not said in any mere geographical or sectional sense, at all, but because I think that our candidate can give an account of his stewardship that will reflect credit on the entire State and will bring together the various sections of our beloved California so that we shall know and understand each other better and enable us to work out a program that will be for the general welfare of the common people."

Scott flayed those who by innuendo and whisperings seek to introduce the religious question into the present campaign. In this connection, he condemned persons endeavoring to circulate as facts a baseless story of raid upon an asserted convent by members of the dry squad working out of the District Attorney's office more than a year ago.

Mr. Scott pointed out that the raid was made, but that the dwelling entered was not a convent, but a private home occupied by refugee nuns of Mexico, and that the officers in entering the house in search of a still made an honest mistake in an effort to enforce the law which they had been told was being violated in that particular building. Later the location of the still sought was found to be directly across the street from the home occupied by the religious order.

COUNTY IN FOREFRONT

Discussing Republicanism the speaker pointed out that for many years Los Angeles county has borne the beat and sweat of the day to hold California within the Republican column.

"We are now on the verge of a meeting of the Legislature which in fraught with utmost consequence to us," said Scott. "The question of reapportionment is uppermost in the minds of all of us at this end of the State. There will be nine new Congressmen assigned to California and the legislative program as to reapportionment will be still more comprehensive, and I think every hontest broad-gauged citizen in other parts of the State ought to realize that, other things being equal, it is about time Southern California had a Governor in Sacramento."

YOUNG CHALLENGED TO OPEN DEBATE

A challenge to Gov. Young to face him on a platform any time or any place on the problems of the present gubernatorial campaign was hurled yesterday by Buron Fitts, Los Angeles' candidate for Governor. Speaking before a large group of veterans under the auspices of the All Veterans' League at noon, Fitts charged Gov. Young with attempting to buy the vote of the rank and file of veterans through the appointment of individual veterans who at one time or another have held positions of high rank in veteran circles.

Fitts declared that appointment of veterans to public positions is laudable, indeed, and that, all other things being equal, the veteran is entitled to consideration when any post or position is at stake. Fitts pointed out, however, that the appointments made by Young have not been from the rank and file of veterans but from among those elevated to official veteran positions.

Fitts reiterated his charge previously made that Gov. Young has been guilty of political cowardice in the handling of the Mooney case. He said:

"I hold no brief for Mooney but in justice to him and in justice to mankind, he should be told whether or not the Governor of this State believes him guilty or believes him innocent. A decision was promised Mooney four years ago by Gov. Young and then the Governor promptly turned around and steam rollered through the Legislature a law whereby he was able to evade the issue by 'passing the buck' to the State Supreme Court."

His address before the veterans was one of three made by him yesterday. Last night at 7:30 o'clock he spoke before 400 members of the church brotherhood at the Figueroa Boulevard Church. At 8:30 o'clock he spoke before the Boosters' Club at Ocean Park.

Hale Appointed Fitts's Deputy

Harry C. Hale, Los Angeles attorney, yesterday was appointed deputy District Attorney by Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

In addition to having practiced in Los Angeles since 1923, Mr. Hale served four years as City Attorney of Little Rock, Ark.; four years as deputy prosecutor and four years as a municipal judge in that city. He has been assigned temporarily to the complaint department by the District Attorney.

HARD TO BELIEVE

IF YOU'VE been using ordinary household soaps in hard water you probably won't believe how little hard water means to White King. Rich, creamy suds, thorough cleansing and swift rinsing—you can have all these no matter how hard the water may be.

White King Granulated Soap is made from pure vegetable and nut oils good enough to eat. That's the reason. Its purity makes it safe for the flimsiest silken lingerie, effective for the heaviest blankets, kind to the most tender hands. It contains no "filler" to yellow your white goods. It's the one soap that solves every household washing problem.

Try White King today. Its economy will surprise you. A teaspoonful is plenty for the wash basin, a cupful ample for the washing machine. At your grocer's.

Nothing else Like it!

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Formal announcement is being made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gilmour McDonnell of 357 South Kenmore avenue, of the engagement of their attractive daughter, Miss Erna Marguerite McDonnell, to Dr. Paul Brandt Roen of Hollywood. The wedding is to be one of the events of the latter part of August.

Wedding Data

Invitations are being issued by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rigga Dempsey of 1017 Arlington avenue, for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Virginia Dempsey, to Wellman Perry Thayer, the ceremony to take place Saturday evening the 26th inst., at 7 o'clock, at the Town House, in South Commonwealth avenue. A wedding dinner will immediately follow the ceremony.

Wedding Party

Miss Gretchen Hoehn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoehn of 2410 South Bronson avenue, has chosen the Wee Kirk o' The Heather in Glendale for her marriage Saturday evening to William P. Kennedy. Miss Ruth Broughton will assist as maid of honor, Mrs. Kenneth Bone will be matron of honor. Other attendants include Mrs. Walter Williams, Miss Lorene Ziegler and Mrs. John Mitchell. Thomas Towle will serve as best man and Kenneth Bone, Kenneth Cory, Thomas MacDonald and Homer Smith are to usher.

Among the many prenuptial courtesies extended this popular bride-elect was the kitchen shower given by Mrs. Selma Cory at her home in Harcourt avenue, twenty guests being bidden. On the 9th inst., Mrs. Kenneth Bone gave a bridge and buffet supper for the bridal party and twenty other friends.

Among the boxholders are included Mmes. Francis Edgar Calvin, Florence Kennett Dupee, Frank Yall Moon, Ella Du Berry, Raymond V. Morris, Judah Sears, Paul Wegeforth, E. W. Scripps, James D. McSorley, Messrs. and Mmes. B. R. Aldridge, Frank Belcher, Jr., William Clayton, Walter Fitch, Jr., Frank Godfrey, C. Sterling Judson, Colburn Marston, John P. Mills, E. C. Van Sickle, Irving T. Snyder, Claus Spreckels, Roy Downer Bayly, Mat S. Cohen, G. Aubrey Davidson, Milton E. Getz, Luther Kennett, E. L. Walbridge, John Beisel Smily, Percival Thompson, Col. Milton A. McRae, Miss Gabrielle Morton, Marco Hellman, Capt. and Mrs. George Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Homer C. Oatman, Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lane, Dr. and Mrs. Francis H. Mead, the Silver Gate Riding and Driving Association and the Kentucky Riding Club.

The return of Mrs. Frank Hall Moon and her daughter, Mrs. Claus Spreckels, from Europe ten days ago, has been the incentive for much entertaining. Mrs. G. Aubrey Davidson giving a charmingly appointed luncheon in their honor Tuesday afternoon at Hotel del Coronado.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray G. Brown of South Pasadena with Mr. and Mrs. John A. Austin motored down for the week-end at Hotel del Coronado, and Sunday evening were honor guests at a dinner party given by Miss Harriette G. Hall of San Diego, other guests including Brookes Hayes and Messrs. and Mmes. Ray Johnson, Eddie Simpson and Arthur Lester.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse B. Alexander of the Gaylord, Los Angeles, who are enjoying an extended visit at Hotel del Coronado, gave a dinner Sunnday evening for Miss Alice Halliday, Mrs. Eliza Kendall, George Kendall, Fritzie Kendall and Miss Katherine Kendall.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Howard Hart with their children Maizelle Louise and Dwight, Jr., motored down ten days ago to pass the remainder of the summer at Hotel del Coronado, bringing with them Miss Madeline Wilson, who is the guest of Miss Hart for a week. In honor of her daughter and her guest, Mrs. Hart gave an aquaplaning party on board the motor launch Goorietta, the guests including Judge and Mrs. Timothy I. Fitzpatrick, Dr. and Mrs. Edward J. Morrissey, Miss Yvonne Musto, Joseph and Clarence E. Musto, Jr., Miss Hart, Miss Wilson and Dwight Hart, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Cleves Harrison of Los Angeles motored down for a ten days' outing at Hotel del Coronado, as have also Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pederson and the latter's niece, Mrs. Mildred M. King of Los Angeles, and Wilbur G. Smith of Benton Harbor, Mich., who are on a motor trip through the south, Mrs. Wilmer H. Hammond and son Denton, and sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Loughlin, and niece, Miss Katheryn Loughman.

H. A. Massey, with his sister Mrs. C. R. Clark and Mrs. W. N. Rudd and the latter's daughter Mrs. Norman J. Seim of Chicago, have been passing several days at Hotel del Coronado.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman A. Paddock, with their son and daughter Dexter and Miss Dorothy Paddock, motored down from Pasadena for the week-end and with Mr. and Mrs. John F. Vordermark of Altadena, attended the races at Agua Caliente and were week-end guests at Hotel del Coronado.

Home from Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rothacker of Beverly Hills and their attractive daughter, Miss Virginia Rothacker, have just returned from an eight months' European trip. Miss Rothacker attended school in Paris. Social activities will occupy her time this season and later in the year the family will again plan a jaunt to foreign countries.

Attractive Appointments

The First Methodist Church was the scene of an attractively appointed wedding celebration recently when Miss Dorothy Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard V. Murphy, became the bride of Theron C. Oakes, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Oakes of Walnut Park. The church was decorated with huge baskets of roses and fern and was lighted with tall candles.

Smart simplicity marked the bride's gown, which was an eggshell satin creation. The embroidered bridal veil was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms and the bride carried a shower of pink roses and white sweet peas. Various shades of chiffon were worn by the bride's attendants, who were Miss Esther Mitchell, Miss Kathleen Wise, Miss Audrey Wise, Miss Thelma Bartlett and Miss Ruby Jane Todd. The flower girl was Miss Betty Jane Murphy, who wore pink taffeta. Attending the bridegroom were George Oakes as best man and the ushers, Vincent Lancaster, King Nishkern, John Mitchell and Keith Geysert.

After a brief honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Oakes will be at home at 7110 Stafford avenue, Huntington Park.

At Coronado

All roads will lead to Coronado this week as the third annual Coronado Horse Show, which has become an outstanding event in society circles of the Southland each summer, is scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons on the Coronado Riding Club grounds, sponsored by the club, of which Mrs. Raymond Vincent Morris is president and also chairman of the show committee. The proceeds, as usual, will be devoted to the Coronado Hospital building fund and the Rest Haven Home for Undernourished children.

The outstanding event of the show, of course, is the horse show dinner-dance at Hotel del Coronado Saturday evening, for which more than 500 invitations have been issued. It will take place in the Crown Room, decorations being carried out in the show colors—green and white—the horse show motif being stressed, and favors in keeping with the theme and color motif.

The Junior League of San Diego is arranging for one big dutch treat table, while the Kentucky Riding Club will also have a no-host table, and Miss Betty Godfrey is planning another no-host table for the younger set.

Friday afternoon at the Coronado Country Club there will be a tea, following the opening of the show, and Sunday afternoon Mrs. Morris will keep open house and give an informal supper for members of the horse show committee and exhibitors. Many members of the Coronado colony will entertain during the week, while a round of parties will be given during the exhibition days at Hotel del Coronado.

A Bad Habit

So many housewives think they are saving themselves work by placing a newspaper over the tray underneath the burners of the gas stove, to catch any drippings from the cooking. It is not a good habit for not only does the paper take up the cooking odors, but sometimes the housewife is apt to have a fire when some hot drippings should be spilled on the paper. It is far less trouble to wash off the tray each day.

Dangerous Business

No matter how strongly tempted, never cut a roast with a knife slicing toward the hand holding the fork. It is a very good carver whose knife never slips and you will find a good carver never takes this chance, any way.

SORORITY RUSH TEA HOSTESS

U.C.L.A. Girl to Go on Alaska Cruise

Miss Ruth McClain [Sturgis studios]

ONE of the popular hostesses of recent date is Miss Ruth McClain of 527 North Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, who entertained with a rush tea honoring new members of Alpha Chi chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority at U.C.L.A. The sorority colors of rose and green were used in decorations, with Columbia roses predominating. Assisting the hostess were her mother, Mrs. A. McClain, Mrs. Raymond Brush, and the Misses Mary Ellen Holheisel, Ruth Bristol, Ruth Hester. Miss McClain has been active in the younger social set and has just been honored the second time by being made president of the Junior Beverly Hills Club.

With her mother Miss McClain is leaving today for a three weeks' cruise to Alaska, sailing aboard the Northwestern from Seattle.

ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

FRUIT BEFORE BEDTIME

Many persons enjoy eating small portions of fresh fruit before bedtime and find that this helps them to sleep better and improves the bowel elimination in the morning. The action of the water, cellulose and fruit acids encourages the peristaltic action of the bowels during the night in a mildly stimulating way that is far superior to the use of cathartics.

It is the custom in many foreign countries to east six or eight meals every day, and although I do not advocate overeating, it seems that these people do well, provided the meals are not too large or heavy. Nervous persons often find it helpful to take four or five small meals a day rather than two or three large ones. Whenever more than three meals a day are eaten it is much better to make at least every other one a fruit meal.

The average meal leaves the stomach in about four hours, and for this reason all heavy meals should be spaced at least four or five hours apart. Fruit or fruit juices when used alone leave the stomach more rapidly. For this reason, when one is on a fruit juice or other liquid diet it is equally advisable to take the feedings at exact intervals of two or three hours apart.

Those who feel an appetite between meals or at night may use one kind of fresh fruit without injury. This is much better than filling up on sandwiches or sweets between meals. A very fine after-theater snack is just to use a slice of watermelon or cantaloupe a la mode rather than a lobster Newberg, so difficult to digest.

The fresh fruits should be used in season. Not only are they least expensive, but are most wholesome and flavorable at the height of the crop. Melons, cherries, apricots, grapes, peaches, berries, loquats, figs, plums, etc., are now abundant, and you should take advantage of their healthful food values.

It should be remembered that fruit is taken best by itself and not with a meal containing heavier foods. The acid of fruit never seems to combine well with the starchy mixtures of an ordinary meal, and when used together fermentation begins. Yet, on the other hand, eating plenty of fruit is a healthful habit, and we all seem to like the juicy fresh fruit in the summertime.

The best plan is to make a meal of fruit by itself. Those who have an appetite at night may use fruit with no fear of harm, but this should not be sooner that about three or four hours after dinner. This is a much better way to fill up late at night than to raid the icebox. Another good plan for the warm days is to use only some of the fresh acid fruits for lunch.

This has a cleansing and cooling action on the blood stream, and as the fruit juice and fruit leaves the stomach rapidly it is all right to use a little more in the afternoon, preferably of the same kind of fruit, permitting at least an hour to elapse before the evening meal.

Get into the habit of helping yourself to some fruit before going to bed, if you are hungry. It is a good health habit if you follow the instructions which I have just outlined.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

ROCK COD AND CABBAGE LORRAINE

Cut a small cabbage in quarters, remove the core and boil rapidly for ten minutes, then drain. Remove the bone from a medium-sized rock cod and cut in small pieces. Place a layer of the cooked cabbage in a casserole dish, over this a layer of the uncooked fish. Season with salt and pepper and repeat until the dish is full, with the cabbage for the last layer. Pour over all a half a cupful of meat stock, or use the same amount of water to which four tablespoonfuls of butter has been added. Cover tightly and bake one hour in a moderate oven.

STRAWBERRY COCKTAIL

One-fourth cupful of grape pulce, one-fourth cupful of fresh strawberry juice, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, two tablespoonfuls of honey, ons tablespoonful of sugar, one-half cupful of White Rock water. Mix the ingredients thoroughly in a cocktail shaker. Place in glasses finely crushed ice, pour the mixture over it, place a piece of mint and two or three whole strawberries in each glass and serve at once.

LEMON CREAM PIE

Four eggs, seven-eighths of a cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of butter, one-third of a cupful of lemon juice, two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar. Beat the yolks of the eggs, and add to them the sugar and the lemon juice. Place in a double boiler and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and dry, remove the mixture from the fire and beat in half of the egg whites. Place the mixture in a baked pastry shell, add the powdered sugar to the remaining egg whites, and place on top of the pie. Return to a cool oven and brown slowly for twenty-five minutes.

ICED BANANA SOUP

Mash four bananas and press them through a fine sieve. Measure and add to them twice their quantity of cold milk, add sugar to taste, a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, and two tablespoonfuls of grated orange rind. Place the mixture in a double boiler, and when the boiling point is reached, add two teaspoonfuls of cornstarch, that has been diluted with one tablespoonful of cold milk. Cook for five minutes longer, allow the mixture to cool, then place in the refrigerator. Serve in bouillion cups, adding to each a few of the green cherries.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Practical Thoughts

A drop-leaf table saves space when the kitchen is small.

Beat the blankets gently after washing and drying to make them soft and fluffy.

When brass articles are not in use, they should be wrapped in newspaper with small bags of camphor attached to them, to prevent tarnishing.

If you should run short of ice over the week-end, add two teaspoonfuls of limewater to each pint of milk you are keeping and it will stay sweet over this short time.

When opening a cocoa or baking powder can, first tap the can on the table a few times on the bottom. Then remove label and open and you will have no waste in spilling.

Well Planned

Plan your days so that you will save as many steps as possible. For instance, on Monday morning when the doorbell is constantly ringing, let your upstairs work go until afternoon and do all jobs possible down on the first floor, even to preparing the things for your evening meal. If you figure out the people you know are going to ring the bell, arrange your work to save as many trips downstairs as possible by being down there.

Appetite Takers

If small sweet crackers, cookies and pretzels were bought less in households where there are children, there would be less wonder as to why small son or daughter never eats a good dinner. Eating these small things is ruinous to a child's appetite and digestion.

Preparedness

The wise housewife has a stock of lemons, a batch of root beer or gingerale always on hand. Then she does not have to send out for the more expensive ice cream for refreshments every time unexpected guests call.

Can You Do Your Housework?

If you are not as well as you want to be, if you are weak, nervous or rundown, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. Take at least three bottles. It will tone up your whole system and help you to eat better, sleep better and feel better.

Mrs. Maria Vriesenga, 2002 Lexington Ave., New York, New York.

"My work is keeping a rooming house in New York. I was weak and tired and didn't seem to feel well at all. Some friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it four times a day. It has helped me very much, I feel better in all ways now."

Ask Your Friend

Mrs. Paulina Pascuzzi, 316 Tremont Ave., East Orange, New Jersey.

"I never had any appetite and I could not sleep well. I was irregular and often suffered from headaches because of my age. I read a booklet left at my door, and so I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and have also taken the Herb Medicine. I feel stronger in every way now. I have gained weight and am not nearly so nervous and can do my housework without getting too tired."

Edna Sturaff, 1129 Daly St., Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

"I was completely run-down from nursing. I took three bottles of your medicine with very good results. I have been a nurse for twenty years and without losing a patient, I am proud to say. I will continue to recommend any of the Lydia E. Pinkham products at any time you may use my name."

Novelties, Ideas, and Suggestions

By OLIVE GRAY

There's something very personal about our old apple tree. It makes me think of an elderly bachelor or maid, trying to keep pace with the younger generation. Brought here from the East, a mere switch, the tree flourished, but never could quite understand our climatic conditions, so never could catch up with the seasons. Remaining in leaf too late—awaiting frosts—it blossomed too late, and becoming more confused, as the years passed, it now displays fruit, new leaves, bursting buds, all at once and in its too strenuous endeavors, fails all around as a fruit tree. But it still gives forth shade—still is a personality, despite its age—youthful striving.

Was Fun

Attending that great sale, in the Broadway store, now emphasizing the abilities of its department stores, became a study not only in merchandise values, but of personalities. Every section of the big store was swarming with bargain-seekers; and it was a time for display of fashion—or the reverse, upon all counts. In that section where carpets were offered, it was amusing to watch the abandon with which well-dressed women climbed over huge piles of rugs, carpets stacked like cordwood! Enjoying something which aroused her interest a woman with arms full of small rugs would make a graceful dive or, rather, climb, for the pile rising beyond the rug-ped hill—without losing a patient, I am proud to say. I will continue to recommend any of the Lydia E. Pinkham products at any time you may use my name."

Here

It was here that tables, marked down prices of all decorative conceits elicited much attention; provoked, after all our talks about "times," people still can afford to buy without actual use. Remarkable offerings in art objects were there, and many a Christmas gift went home, there to rest until the eventful holiday time. "I am not enough here," said one shopper to me, "to buy everything for this Christmas dinner; and I feel that actually earning money," she chuckled as if challenging.

New Beverage Sets

For service at the bridge affair, those new beverage sets are intriguing. The tall glasses and the plates on which they stand are emblemed in the card signs — hearts, clubs, spades, diamonds, in natural colors. Plates are of sufficient size to accommodate the sandwiches, as well as to hold the glasses. These are in soft shades of green, amber, rose. Excellent hostess gifts, they make.

Ramekins

On the warm mornings when appetite flags, any viand served in ramekins takes on interest. Those little brown dishes, either with handles or plain, are good for cooking the egg, the food more delicate when set in a pan of water for poaching. There is something so inviting about an individual dish, the food seeming to have been personally savored thereby.

Face to Face

She was alighting from an elevator, in that big store, as I was about to enter, when we collided. "Beg pardon," said I. "Well," she remarked, "we must be twins! Where did you get yours?" a glance at her ensemble, explained; for we were wearing identical costumes. "I bought mine in Chicago," she continued, "and it is an excellent traveling costume." "And I found mine here," I replied; and we smiled very sisterly, as we said "adieu"—acquainted by means of our frocks, even though not informed as to each other's names. I always did say that the West begins at Chicago; for, east of there, persons would not even nod, were they drowning in the same river, but in the dear, informal West it is different. I dare speak as one speaks of one's own family, being of both East and West.

Hammered Teakettle

Made from a metal which looks like aluminum, or like the more aristocratic pewter, new teakettles are hammered in an effect of the hammered silver hollow-ware now so popular. To consort with the new and beautiful cooking ranges, one really could not endure to have anything less lovely than they, by way of utensils, and these new teakettles make a strong appeal.

Clamp-Ons

Those book-reading lamps, so very convenient, when attached to the edge of one's book, now come in colors—the metallic parts enameled in pastel tones to match the furnishings of the room. That these are in that great sale, now progressing, will afford opportunity to many who have had these lamps upon the always-wanted list.

New Hand-Bag

With the tailored vogue bidding fair to continue throughout the fall and winter, the new hand-bags in tweed are notable. New numbers come in larger sizes, making for practicality, and for still further good use, are finished along the flaps and all edges with wide bands of bright, finely polished brass.

Convict Sued by Girl Wife

Some women marry their husbands to reform them, but Mrs. Mildred Bell, 18 years of age, married hers to keep him from going to prison, she asserts in her divorce complaint against Wilfred Bell, on file yesterday.

On September 29, 1928, Bell was sentenced to serve one to fifty years for an attack, and two days later he convinced his [illegible], at that time 16 years of age, that if she married him, he would not have to go to prison. Six months later, however, after pleas for probation and appeals to higher courts had failed, Bell was sent to San Quentin.

Bernice Triggs acted as Mrs. Bell's guardian, she being under age, and an orphan.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

BLACKY'S VENTURESOME SON

The ones who have the greatest need
For good advice are last to heed.
—Blacky the Crow.

There is a great difference in children. Yes, sir, there is a very great difference in children. Some are naturally timid; some are naturally bold; some are naturally obedient; some are naturally disobedient; some think they know all there is to know. Seldom will you find two children alike in any family. Perhaps this is just as well.

Blacky the Crow and Mrs. Blacky this year had a little larger family than usual. Usually they had four children, but this year they had five; and, as Blacky said, the fifth one made more trouble than the other four put together. From the time he was big enough to get into trouble it seemed as if he were in trouble most of the time. You see, he was a venturesome youngster. He wasn't content just to eat and sleep. It seems as if he just had to be squirming about, even when he was a very little fellow. Being what he was, he always got his full share of food, and sometimes a little more. The result was that he grew a little faster than his brothers and sisters.

There came a time when the five young Crows somewhat crowded the nest that was built for four. They filled it to a point where it looked as if they might fall out. Mother Crow warned them that they must keep quiet or one of them would fall.

"If one of you should fall out," said she, "you not only would have a bad fall, but somebody might catch you and eat you, for on the ground you would be helpless."

When Mother Crow had gone to look for more food the venturesome young Crow poked his head over the side and watched her until she was out of sight. Then he got up on the edge of the nest.

"Look out, or you'll fall!" said one of his brothers. "You heard what Mother said."

"Yes," said the venturesome young Crow. "I heard. She was just trying to scare us. I'm not afraid. I believe I could fly if I really tried. It looks very interesting down below. I would rather like to go down there and see what is to be seen."

Blacky the Crow and Mrs. Blacky this year had a little larger family than usual

"You'd better not do it until mother says you can," spoke up his timid sister.

The venturesome young Crow didn't reply. He had suddenly discovered something of great interest, and he was stretching over the edge of the nest as far as he could, in order that he might see better. That something was Farmer Brown's Boy That Crow was so young that he had never even heard of these two-legged creatures of whom his father and mother were always so suspicious.

Farmr Brown's Boy was looking up at the nest. He saw the venturesome young Crow. He also saw how full the nest was. "Blacky must have some family this year," said Farmer Brown's Boy to himself. "Those young Crows must be almost ready to fly. I have a notion to take one of them for a pet. A young Crow is a lot of fun. I believe I'll climb up there."

But Farmer Brown's Boy didn't have to climb up there. The venturesome young Crow was leaning so far over the edge of the nest to watch Farmer Brown's Boy that when one of his brothers accidentally pushed him a little he lost his balance, and the next moment down he went, vainly flapping his wings, and landed almost at the feet of Farmer Brown's Boy.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope should be sent to this office with your letter for a personal reply.

This department offers helpful talks on weaning and feeding the baby, child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, benefits of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, nursery children, prune juice, lime water, fractures, straightening and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your question has already been covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

DON'T FORCE CHILD TO ACCEPT ATTENTIONS FROM STRANGERS

"Why is my baby so afraid of strangers?" "What makes Mary so timid?" The ambition of most parents is to have baby smile sweetly in the arms of any stranger, as a subtle compliment to the stranger, or to have the small child curtsey politely, say "How do you do," and vanish to be seen and heard no more. This always elicits the response, "What a lovely child!"

Wonderful, ideal, and not easily accomplished. The usual baby lifts his voice in frenzied resentment when anyone takes him from his crib or the arms of his mother, while the older child scurries for cover, or humiliates her mother by "showing off" without a glance at the stranger. If children were dolls it might be otherwise, but being children, they act in this way.

FUSSING UNWELCOME

The small baby protests because the affectionate adult cannot wait until baby is accustomed to his strange presence and is willing to be picked up and fussed over. Instead, she grabs him and hugs him in a manner that would frighten anyone. We might erect a sign at every baby's crib (to save the mother the embarrassment of voicing it,) "Don't touch me. I don't enjoy it." For while baby appreciates being handled and played with by those he likes, he has nothing but fear for strange people.

The older child needs the constant training of pleasant experiences to allay his fears. If the adults he meets demand no more time and attention than it takes to respond to the greeting, "How are you?" the child will not build up any fear of them. But most children's experiences with strangers are sufficient to encourage their timidity—if, for example, company means a demand that the child "act" or "speak" or play "his piece," or if motherly souls insist on hugging the child and planting moist kisses on the back of her neck. If only one strange man has been guilty of placing the child on his knee and forcibly holding her there he has poisoned her forever against strange men.

BE CONSIDERATE OF CHILD

Adults have too little regard for the emotions of children. Few children enjoy being "made over" by strangers, no matter how closely they may be related or how friendly to their parents. The child is an individual whose own likes and dislikes should be respected. Because he is small and easily captured and restrained, there is no excuse at all for taking such unfair advantage of him, for merely a momentary gratification to the adult's vanity. Adults take pride in being "liked" by children, and they will be if they just have sense enough to let the child grow used to their presence. Then the most timid child, if unnoticed and allowed to bask in a friendly presence, will soon be slipping a shy hand into that of the stranger.

Select His Menu

In one family of several children each child is permitted to order the dinner on his or her birthday. It makes just one more interesting bit of fun for that day.

More Economy

One housewife crochets her own dishcloths out of white cord that comes around bundles. The coarser cords she uses for cloths for pots and pans.

BANDIT FOILED BY BANK HEAD

Would-be Robber Caught in Burbank Hold-up

Three Other Similar Crimes Laid to Prisoner

Victims Identify Him as Long-Sought Crook

Captured in an asserted attempt to hold up the Bank of Italy branch at Burbank yesterday, Clyde Alvin Dutro, 42 years of age, was last night identified as the "note bandit" who had successfully held up and robbed three other Los Angeles banks.

Locked up in Central Police Station, Dutro will be confronted today by other possible victims.

Those who identified him yesterday are David A. Gosset, cashier of the branch of the Security-First National Bank at 743 South Main street, which was held up August 14, 1929, and robbed of $3000; H. W. Stockfish, cashier of the branch of the Citizens' National Bank at 1151 North Western avenue, which lost $3000 in a hold-up March 11, last, and A. G. Knudsen, cashier of the Citizens' National Bank branch at 3433 Leimert Park Place, who charged Dutro with having committed a hold-up there recently, taking $500.

In all these robberies the note method of advising victims not to be "heroes" but to pass over the money quietly was employed.

It was also the method which Dutro is accused of having attempted at the Burbank branch of the Bank of Italy. He had passed a note to President Taylor of the branch demanding $3800, but he made the mistake of taking the hand in which he was supposed to be holding a revolver out of his pocket and revealing it to be empty. Thereupon President Taylor covered him with his own revolver and held him for the police.

County Division Plans Proposed at Conference

LONG BEACH, July 23. (Exclusive)—A proposal to divide Los Angeles county into two or more smaller counties with the addition of some territory from adjoining counties was advanced tonight at a meeting of the Los Angeles County Citizens' Committee at the Breakers Hotel.

Another proposal under discussion at the meeting was one for a reorganization of the present county government with the provision of a new charter which would curtail the powers of the Supervisors. Another suggested the adoption of the borough system and a fourth was for the adoption of a district plan similar in scope to the divisions of the Federal government, having a central county governing body.

About thirty-five attended the meeting, including representatives from Glendale, South Gate and Artesia. Mayor Porter of Los Angeles gave a brief address.

California Has Lion's Share of Congress' Gifts

"In the halls and corridors of Congress it has been a common comment and even complaint that California was the luckiest State in the Union when the good things of the last Congress were passed around," declared Congressman W. E. Evans of the Ninth District, speaker at the Breakfast Club yesterday morning, "and the legislative labors of the last ten years have all at once culminated in the bestowal of Federal projects that are bound to be reflected in the progress and prosperity of California during the next ten years and longer."

Herbert R. Macmillan, president of the California Oil and Gas Producers' Association, also spoke, commenting upon the importance to the general prosperity of peace in the oil industry, which last year sold and paid taxes upon 1,200,000,000 gallons of gasoline in California. J. L. Ewing, New Orleans and Shreveport newspaper publisher, presented the regrets of Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley of New Orleans, scheduled speaker, whose father died Tuesday evening at his residence, 862 South Catalina street.

Coast 'Ad' Clubs' Headquarters to be Moved Here

Headquarters of the Pacific Advertising Clubs' Association will be moved to Los Angeles from Spokane, effective immediately, according to the announcement made by Herman Nater, president of the Coast association, today.

PHIL BATTELLE.

"It is customary for the association headquarters to be maintained in the city in which the president and secretary reside," stated Nater. "It is particularly fitting that this section of the Pacific Coast should be the center of advertising activities for the coming twelve months."

The appointment of Phil Battelle as executive secretary of the advertising association also was announced, to take effect Friday, when the new officers assume office for the 1930-31 period.

The association is composed of thirty advertising clubs located in California, Oregon, Washington, Hawaii, Vancouver, B. C., Utah and Idaho. It has a background of twenty-seven years' successful operation.

Hospital Case Hearing Today

Specific charges of disloyalty and insubordination against Dr. Anna S. Hohanshelt, recently dismissed from the medical staff of the General Hospital, and her answer to them, will be aired at 2 p.m. today at a public hearing granted her by the Los Angeles County Civil Service Commission. The hearing was set following the doctor's appeal from her dismissal by Dr. N. N. Wood, superintendent of the hospital.

In dismissing Dr. Hohanshelt from the staff of the General hospital, Dr. Wood accused her of disloyalty, insubordination and refusing to co-operate with other members of the staff. In her answer to the charges Dr. Hohanshelt criticises the business administration of the hospital and accuses Dr. Wood of removing her as chief resident physician in order to make a place for an old army friend.

TWO WOMEN HURT IN AUTO COLLISION

LONG BEACH, July 23. (Exclusive)—Mrs. E. L. Tuck, 725 North Main street, Baldwin Park, and Mrs. A. H. Harscher, 326½ North Jackson street, Glendale, were treated for severe lacerations at the Seaside Hospital here last night, received when the car in which they were riding was struck by another driven by Oscar Lindstrom of Wilmington. Wilmington police, who investigated the accident, which was on West Anaheim street near the viaduct, said that Lindstrom's car crashed into the car carrying the two women, which was driven by Ben A. Hogue, 329 North Jackson street, Glendale.

THEFT OF JEWELS CHARGED TO MAID

PASADENA, July 23 (Exclusive)—Miss Edna Blackman, 35 years of age, was arrested tonight in front of the Y.W.C.A., where she lives, on charges of having stolen jewels valued at $3000, Mrs. W. G. Brady, complainant, today visited her sister, Mrs. Laura B. Sauters at Hermosa Beach, where Miss Blackman had been employed as a maid until this morning, when she was discharged. Mrs. Brady left her jewels on the dresser when she went swimming and Miss Blackman is accused of having taken them.

SON OF JACK DOYLE PLANNING TO MARRY

Allan James Doyle, 24 years of age, son of Jack Doyle, fight promoter, appeared at the Marriage License Bureau yesterday, and announced his intention of wedding Miss Frances Ruth Flowers, 19, who lives at 310 Twenty-fifth street, Santa Monica. MIDGET GOLF COURSES CALLED BOON AND BANE

Miniature golf courses, which have sprung up in the past few weeks like weeds in a garden patch, were pictured both as boons to the community and intolerable nuisances, by citizens appearing yesterday afternoon before the Police and Fire Committee of the City Council.

The hearing was conducted on a resolution offered by Councilman Webster suggesting that some closing hour be fixed.

The committee will draw up a report within a few days, recommending the enactment of an ordinance governing the courses, and submit it to the Council, according to Councilman Martin, chairman of the committee. The other members, Councilman Ingram and Williams, seemed to be in agreement with the chairman that some action must be taken.

Several representatives of the small courses addressed the committee in opposition to any action. The principal argument advanced by them was that if the neighbors of the courses dislike their late hours, lights and noise, they can go to the courts and seek an injunction. Several of the residents pointed out the difficulties connected with this mode of procedure.

Noise, lights, cursing, yelling and drinking were some of the faults found with the courses by speakers asking for action. The contention was made that some courses operate for the benefit of intoxicated parties until 4 and 5 a.m. while the orderly crowds leave before midnight.

FEMININE FISTICUFFS END IN ACTIONS FOR DAMAGES

Feminine conflict of a violent type by women and against women on assertions of bodily injury following spirited physical encounters, resulted in two damage suits on file in Superior Court yesterday. In one instance a woman attorney filed the suit.

Miss Janice Daniel exercised the prerogative of her sex and changed her mind after giving Miss Catherine Grayson, wealthy apartment-house owner, a $5 deposit on the rent, it is asserted in her $30,005 claim against Miss Grayson. Besides refusing to return the money, Miss Grayson kicked and bit the plaintiff, it is charged, saying the $5 was earned in showing the apartment to the plaintiff.

Miss Daniel's suit was filed by Attorney Jenny H. Monten.

The other suit included a $240 dentist's bill caused, it is asserted, when Mrs. Elisabeth Biro slugged Mrs. Hermine d'Daniel, her fellow-worker in a Spring street cafe, on June 8, last. Mrs. d'Daniel charges her opponent struck her without provocation, cut her cheek and broke off three teeth. The total amount demanded is $10,240.

RADIO OF VAST POWER SOUGHT

Westinghouse Asks Permit to Use 400,000 Watts

Station Would be Devoted to Experimental Work

Feast of Music Scheduled by KHJ for Today

The Times Forum, 1:30 p.m., KHJ. Fred Hogue, editorial staff writer, on "The Wonderland of New Mexico."

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Broadcasting on unlimited power is contemplated by experimenters, it is indicated by an application filed with the Federal Radio Commission by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company for authority to erect a transmitter having a power of 400,000 watts, eight times the strength regularly used by any broadcast station now operating in the United States.

A 200,000-watt station has been operated experimentally by the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N. Y., for several months for the purpose of solving a number of the problems which still defy research. Regular operation on 100,000 watts is being carried on by a station in Italy, credited with being the highest powered station in the world.

DOTS ON DIAL TODAY

KHJ at 7 o'clock tonight will find Columbia's "Dream Boat" drifting in with Tschaikowsky's "Romance" as part of the musical cargo. Mignan's "Adoration" and Hartman's "Wiegenlied" also will be heard. At 7:15 this evening, Heywood Broun, New York columnist, is to be featured. For those who like crooning, KHJ at 7:30 will offer thirty minutes of this type of entertainment, opening with the "Missouri Waltz," and including Bob Swan and the organ in "The Sheik" and closing with a trio and orchestral rendition of "They Cut Down the Old Pine Tree." Music and songs are to go wild with the advent of the Merrymakers at 8 o'clock, tossing into the arena of the air Ted White with his "Swinging in a Hammock," the debut of Bud Hyde, playing "Thank Your Father," and even Tammany's old political song, not to mention "Wah' Wah' Girl in Agua Caliente." Nell and Wesley Tourtellotte will present a comedy duo offering entitled "Turkish Towel." "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" with a theremin and orchestra will be another highlight. At 9 tonight there will be soft, soothing classic music and song featuring Hulda Dietz in Brahms's "Lullaby," the orchestra in "Kiddie Capers" and "Red Mill" selections, and Irl Hunsaker in "Pale Hands I Love." Following this at 9:30 a half-hour will be devoted to the Singing Strings—with promise of a "beautiful and restful" period.

RADIO VICTOR HOUR

KFI at 6 p.m. will bring Radio Victor Hour with Johnny Marvin, vaudeville entertainer. A program of lively dance numbers is to be included—not to mention fifteen minutes of the works of Percy Grainger. A salon arrangement of "Alice Blue Gown" will be rendered by the Victor Dance Orchestra. Lovers of symphony music are advised to dial at 7:45 for the Standard Symphony Hour. The theme will be legends and fairy tales. Mishel Piastro is to conduct and the numbers will include the "Bacchanal" from "Samson and Delilah," Gounod's "Funeral March of a Marionette" and Dvorak's much loved "Humoresque." Two other concert programs are to be heard, at 9:30 and 10:30, embracing the compositions and songs of Verdi, Massenet, Chaminade and Kreisler. Rose Dirman, soprano, will be guest soloist.

KECA at 5 tonight is to bring Charlotte Cushman, actress, as guest of honor, besides an attractive musical repertoire on the Birthday Party half-hour. Happy Chappies at 7:45 will offer "Songs of Tomorrow."

BREAKFAST CLUB FETE

KNX will whip the sun up this morning at 6:15 with a frolic from the Breakfast Club. Noted musicians, composers and singers will be introduced, including Marie Mikova, Tudor Williams, Mary Fabian and Vera Barstow. There should be a feast of music here. Horse Fly and His Wranglers are to be at it again at 8:08 tonight with more songs and chatter of the wide open spaces. The Nomads at 9 will take listeners-in to India and promise many strange sights.

KMTR at 8 tonight will bring another Pacific Coast League night baseball game from Wrigley Field. After the game a remote control program from the Venice ballroom should bother the radio fans.

KTM has a tangled Frankie and Johnnie in Africa tonight at 10:30. Just a couple of boys trying to get along.

KFWB at 9 tonight will feature Lewis Meehan, tenor, with Ray Martinez's Strings and Bows in thirty minutes of semiclassic composition —while 9:30 is to bring "The Engineer's Child" and the title suggests something funny.

Voronoff Gives Gland Lecture

Dr. Serge Voronoff, noted French surgeon, yesterday explained to a group of Los Angeles surgeons and veternarians the technique of his famous gland operation in a lecture at the County Hospital chapel, which was illustrated with motion pictures.

The surgeon displayed photographs of animal subjects of his operation which has been used to lengthen the life and increase the vitality of live stock. He said that experiments conducted with both sheep and cattle indicated that bulls and rams after receiving the gland treatment yielded an additional 25 per cent in weight.

Dr. Voronoff also denied published reports that he is a citizen of Vienna and explained that he is a Frenchman, although born in Ruasia.

The surgeon will go to San Francisco today to lecture to physicians there and will return to France after a tour of the United States.

OFFICER SHOOTS FLEEING BANDIT

Prisoner Brought Down on Crowded Broadway

Youth Breaks Away from Detective in Cafe

Dash for Liberty Made After Robbery Confession

Hundreds of motorists and pedestrians were spectators of a shooting at First street and Broadway shortly after noon yesterday when Jack Yellvington, 19 years of age, confessed shoe-store bandit, made a desperate but unsuccessful attempt to escape from the custody of Detective Lieutenant Eddie Nolan of the police robbery squad. Yellvington, after dodging through traffic from the west side of Broadway, was brought down by a bullet from the detective's revolver which struck him in the back and lodged in his shoulder. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where his condition is reported critical.

Yellvington was captured by Traffic Officer Gee and M. Elliot, a clerk, within a few minutes after he had held up Elliot in the Alexandria Shoe Shop at 214 West Fifth street Monday afternoon.

TAKEN TO LUNCH

Yesterday he was questioned by Nolan and admitted, according to Nolan, two other robberies. Immediately after the asserted confession was made Nolan took the youth to lunch at a cafe on Broadway, near First street, and right around the corner from Central Police Station.

Nolan reported that, as he was paying the bill, Yellvington swerved to one side and dashed through the front door. Dodging pedestrians on the sidewalks he leaped into the street and ran swiftly in a diagonal direction across Broadway. Nolan and Detective Lieutenant Harper rushed out after him. As he reached the car tracks Nolan whipped out his revolver and fired. He stated he shot into the air three times and then leveled his weapon at the fleeing prisoner.

Witnesses stated he fired each time directly at the escaping man and that the bullets, narrowly missing by-standers, struck in buildings on the east side of the street. One of the pellets smashed a store window.

LARGE CROWD FORMS

Within a few moments after Yellvington dropped hundreds of citizens jammed the street intersection and a squad of uniformed officers from Central Station was rushed to the scene to disperse the crowd. The Central Station ambulance whisked around the corner, cut a lane through the crowd and pulled up to where the prisoner lay. Nolan and Harper lifted him into the vehicle and took him to the hospital.

In his asserted confession Yellvington admitted holding up a shoe store at 119 East Sixth street last Friday and the Kleinman Drug Company store at 1900 South Main street the day following. In the last robbery, he admits, according to the detectives, that he fired a shot into the ceiling to frighten his victims.

Police records show that Yellvington was sent to Ione Reformatory last February after being arrested for robbery, and that he was released later on his promise to return to his father in Arkansas. This promise he failed to keep.

Garet Garrett Continues Ill

No change was noted yesterday in the condition of Garet Garrett, magazine writer and newspaper editor, who is at the Good Samaritan Hospital suffering from what is believed to be an attack of indigestion.

If this diagnosis is confirmed by another day of observation and he improves as rapidly as expected, it was said yesterday at the hospital that he will be able to leave within two or three days to resume his tour of the West with George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post.

BERMAN'S TRIAL WILL END TODAY

Defense Loses Motion for Dismissal and Last Arguments Begun

Trial of Jacob Berman, charged with forgery and embezzlement arising out of the charges against the defendant. Hill then rested the defense case and proceeded with his argument. He was followed by H. S. G. McCartney, deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case. McCartney will finish his argument sometime this morning. The case will then be submitted to Judge Schauer for decision, as it is being tried without a jury.

Negro Doctor Put on Staff

For the first time in the history of the Los Angeles County General Hospital a colored physician will be a member of the medical staff.

This became known yesterday in the announcement at the office of Supervisor Shaw, chairman of the committee on hospitals and welfare of the Board of Supervisors, that Dr. Leonard Stovall, 1161 East Twelfth street, had been given an emergency appointment as an attending physician on the service of tuberculosis in Unit No. 1 of the General Hospital. The appointment was made by Dr. N. N. Wood, superintendent.

Dr. Stovall was educated in the public schools here and later graduated from the medical department of the University of California.

RESOURCES MOUNT FOR GUARANTY LOAN

Guaranty Building and Loan Association yesterday entered the $12,000,000 class of building-loan institutions when its resources reached the high level of $12,222,309.44, Gilbert H. Beesemyer, secretary-manager, announced. Reflecting improved business conditions, savings accounts in the Guaranty registered an increase of $760,477.64 during the last thirty days, the banner month in the history of the institution, Mr. Beesemyer declared. Resources of Guaranty on June 30, 1929, were $9,492,650. The combined increase in savings accounts of the Guaranty and affiliated associations between June 23 and the 19th inst. totaled $1,374,087.53.

"SAL-THE-SITTER" BRINGS CHAMPIONSHIP TO CITY

At one minute after 9 p.m. last night, Salvador C. Scarpitta, Jr., more widely known as "Sal-the-Sitter," 11 years of age, of 2684 North Beechwood Drive, Hollywoodland, brought to California the world's record for endurance tree sitting. At that time he had passed by sixty seconds the former record of 156 hours, held by a lad in Kansas City.

"All the other fellows may as well come down right now," Sal-the-Sitter said, "because I'm going to stay up here until all the other fellows who are up now have come down. And, if necessary, I'm going to spend my whole vacation up here.

"Of course, I am not competing with boys who are making a 'duo' out of it. I'm doing it solo, just like Lindbergh did when he flew across the ocean."

Reports last night from the other entrants in the endurance tree-sitting contest showed that at 6 p.m. Donald Ainsworth, 11 years of age, of 2003 Vista Del Mar, had seventy-four and one-half hours to his credit and was still going strong. Rupert Everett and James Meek, the 15-year-old boys from Port Arthur, Tex., who came all the way to California to climb a tree, passed their fifty-third hour aloft at 1063 West Thirty-ninth Place. They are the only duo team in the city.

The youngest and latest entrant in the race, Clyde John Miller, 8, of 3842 South Gramercy Place, was sitting comfortably in his perch last night with eight hours to his credit.

ANTI-SHULER MEETING TO DRAW MANY

Loud-Speaking System Will be Used at Gathering Tomorrow Night

Installation of the loud-speaker system throughout the Olympic Auditorium for a mass meeting tomorrow night, when speakers will discuss the activities of Rev. R. P. Shuler in the political and social life of the city was announced yesterday by the committee in charge.

Indications that the meeting will be attended by a great number were announced by Leo B. Lesperance, temporary secretary of the gathering, who said he has received many calls from delegations and individuals who promised co-operation.

No seats will be reserved, according to the announcement, but groups from organizations will be placed together if previous arrangements are made. No admission will be charged and no collection taken, Lesperance said, in outlining a short program of music and addresses.

Reports that many of those giving assurance of their interest in the mass meeting are willing to do everything but allow the use of their names in connection with the gathering were made by City Prosecutor Nix, in a statement yesterday on the meeting tomorrow night.

"I can understand this attitude," said Nix, "and I don't in the least blame anybody for this fear. The dread of being smeared with unspeakable insinuations, based on falsehoods and twisted, distorted statements, is a legitimate apprehension.

"The fight against Shulerism," as Nix terms the mass meeting purpose, "is not in any sense a fight against free speech. I hold that every living person has the right to such expression of thoughts and ideas as is consistent with decency. But I do not think that the freedom of speech includes the unwarranted invasion of privacy by innuendo, or in the guise of political or public discussion."

Speaking over the air last night, State Senator Rochester became a third member of the radio word war which has been under way between Nix and Shuler since the murder of Motley Flint.

Senator Rochester, using the broadcasting facilities of KMTR, devoted thirty minutes to "Observations on Bob Shuler" and criticised Shuler for the manner in which he uses the period allowed him by the Federal Radio Commission.

"We should all be proud of Los Angeles," Rochester said in part. "We should be very proud of the great progress we have made. We have 100 churches here, where twenty years ago we did not have ten. The campaign that Dr. Shuler is conducting and has been carrying on over the radio for the past several years never built a church, never built an orphan asylum, never built a hospital. His campaign is entirely a destructive one."

Headgear Lands Theft Suspect in Police Net

A flaming red cap that would make a scarlet tanager seem pale pink by comparison yesterday proved the undoing of Jack Otto, 18 years of age, of Seattle, who says his father is a Los Angeles minister. Due entirely to the garish headpiece, Otto landed in jail booked as a fugitive on suspicion of grand theft, suspicion of forgery and for violation of Section 146, California Motor Vehicle Act, or driving a car without the owner's consent.

Several days ago Capt. Cullen, head of the auto theft detail, received advices from the North that "a man with a red cap" had stolen a car in Seattle and another in Redwood City, where he also cashed some spurious checks, and that he was believed headed this way. Capt. Cullen instructed his men to keep watch for the carmine cap. Yesterday Detective Lieutenants Greetan and Burdick were cruising along Temple street when they "spotted" a dazzling object three blocks away. It proved to be a red cap and under it was Otto.

At headquarters, the officers say, the youth admitted all charges, explaining he had wrecked the first stolen car against a tree north of Redwood City. He attributed his downfall to a desire to see the world "from a driver's seat."

POISON DAMAGE SUIT FILED AGAINST DOCTOR

Because a physician left with a patient three [illegible] tablets, with no directions for their use, it is asserted, David Varella, and his infant daughter, Jacqueline, yesterday filed suit for $50,000 against Dr. Ewing Brown. The complaint asserts that the tablets were used improperly by Mrs. Aurora Varella, who died as a result on May 28, last.

FALL MAY CAUSE DEATH

Mrs. Mary Flynn, 26 years of age, yesterday was injured perhaps fatally when she missed her footing and plunged down a flight of stairs in her home at 3747 South Vermont avenue. Surgeons fear she has a broken back. She is at Queen of the Angels Hospital, where she was removed after emergency treatment at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

ROBBERS GET DOPE HAUL

Records of Narcotic Addicts Checked in Hunt for Perpetrators of Drug-Store Burglary

Fingerprints of scores of known drug addicts are being checked by Expert Frank Gompert of the Sheriff's office in an attempt to solve the burglary of the Ethical Drug Company's store at 5653 Whittier Boulevard early yesterday. Morphine, codine sulphate and other narcotics valued at more than $1000 were reported stolen from a safe after the burglars had gained entrance by cutting a hole in the wall from an adjoining building.

Deputy sheriffs investigating the robbery learned that the burglars first had entered and ransacked the office of Dr. George R. Hartshorn next door, where they failed to find what they were seeking. It was then that they dug through the wall into the pharmacy. Safety razor blades, $25 in cash and other merchandise also were reported taken. The theft was discovered by Omer H. King, a clerk, when he opened the store in the morning.

Alfred M. Guy, who operates a restaurant at 1058 North La Brea avenue, reported the theft of $15, a large quantity of cigarettes and a small quantity of food by burglars who cut a screen in the rear.

Fifteen saddles, with bridles to match, and other riding paraphernalia were stolen from the Big Pine Riding Academy, according to R. L. Abbott, manager. The value was estimated at between $750 and $1000.

BOARD MAY ACT TO FOIL PETS' DOOM

Humane Commission Will Not Take Hand in Case at Present, However

The Los Angeles Humane Commission yesterday discussed informally the provisions of the will recently proposing death for five pets, but in view of the fact that the matter is in the courts it decided that the commission is without jurisdiction at present.

President Bradbury and the other commissioners, however, expressed themselves as opposed to the death penalty for the pets, holding that such destruction is cruel and needless because the animals appear to be of such a good breed that it would not be difficult to find permanent and happy homes for them.

It is the policy of the department to hold for a time any dogs or cats impounded in an effort to find homes for them. If none are found within a certain period they are painlessly destroyed.

Department figures show that for June, last, 688 dogs and 944 cats were impounded. Twenty-nine dogs were redeemed, fifty-one were sold, one escaped, thirty-seven were held over and 570 were destroyed at the animal shelter. Of the cats, only two were sold, eight remain on hand and 934 were destroyed.

Total receipts from pound fees, licenses and sale of impounded stock for the fiscal year ending June 30 amounted to $125,526.60.

WANTS OF YOUNG WIFE MODERATE

Mrs. Mary Helen Davis Asks $150 Alimony and Three Silk Frocks

Mrs. Mary Helen Davis, who told Superior Judge Archbald in alimony court yesterday that her husband, Austin Sheriff Davis, is the son of a millionaire, asked for $150 a month alimony and three silk dresses pending settlement of her husband's suit for divorce.

Davis declared his income is limited and that he couldn't afford to pay his wife so much alimony because he wanted to save up and go to college this fall. Judge Archbald took the matter under advisement.

Mrs. Davis, a bride of three months, said she was "tired of the perfect luxurious atmosphere of his father's Tujunga home," where she resided. She did not refer to the publicity attending the recent settlement of a $200,000 heart balm suit against the elder Davis.

Young Davis sued his wife, asserting that she boasted of affairs with other men, spent his money recklessly and criticised him.

WOMAN IN CAB CRASH SUES FOR $103,392

Asserting she will bear to her grave facial scars that are the result of an automobile accident, Meba Rose Hartman yesterday sued the Yellow Cab Company, in one of whose cars she was riding, an [illegible] Richfield Oil Company, whose truck figured in the crash, for $103,392. The accident occurred at Hollywood Boulevard and Highland avenue, on May 23, last. W. C. Reeder, the taxi driver, and C. A. Milburn, truck driver, also are named defendants in the suit.

THREATS OF SUICIDE BRINGS DIVORCE SUIT

Threats to kill himself and leave a note blaming her were attributed to her husband by Mrs. Mary Wessler yesterday in seeking a divorce from Isaac Wessler. Superior Judge Weyand granted her a decree.

"My husband threatened to go to a newspaper and blacken me and my son Harry," complained Mrs. Wessler.

Attorney A. E. Copplence appeared for Mrs. Wessler.

CORRECTION

In an account of the outcome of a trial in which John D. Rishelle, of Santa Monica was charged and found guilty of theft, it was stated in yesterday's issue of The Times that the defendant was president of the Bay City Building and Loan Association of Santa Monica. The title of the organization, however, should have read "Bay Cities" instead of "Bay City." The Bay City Building and Loan Association is located in San Diego and has no connection with the Santa Monica organization.

DESERT PARK NEAR BORDER PROJECTED

Conservation League and Gov. Tapia Co-operate in Preserve Scheme

Somewhere in the northern part of Baja California, possibly in an easily accessible place on the new road between Tia Juana and Ensenada, is to be established a good-sized desert park where the typical beauty of desert topography, flora and general landscape will be permanently preserved as such for coming generations.

Announcement to this effect was made yesterday by Mrs. A. Sherman Hoyt of Pasadena, president of International Desert Conservation League. Officials of the league in conference here Tuesday made a general request to Gov. Tapia of Baja California, who is a member of the league's advisory board, bearing on the project. In that section is said to be some of the most typical of desert beauty spots with rare cacti and other arid land flora.

Dr. Walter Sylvester Hertzog of Los Angeles, league trustee, said he received a telephone call yesterday from the Mexican Governor's summer capital at Ensenada stating that the Governor would set aside a tract and that he has forwarded to the Mexican Federal government at Mexico City a request for allocation of territory. Dr. Hertzog said Gov. Tapia has dispatched a letter to him setting forth details of the move.

Mrs. Hoyt will leave tomorrow for Cambridge, Eng., to attend a conference of old world league leaders.

LOS ANGELES DEFEATS SACRAMENTO, 9 TO 3

TORNE HURLS ANGELS TO SECOND STRAIGHT WIN

Johnny Moore Wallops Home Run to Pave Way for Seraph's Six-Run Rally in Second Inning

BY BOB RAY

Those Angels are taking to night baseball like moths to a flame or your new overcoat. They trounced Sacramento again last night, 9 to 3, to make it two straight under the incandescents before a gathering of 7500 of the faithful.

Last night's struggle proved even more of a success than Tuesday night opener, both sides playing errorless ball, providing plenty of sparkling catches and the lighting system looming up better than ever.

After the Senators had taken a 3-to-0 lead in the first inning and chased Win Ballou back into the shadows, Berly Horne took charge of the pitching for the Angels, and from then on Ruth's boys from the heart of Indiana were "in the dark" up to the finish. Berly blanked the visitors during the final eight rounds and coasted through to victory as his mates were bunching hits off Keating and Hamilton.

Sacramento was chased in the second round when the Seraphs added on all fours of the visitors' lead with a gigantic six-run rally that gave the locals plenty of opportunity to increase their totals.

In the second inning Johnny Moore showed that it's still possible to hit home runs in the night atmosphere at Wrigley Field by clouting one of Ballou's offerings high up into the center of the bleachers. The circuit clout came with two men on the sacks and put the Cherubs in front.

Jones went into today's play leading 2-1 in the match, after the players had broken even in the first two sets. Jones' victory paired him with Frank Shields of New York in the fourth round. Shield's having won his third straight match in defeating Ellsworth Heuser, New York, 6-2, 6-3. Donald Cram, a Columbia student, also advanced to the fourth round, defeating Jack Tidball, Los Angeles, 6-3, 8-6.

GEORGE WHIPS JOE MALCEWICZ

Youthful Don Beats Panther in Olympic Bout

Veteran Wins But One Fall in Speedy Match

Lutze Upsets Wycoff in Semi-Wind-up

BY PAUL LOWRY

Don George applied his college education to the slippery form of Joe Malcewicz and defeated the Utica Panther in a fast three-fall match at the Olympic last night.

It was quite a triumph for George, who has been wrestling professionally but little over a year. Malcewicz is a veteran of the ranks who has been a star for many years, and victory over him is no mean achievement.

George won the first fall in 18m. 56s. with a leg split, but lost the second in 11m. 11s. to a backward body slam.

The third fall came after 2m. 4s. of speedy maneuvering, and saw Malcewicz on the floor securely pinned. A reverse wristlock turned the trick.

The bout was fast and full of action all the way, and George's victory was popular. Malcewicz drew the displeasure of the cash customers by indulging in prize-fight pleasantries and was warned several times by the referee. He also got the razz by crawling for the ropes on numerous occasions.

Nick Lutze gave Lee Wycoff a little of his own medicine and rendered the tall southerner hors de combat with a flying tackle. Wycoff was unable to return for the third fall after the gladiators had gained a fall apiece.

Wycoff won the first fall in 10m. 32s. with a head scissors, and Lutze grabbed the second with a flying tackle in 24m. 26s.

Dr. "Hoo Shuck" Mace examined Wycoff and announced a couple of ribs were cracked. Wycoff then gave up the ghost.

In the opener Steve Strelich outlegged Joe Stamaty with a body scissors in 14m. 16s.

Agua Caliente Handicap Guaranteed at $100,000 for Next Season; Many Changes Made

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) July 23.—Headed by the second Agua Caliente Handicap which will have a guaranteed value to the winner of $100,000 or more, sixteen stakes will be decided at the winter meeting here of the Agua Caliente Jockey Club, announced this afternoon.

Many changes are included in the stake program. A number of the old fixtures have been reduced in value of added money and other events put on the list. Two $10,000 stakes and several of $7500 and $5000 are on the new list.

The California Handicap and the Agua Caliente Derby will be $10,000 added. The first named is a new stake, while the derby formerly was $25,000 added. The San Diego Handicap at $7500 has been added and six stakes at $5000 will be run. In this list are the George Washington Handicap, Speed Handicap, Spa Handicap, Fashion Stakes Handicap, the Futurity and Agua Caliente Cup.

YANK LINE-UPS TO BE NAMED

Tilden and Lott Sure to Carry Singles Burden

French Pray Borotra Will Draw Youthful Star

Certain Cochet Will Beat Veteran American

PARIS, July 23. (AP)—The debate over the chances of the United States to lift the Davis Cup from the dominion of the French waged loud and long today as the tennis natives waited for mal announcement of the line-up for the opening singles of the challenge round Friday.

While no one doubts Big Bill Tilden, ace of the invaders, and the youthful George Lott will carry the singles burden for the United States, while Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra do the same for France, just who will play whom is the question. As to French tennis minds the answer to this question will have great bearing on the ultimate home of the classic trophy for the coming year.

French fans are praying Borotra will be drawn against Lott for the opening singles match of the day when opponents are drawn from the hat Thursday. They feel with France one up at the start Cochet will be spurred on by his team-mate's victory and will go out to whip Tilden.

Defending Champion Faces Johnny Lehman Today

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, July 23. (AP)—Two hustling sharpshooters with no regard for golfing reputations daubed the western amateur golf championship with an upset tinge today by spilling two of the highest-ranking favorites in the field, Cyril Tolley, England, and Chick Evans, Jr., Chicago, out of the championship picture.

The "giant-killers" were Bob McCrary, fighting Scot from Des Moines, who dropped Tolley, 1 up, after a thrilling fight, and Charlie Fish, Rockford, Ill., who sank a thirty-five-foot putt on the nineteenth green for a sparkling birdie 3 and a victory over Evans.

Their victories were the only disturbing gestures of an otherwise true-to-form day.

PERKINS SHINES

Don Moe of Portland, Or., defending champion, and T. Phillip Perkins, England's second and last hope in the championship fight, romped through with ease in their first pair of eighteen-hole round battles.

Of the two, Perkins was the most impressive. He shot almost perfect golf, trouncing Freddy Lyons, Chicago, western junior champion, 6

ANCASTER (Ont.) July 23. (AP)—Leading professionals from the United States were gathering here today for the Canadian open golf championship, to be played tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

Tommy Armour toured the Ancaster course of the Hamilton Country Club in 70 in practice yesterday and Jim Barnes turned in a 71. Horton Smith has been here for several days and once rollicked through the first nine holes in 33. Johnny Farrell and Leo Diegel also have had some practice.

A bright sun sent the temperature into the middle 80's yesterday but the pros from below the border thought it was cool compared to the stifling heat that prevailed at the American open at Minneapolis and the Metropolitan open at Elmsford, N. Y.

PRIMO GIVEN TWENTY-DAY EXTENSION OF PERMIT

BY JACK FARRELL

NEW YORK, July 23. (Exclusive) Postponing, if indeed not, as announced, cancelling his plans for journeying up to Montreal and dodging, temporarily at least, the immediate expulsion from the United States ordered from Washington for him, and his French manager, Leon See, Primo Carnera, the behemothic Italian fighter, arrived in New York today. Through his politically well-connected American manager, Billy Duffy, he procured a twenty-day extension of the six months' visitors permit under which he entered the country.

The immigration officials were represented today as refusing to consider Carnera's application for a three-month or longer extension of his visitor's permit unless he can produce evidence that his behavior here has been more exemplary than public notices referring to his ring doings, particularly in California, have implied. Digging up such proof is expected to occupy Primo's twenty-day leave.

Duffy, asserting conviction that all would be well with Primo's cause three weeks hence, declared Italian-American societies all over the country were rallying to Carnera's defense and predicted the immigration department heads soon would be convinced they were mis-

AMERICANS EVEN-MONEY BET TO TAKE DAVIS CUP HONORS

AUTEUIL (France) July 23. (AP)—For the first time in three years France is no better than an even-money choice to retain the Davis Cup in 1930. In 1927 and in 1928, with La Coste and Cochet playing singles, bets were freely made at two to one on the Frenchmen. The absence of the machine-like La Coste in 1929 brought the odds down but France still remained a favorite at seven to five and six to five. Yet the Associated Press correspondent saw several wagers made today in resorts frequented by Americans where the ubiquitous Fernch bookmakers, making their rounds for the collection of bets on the horse races, generously posted the information: "Davis Cup tennis even money. Take your pick."

TITLE REGATTA FOR SOUTHLAND

Record Entry List Expected for Yacht Classic

Five Days of Competition on Boat Program

New Class Will Make Bow in Racing Series

BY FRANK ROCHE

Complete plans for the Pacific Coast sailing championships at Newport Harbor from August 4 to August 9, inclusive, were unfolded yesterday at the regular weekly yachtmen's luncheon held at the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

J. H. WEBSTER

Jim Webster, representing the Newport Harbor Yacht Club and the Southern California Yachting Association regatta committee, outlined a program of the various events for those present. He made the prediction that the classic would be better and ever staged in the history of the sport on this coast.

Entries from as far north as Seattle and as far south as San Diego will be represented in the sailing championships. Besides all of the sailing classes heretofore contested for a new one will be introduced. This is the Pacific Coast design, a San Diego-built boat which comes under the sloop division. Eight of these new boats will be entered from the Border City.

Competition in the eight-meter, R six and the larger sailing classes, M and N; R, F, and O and P and Q, X and Y is expected to be the keenest in years. Every Southland yacht club will have one or more entries in the classic with the Los Angeles Harbor clubs having the bulk of the starters.

San Francisco, the scene of the first Pacific Coast regatta, will play a nice part in the sea drama at Newport Harbor. An entry in the eight-meter class was received yesterday from the Bay City when the name of the sloop Hvide was forwarded to the committee here. The Hvide is a Norwegian-built craft and is said to be one of the fastest of her class. A good test will be provided for the Hvide in the Newport series, as the King of Spain winner Marin, the Babe, the Duce will all be entered in the eight-meter class.

The famous Lipton trophy for all sloop class will be raced for August 7, the committee announced. Arthur Rousseau's trim six-meter sloop Maybe holds the cup at this time. All sloops from the six-meter division to larger classes are eligible for this race.

The program follows:

Yankee Soccer Team Enters Championship

MONTEVIDEO (Uruguay) July 23. (AP)—The world's soccer football championship tournament, now in progress here, has reached the semi-final round with the United States, Argentina, Uruguay and Jugo-Slavia as the sole survivors.

The draw for the semifinals pitts the United States against Argentina on the 26th inst. and Uruguay against Jugo-Slavia on the 27th inst.

BLUE LARKSPUR BADLY INJURED

Great Bradley Colt Victor to Retire from Racing

CHICAGO, July 23. (AP)—Blue Larkspur, 1929 3-year-old champion of America, today was scratched from the Arlington Handicap $35,000 added, at Arlington Park, next Saturday, because of a serious breakdown in his workout this morning.

The gallant 3-year-old son of Black Servant-Blossom Time, owned by Col. E. R. Bradley of Lexington, Ky., may never race again, according to his trainer, H. J. Thompson. The horse, which ranks third among all-time money winners on American turf, pulled up lame and Thompson said he feared its racing days were over.

The trainer said Blue Larkspur probably would be shipped to Lexington and retired to the stud. The horse, Thompson said, is too valuable to risk further injury. Blue Larkspur had won two wealthy stakes at Arlington Park, taking the Stars and Stripes Handicap July 4, from a fast field, and duplicating the feat in the $25,000 Arlington Cup last Saturday.

With Blue Larkspur out of the race, Curate, owned by Joseph E. Widener of New York, was installed as favorite for Saturday's race.

BOROTRA PLAYS WELL

Two thousand spectators gathered in the Roland Garros Stadium today to watch an extremely keenly played session. Borotra's showing was magnificent. He appeared to be playing the best tennis of his long and brilliant career and his scoring of a point for France by beating Lott is regarded as an absolute certainty. His chances of victory are held to be greater than Cochet's against Tilden.

Tilden again was the American star in the workouts, while Cochet displayed a good deal of the form that has made him the world's ranking player. Cochet's final set against the French professional, Martin Plaa, was a work of art. His play was a decided improvement over his showing in the Wimbledon tournament, while Tilden played up to the form that won him the singles crown in the English classic.

When chided by Pierre Gillou, captain of the French Davis Cup squad, for a lamentable showing in the first practice set, which the professional won, 6-0, Cochet remarked to his superior: "The Davis Cup matches don't start until Friday, reproaches likewise, if any."

CROWD SEEKS DUCATS

The ticket gates at the stadium were besieged all afternoon by prospective customers. They were informed seats must be bought for all three playing days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, something after the custom of sales for world's series baseball tickets in the United States.

The advance sale already has reached close to 1,000,000 francs—$40,000—with only standing room left. Should the weather be merciful and relent with sunshine after two weeks of rain, it seems certain all records for tennis receipts in France will be broken.

After you have mastered those preliminary tricks, pivot freely, keeping your left arm straight, with the left side initiating the body turn. Let the right foot keep a firm hold on the ground, with the left heel rising up from the ground as you bring the club far back. Shift the weight to the left foot as the club goes down, have your right arm straight at the moment of impact, flailing the ball with a "supple and lightning-quick action of the wrists," and after you have followed through, watch the little pill sail away nearly 300 yards—maybe. But even if it does, you won't be Bobby Jones!

CHAVEZ, REESE MIX IN RING GO TONIGHT

Two rival Santa Ana welterweights, Zenaydo (Young) Chavez and Joe Reese, collide in the ten-round wind-up tonight at Santa Ana in a fight that has Orange county boxing fans keyed up to a high pitch. Chavez has been winning consistently of late, boasting five kayo wins out of eight starts.

TILDEN SEES GREAT BATTLE

Davis Cup Matches Will Start Tomorrow

American King Predicts Bitter Struggle

Improvement of Lott is Hailed as Omen

BY WILLIAM T. TILDEN II

PARIS, July 23 (NANA)—This is my last article on the Davis Cup challenge round. I lay down my pen and take up my racket and from being merely a writer become merely a player. All is set for the important draw tomorrow, which will be made at noon.

BILL TILDEN.

Much depends on the outcome of the first day's singles. If the United States can divide the first day's matches it will be in a position of great strength, for then France must make a supreme effort to save the doubles, which, if unsuccessful, will take much out of the morale of the French team and, incidentally, cause Cochet to play three days running.

It can't see any marked advantage in the order of draw, although the general opinion is that the best chance of an American victory is my getting Borotra in the first match with Lott playing Cochet afterward. This is an excellent idea, if I can score over the great French star, but not so good if he should win. After all, there are five matches to play and the United States must take three if we are to lift the cup, and the order in which they are won, if at all, matters very little.

BOROTRA SHINES

The French players, Cochet and Borotra, had a long workout and from the way they conducted themselves I thought Borotra was in better form than Cochet, who still seems to lack customary control. Borotra is working hard on his ground game against professional play, and his play looked unusually steady for him. He is in perfect condition physically.

Both Lott and I had a hard singles workout, while Allison and Van Ryn played only doubles today and will play no more singles until after the tie is over.

My ankle is absolutely well and doesn't bother me. The pain and swelling have entirely gone. A slight bandage should remove any chance of trouble in the matches.

Capt. Dixon intends to let Mangin and Koseluh practice with Lott and myself tomorrow by serving and coming to the net to give us both experience in Borotra's net-rushing tactics. I have been greatly impressed by the manner in which Lott is hitting his backhand here in Paris. He's steady and at times severe with it. I wouldn't be surprised to see an improvement in this stroke prove just the difference that will mean victory to him when he meets Borotra.

TEAM IMPROVES

Lott is serving well and, as always, smashing and volleying brilliantly. Allison and Van Ryn have entirely recovered from the slump that so nearly cost them a point against Italy, and are once more the aggressive and sound team that dominated Wimbledon.

I look to see a very close and bitterly contested tie before a tremendous and wildly excited gallery. The court is in excellent condition and all arrangements have been made. All that remains is for Capts. Dixon and Gillou to complete the final agreements as to the start and end of play, the brand of balls and the team order, and then make the draw.

Without promising to prove that all of Carnera's bouts were on the level, Duffy admitted responsibility for the selection of all of his man's opponents and confessed he had done so in each case—until he got along to Christner, Godfrey and Wright—with an eye to the adversary's infirmities, seeing that Carnera, when he started out here, was "just an inexperienced boy."

Duffy said the garden folks' antagonism to Carnera was marked and that he had refused to let Primo meet Campolo here on their terms because these terms were "insulting." Duffy offered to guarantee Campolo $25,000, or Jack Sharkey $100,000 to meet Carnera at Atlantic City this fall.

IMMIGRATION MEN NOT AFTER FIGHTER

BUFFALO (N. Y.) July 23. (AP)—Primo Carnera, giant Italian fighter whom the government is anxious to deport, is not being sought by immigration officials along the Niagara frontier.

It was stated at the Immigration Department headquarters here tonight Carnera made no effort to cross the border into Canada during his visit to Buffalo and Niagara Falls Tuesday and the department here had received no orders bearing on his case.

FOUR WELTERWEIGHTS MIX AT MAIN STREET

Four of the best welterweights that ever boxed at the Main-street club will meet in two elimination bouts on the weekly boxing card Saturday night. Tommy Elks tackles Jack Keeney and Pete Pacheco meets Gene Mullen. The two winners will fight it out the following week.

The welterweights top a card of seven four-round bouts.

DAVIS CUP PICKINGS

MR. FITZ EUGENE DIXON, nonplaying captain of the American Davis Cup forces, takes a little time off today to name the brave athletes who will represent the United States in the three-day battle for the historic cup.

If one judges correctly by the writings of Mr. William T. Tilden II, the singles representatives will be Mr. Tilden himself in person and George Lott, while the doubles will be taken care of by Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn.

This may occasion a slight surprise in some circles, particularly by the dopesters who will point to Allison's victory over Henri Cochet in the Wimbledon championships.

They will query Lott's selection over Allison and bring up last year's recapitulation, when Lott lost in straight sets to Cochet and won only one set from Borotra.

There is something to this argument because it is necessary for America to win at least two of the singles matches in order to lift the trophy.

Assuming this occurs and Allison and Van Ryn repeat last year's victory over Cochet and Borotra in the doubles this will give our boys the necessary three points in five.

But if Lott does no better than last year and Tilden wins only from Borotra as he did in 1929, the doubles victory is only a moral victory.

In this situation it would seem that Tilden and Allison in the singles offer the best bet.

Undoubtedly Allison is being saved for the doubles, but on the other hand both Cochet and Borotra will have the same assignment if the Texan plays singles—two singles and one doubles match.

A PUZZLING SITUATION

THE whole question revolves around the probability of Allison repeating his Wimbledon victory over Cochet or of Tilden beating both Cochet and Borotra.

If Dixon picks Lott in the singles it is because he believes Long Bill can take two singles matches.

In this connection Tilden's remarks about the current form of Cochet and Borotra are interesting:

"Cochet looks keener than at Wimbledon," he writes, "and seems in fine physical condition, but he is not yet the old Cochet in his control of the ball.

"Borotra is in great form. He seems to recognize that he is the pivotal figure in the French team. If Borotra can be beaten twice in singles there is every reason to believe we can find a third point in the doubles and bring back the cup.

"On the other hand if Borotra takes a singles match then our task is most difficult. Certainly the form that Borotra displayed at Wimbledon and which apparently he is still showing makes his defeat a task of the greatest difficulty.

"Our task is to win at least one singles match the first day to have at least an even chance. If either team wins two matches the first day the battle is practically over."

Last year both Tilden and Lott were defeated the opening day, Allison and Van Ryn captured the doubles the second day, Tilden beat Borotra the third day and Lott lost to Cochet.

NIGHT BASEBALL

NIGHT baseball got off to a rousing start in this city the other night, and apparently will gain many devotees who are unable to take in the day contests.

Of course, the real test of its popularity is yet to come. Included in Tuesday's opening crowd of slightly over 12,000 were probably thousands of the curious who will be content to call it quits, but who are disciples of all opening events.

They are first cousins to the guy who scratches around for a ticket to a sell-out football game when he learns his next-door neighbor has a pair on the 50-yard line. If only 2000 persons were going to the game he wouldn't give a whoop about it, but he must go to the killing when he knows there will be 75,000 on hand.

The job of lighting Wrigley Field was thoroughly done, and there weren't enough errors in the Tuesday game to indicate that the big globes bother the players.

Certainly, the rousing catches staged by Jigger Statz, Johnny Moore and Osborn in the outfield offer enough proof to offset that argument against night ball.

The infield was literally bright as day, and it was possible to follow the ball on a long hit into the outermost reaches. Only when they blended into the wall on the descent were high-fly balls lost to spectators in the upper boxes.

Mr. Abe Roth, fight referee, said it was a great treat to pull on a fat cigar and watch the umpires get the razzberry while Mr. Warde Fowler, erstwhile sports editor of degree, observed that night ball was an unqualified success.

Mr. Fowler even went so far as to keep an accurate score card which he intended handing down to posterity.

But in the course of being inveigled into sucker bets by Mr. Roth, correct tabulations became impossible, and the great masterpiece was discarded.

Posterity will suffer, as did Mr. Fowler's pocketbook.

Mr. Roth wagered Mr. Fowler that the hot-dog boy would sell five doggies by the time he reached the section that divides the top of the boxes from the grand-stand seats.

Mr. Fowler took him, and was in a fair way to winning the bet, when Mr. Roth called the boy over and purchased five hot dogs.

He ate them all himself and won 50 cents on the transaction.

HOPPING HURT IN POLO GAME

stumbled and fell in being pulled up sharply to cut back of another player. The fumble was facilitated by the foreleg of Hopping's pony becoming entangled with the hind legs of the mount ridden by J. C. (Cecie) Rathborne, former Yale star riding at back for the Reds.

As if propelled from a catapult, Hopping was thrown clear of the saddle and skidded fully ten yards along the turf on the left side of his face and shoulder.

Rathborne escaped the mix-up without falling, but Hopping lay unconscious on the turf. After being given first aid, he was taken to the clubhouse. There a thorough examination by physicians revealed no serious damage but Hopping's face and chin were badly scraped and his left shoulder was painfully bruised. The elder Earle Hopping, his father, said the mishap would not keep the youngster out of the next test match, scheduled Sunday.

The accident to young Hopping, occurring near the close of the second period, necessitated a shake-up in the line-ups and resulted in the contest being turned into a rout by Hitchcock's "Whites." They led, 7 to 1, at half-time and won, 13 to 7.

Hitchcock, playing No. 3, was easily the star of the game as he returned to the saddle to give one of his characteristic exhibitions of superb strategy and stroking. The American captain nevertheless took matters easily in the second half, as he again felt the effects of the muscle strain in his side, caused originally by being hit with a mallet. He scored six of his side's goals.

Elmer Boeseke, Jr., the hard-hitting Californian, started at No. 2 for the Reds, but switched to the same position on the Whites to replace Hopping, and gave his best exhibition of the season. He scored four goals and worked smoothly with Hitchcock, who had the youthful "Pete" Bostwick at No. 1 and Winston Guest at back.

Eree Pedley, another California contender, started at No. 1 for the Reds, but switched to No. 2 to replace Boeseke, and shared the scoring honors with Harold Talbott, substitute No. 1. Each tallied three goals with aid for the two former Yale players, Stewart Iglehart, playing No. 3 and Rathbenne at back.

The Reds put on their best exhibition in the seventh period, scoring three straight goals, but otherwise were decisively outplayed by their higher-ranking opposition. The line-ups:

WHITES. 13		REDS. 7
O. H. Bostwick	No. 1	Eric Pedley
E. A. Hopping	No. 2	E. J. Boeseke, Jr.
W. H. Hitchcock, Jr.	No. 3	H. E. Iglehart
W. C. Guest	Back	J. C. Rathborne

Substitutions: Boeseke for Hopping in White lineup, and Harold E. Talbott, Jr., for Boeseke in Red lineup in second period.

FERGUSON AND HANSON IN TIE

Qualifying Scores High for Annual Invitational

Match Play Starts Tomorrow With Ten Flights

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

L. Perry Ferguson of Girard and Guy Hanson of California led yesterday's first day qualifiers for the annual Palos Verdes Golf Club invitation tournament with a brace of 76's. Qualifying play continues today with the first round of match play scheduled tomorrow.

A stiff breeze from the ocean, which sprang up early yesterday morning, played havoc with the scoring. Of the ninety-three golfers who played their eighteen-hole round, Ferguson and Hanson were the only ones to break 81. Dr. C. K. Manhart of Rancho scored an 81 and five players tied with 82's.

It was announced yesterday that plans to stage two rounds of match play tomorrow had been abandoned, as it would be almost impossible to get ten flights over the course. Accordingly, only first-round matches will be played tomorrow. Two rounds are scheduled for Saturday, and the finals on Sunday.

Today's entry is expected to bring the entry well past the 300 mark. A number of fine golfers will tee off this morning and afternoon, including Harry Eichelberger, Jr., Bud Thompson, W. L. Jelliffe, Howard Jones, Bill Spalding, Phil Cartier, Paul Cartier, Paul R. Jones, Winston Fuller, Ernie Combs, Jr., and Rex Balles.

A Calcutta dinner will be held this evening in the clubhouse at 7:30.

Johnny Moore Hits Homer in Second Inning With Two on to Start Seraph's on Six-Run Rally

BIG NIGHT FOR HANEY

Fred Haney, who had a busy day at third base with eleven chances, which ought to be pretty close to a record, provided another big thrill in the seventh inning, when he stole home after chasing Wes Schulmerich over the plate with a triple. Haney's steal of home was the first time the stunt has been accomplished here this season. Fred also got a single aside from his three-bagger so he had quite a profitable evening.

The Senators started out by getting rough in the first inning, driving Ballou to the showers with a three-run greeting. Ballou started out badly by walking French, who was bunted to second by Coyle. Backer's smash into the left field corner was good for two bases and French scored. Osborn also worked Ballou for a walk. Hoag dropped a single in short center but Backer and Osborn piled up at third, the former being run down between third and home, Statz to Sigafoos to Hannah to Haney. Hoag advanced to second on the out. When Eldred dribbled a single between Haney and Dittmar to score Osborn and Hoag, Lelivelt lifted Ballou and rest is Horse. Horne hit Brown with his first pitch but then tossed out Wirts to end the inning.

Keating blew up in the thin night air in the second inning and the Angels rushed across six runs to take the lead before the round finally ended.

SERAPHS SCORE SIX

Like Ballou, Keating started trouble for himself by issuing a walk. Schulmerich getting the pass. Wirts then let one of Keating's pitches get away from him and Schulmerich bow-legged it down to second. Ray Jacobs's single to right scored Schulmerich. Haney dropped a single in center and Statz bunted the boys along. Truck Hannah, with whom this night air seems to agree, poked a single over second and both Jacobs and Haney scampered over the plate to get the count. When Horne also singled to center, Ryan decided that Keating had had enough and sent in Hamilton. Sigafoos forced Horne at second, Backer to French, but Johnny Moore followed with a behemothic smash into the bleacherites and crossed the plate behind Hannah and Sigafoos, putting the Lelivelts three runs out in front. Dittmar was the third out of the inning.

Brown proved that the third sackers at least can follow hard hit balls when he nonchalantly speared Schulmerich's terrific line drive, which was labeled for two bases.

In the fourth inning Statz gave the customers a treat when he raced back into the centerfield corner and pulled down French's long clout. French provided the fielding feature of the last half of the round when he snared Hannah's smash back on the grass and tossed Truck out at first on what looked like a sure base hit.

The Angels picked up another run in the fifth when Moore walked, was sacrificed to second by Dittmar and driven home by Schulmerich, who punched a sizzling single to center.

HANEY STEALS HOME

Two more Cherubs crossed the plate in the seventh, which featured a steal of home by Haney. With one away, Schulmerich beat out a slow bounder down the third-base line. Jacobs skied to Eldred, but Haney tripled down the right-field line. A couple of pitches later Haney made a break for the plate and stole home before Wirts could get the ball on him. Buddy Ryan came out of the Sacramento dugout to protest with Wirts Umpire McLaughlin's decision, but the verdict stuck. Statz then walked and stole second, but Hannah was fooled on a third strike to end the inning.

Both sides got a couple of hits in the eighth inning, but neither was able to coax a run out of the bingles.

The final sparkling fielding bit was provided by Schulmerich in the eighth when he galloped his 215 pounds over to the right-field corner to bring down Eldred's drive.

Either Angie Wahle or Ira will be on the mound for the Seraphs tonight with Pat Skipper Ryan's pitching

BARRACUDA, HALIBUT STILL BITING HARD

Large barracuda and halibut continue to be caught in the big schools a short distance off Santa Monica. It was reported last night by Cliff and Jack, operators of the live-bait boats Thrush and Palisades.

The two charter boats, run by the two skippers, have been much in demand since the big run started. The Glendale Hardware Company staff took out the ship W.K. and caught several hundred pounds of fish. E. H. Seaver and family also took the W.K. and caught many barracuda, halibut, bass and bonita.

Klein Boasts Monopoly on Stick Honors

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—Chuck Klein, clouting outfielder of the Philadelphia Nationals, has obtained a monopoly on most of the National League's hitting honors. Latest figures show the Quaker star leading the league in batting with an average of .405, in runs with eighty-seven, in runs batted in with 103 and in hits with 140. In addition, he is only two home runs behind Hack Wilson, who sets the league pace for the circuit swatters with twenty-nine.

EVEN STEPHEN

BOSTON, July 23. (AP)—The Braves and Cincinnati remained hand-in-hand in sixth place in the National League as the result of their taking turns winning in a double-header today. The Reds battered out a four-run rally in the ninth of the first game to register an 8-to-7 win and the Braves took the second, 6 to 5, in eleven innings.

Pitcher Selbold drove in the winning run in the second game with a single to center which scored Spohrer. Scores:

House, Wiggins Clash Tonight

Mack House, colored heavyweight, gets the biggest test of his career tonight when he meets Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis in a ten-round bout at the Pasadena club.

Pasadena fans consider House a great fighter. He has a world of speed for a fellow of his size, and can punch with any of them. In fifty or more bouts he has showed occasional flashes of great form. Never a great trainer, he coasted along to win eighteen in his last twenty starts by knockouts, and then got down to real work, took off a dozen pounds, and showing more speed and power than ever before, knocked out Neil Clisby. That battle convinced him he is at his best at a low weight.

Backing the heavyweights is a card of five four-round bouts, as follows: Joe Barry vs. Bud Coogan, 175 pounds; Johnny Previs vs. Mike Cordova, 130 pounds; Lewis Wooley vs. Peter Pina, 120 pounds; Ted Thompson vs. Polo Aguirre, 160 pounds; Curley Muniz vs. Georgie Akis, 126 pounds.

DETROIT, July 23. (AP) — Jack Quinn pitched prewar baseball today to score his ninth victory of the season for the Athletics at the expense of the Tigers, 4 to 1, and even up the four-game series.

JACK QUINN

George Uhle was the victim. While the Tiger ace was yielding nine hits Quinn was holding the Bengals to five safe blows. After two Tigers had walked in the ninth Earnshaw relieved Quinn. He allowed one hit but the next three men went down, the last two on a double play. The score:

YANKS TUMBLE

CLEVELAND, July 23. (AP)—The Indians evened an old score with New York today when they trounced their rivals, 10 to 6, to make it four out of five for the series. Cleveland was the victim of a similar beating the last time the team visited Gotham.

Wesley Ferrell took a severe battering at times, giving twelve hits, but the Indians pounded Pennock, Carroll and Holloway for sixteen hits. One was Eddie Morgan's nineteenth home run, which set a new Cleveland record, beating the mark Earl Averill set last year in an entire season's hitting. It was Ferrell's fifteenth victory. CHISOX BEST

CHICAGO, July 23. (AP) — Red Faber and Hal McKain held Boston to four hits today while the White Sox pounded Danny MacFayden for enough hits to score a 5-to-3 victory. Faber gave four hits in six innings, and retired for a pinch batsman in the Sox half of the sixth. McKain held the Red Sox hitless the rest of the way. Boston bunched two of its hits with a walk and a sacrifice for three runs in the sixth to go into the lead, but the White Sox rallied in the last of the inning to tie it up and scored two more in the eighth. The victory gave the White Sox three out of five in the series. The score:

CORPORATION'S HAND REVEALED

Gas Company's Political Bias Told by Official

Fight on City Bond Issues Freely Admitted

Use-of-Streets Suit Brings Out Strange Facts

Political activities of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation during his administration were described yesterday by Walter B. Cline, formerly president and now chairman of the board of directors. He was testifying in Superior Judge Collier's court at the trial of the city's suit to enjoin the company from using certain streets for distribution of electricity for other than lighting purposes.

S. B. Robinson, special counsel for the city, had called Cline and Addison B. Day, president, to be examined regarding the corporation's opposition to bond issues to be used for developing the city's electrical power distribution business. Cline, who was president from 1889 to 1924, declared the company backed certain taxpayers' suits directed against the city's Bureau of Power and Light.

"Isn't it a fact that your corporation took an active hand in the political affairs of the city?" asked Robinson.

"It did in the past. I know very little about what it did since I retired as president," said Cline.

"It was true until you retired?" was asked.

"Yes," said the company official.

Earlier in his testimony Cline had said he did not remember if the company opposed the first bond issue. He was asked if the company gave financial support to a move opposing the use of Owens River water on the ground that it was contaminated.

"I think we did contribute," he replied.

"Did the corporation oppose the 1914 power bonds?"

"I think we did."

He said the company employed H. C. Beach as attorney and thought it was a fact that Beach was employed in all suits pertaining to the company's opposition to the city's power project.

President Day was kept waiting all afternoon without reaching the witness stand while counsel argued the admissibility of certain documents introduced in past litigation. Attorney Garrett McEnerney of San Francisco heads special counsel for the company.

REDS STILL SHY JURORS

At the end of the fourth day of their trial yesterday, a jury acceptable to the sixteen Communists charged in Municipal Judge Willis's court with offenses ranging from violation of the city handbill ordinance to rioting, still had not been obtained. The effort will be resumed today. The charges were filed following the Red riots on the Plaza on February 26, last.

So far the defense has used exactly half of its seventy peremptory challenges, while Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday has used only eight. Frank Spector, Carl Sklar and T. Horiuchi, Red leaders now serving terms in State's prison on felony charges, who were returned here as witnesses and for trial in the case, are acting as their own attorneys. Leo Gallagher represents the remaining defendants.

Lawyer Loses Life in Freak Traffic Crash

A freak traffic accident on Anaheim Boulevard near Wilmington yesterday cost the life of John Gordon Mills, 34 years of age, Inglewood attorney of 4700 Angeles Vista Boulevard.

Driving his closed car, Mills drew up behind a lumber truck and trailer. In some undetermined manner the trailer unexpectedly broke loose from the truck, careened across the roadway and crashed into Mills's car, demolishing it. Mills suffered a fractured skull and died in an ambulance on the way to Wilmington Hospital.

Mills for eight years was an associate of Clyde Woodworth with offices in the Arcade Building, Inglewood. He was the son of Rev. John William Mills, local Presbyterian minister, besides whom he leaves his widow, two sons, John, 3, and William, 6, and three sisters.

Missing Retired Merchant Just Seeing 'Sights'

Fears for the safety of William B. John, 63 years of age, retired merchant, of 4012 Tracy street, believed to have been the victim of foul play, were dispelled yesterday when the missing man presented himself at Hollywood police division and told Capt. Miller he had merely been having "a good time" at Long Beach. He explained he had arrived here from the East ahead of schedule and, rather than announce his arrival prematurely, had elected to spend a few days at the beach "taking in the sights by cruising around in my car."

John became the object of State-wide police search several days ago when his nephew, Joseph Hood, reported his failure to arrive home following the docking of a steamer on which he had been a passenger on the 5th inst. Hood stated he believed his uncle was carrying about $3000 cash and a $3500 diamond ring.

Worker Killed by Ditch Cave-in

A score of persons saw three men buried under an avalanche of earth at Santa Monica Boulevard and Sepulveda avenue yesterday. One of the victims was dead when fellow-workmen and volunteer helpers dug them from beneath the several tons of earth that had rolled down upon them while they were welding a gas line.

The dead man is Thomas Wishart, 39 years of age. David Phillips and Henry Arnold, both of Sawtelle, were working at the bottom of a twenty-foot excavation with Wishart but managed to escape totally being buried.

Another cave-in accident caused probable fatal injuries to another workman at Eighth and Alvarado streets yesterday. The victim is Ray Gonzales, 40 years of age. A heavy slab of concrete fell on him while he was at the bottom of an excavation. The slab had been loosened by vibrations from an air pressure drill, police asserted. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

TEXAS BANK FINDS SHORTAGE OF $92,000

BRADY (Tex.) July 23. (AP)—Officers of the Commercial National Bank, the largest here, announced today they had discovered a shortage of approximately $92,000 in its accounts. Warrants of arrest were sworn out against four men.

BREAKDOWN BALKS LIGHT TEST PLANS

Dr. Michelson's Velocity Experiment Delayed When Air Pump Fails

PASADENA, July 23. (Exclusive) Breakage of an air pump has delayed Dr. Albert A. Michelson's light velocity experiments, which he planned to begin this week at the Irvine ranch, near Santa Ana, where his apparatus, a mile-long vacuum tube, is being completed, it was learned today.

As a result of the delay Dr. and Mrs. Michelson probably will not leave here in the fall but will remain at Hotel Maryland during at least part of the winter.

In his final effort to determine the speed of light the University of Chicago physicist's principal object is to measure light's velocity over a distance which he has checked personally.

His former experiments, he believes, gave accurate results but he was forced to depend upon the calculations of others for the distance factor.

The breakdown occurred in the specially constructed pump used to expel air from the long tube. The length of time required for repairs is uncertain, Dr. Michelson said.

Del Valle Takes Stand in Suit to Break Will

Former Senator Del Valle was a witness yesterday at the contest over the estate of George M. Handley, being tried in Superior Judge Weyand's court. Handley died August 22, 1928, leaving his estate, valued at $25,000, to Mrs. Grace Guthrie, a nurse who took care of him in his last year of life.

The contest was instituted by Handley's sisters and other relatives, Agnes Mitchell, Annie Johnson, Goldie Tuller, Charles G. Nordon, Grover Handley, Stanley Handley, Russell Handley, Ruth McBride, Martha Handley and O'Desea Gallatin. Attorney Otto Emme represents the contestants, who contend that Mrs. Guthrie unduly influenced Handley, who was 70 years of age when he died. Del Valle, an old friend, testified that after Handley's illness, his figures could not be relied upon. He was an accountant.

Attorney Earl W. Wood, representing Mrs. Guthrie, moved dismissal of the suit. Attorney G. F. Adams represents the executor.

Peters Becomes Dry Law Chief for Southland

W. L. Peters, deputy federal dry administrator here, returned to Los Angeles yesterday from San Francisco with full authority for the enforcement in Southern California of the national prohibition act. While in San Francisco Peters had a conference with William G. Walker, dry administrator for California and other western States.

It was stated that Walker will leave soon for Washington, D. C., to attend a conference of all dry administrators in the United States. Problems that have arisen as the result of the transfer of the enforcement division from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice will be discussed.

Actor Fined as Drunken Driver

John Bowers, motion-picture actor, paid a fine of $20 in night police court before Municipal Judge Miller last night with the admission that he was drunk in an automobile on the 18th inst. Officers Mead and Hammond of the Hollywood police station found the machine near Holly Vista Way and West Knoll Drive, with Bowers in the rear seat.

The motion-picture actor said that one of the tires had blown out and the car went into a ditch and that his arrest came when he tried to "kid" the officers.

Bowers paid the fine rather than take the alternative penalty of ten days in jail.

New Paralysis Cases Reported

A slight increase in the number of new cases of infantile paralysis was reported by the Health Department yesterday, the total for the month up to noon being 119 cases, with eight deaths, compared to eighty-four cases and six deaths in June.

VERDICT WON ON LADDER BREAK

Painter Injured in Fall Gets Award Against Manufacturers

Damages of $15,000 were awarded yesterday by a jury in Superior Judge Anderson's court to John Kalash, a painter, who sued the Los Angeles Ladder Company. Kalash charged that one defective top rung of a ladder broke beneath him while he was painting a house at 3048 Leeward avenue. He fell thirty-six feet, receiving injuries which included broken wrists and two fractured vertebrae.

The ladder-makers contended that the ladder was not defective and that Kalash was guilty of contributory negligence in standing on a top round.

Session in Kirk Case Conducted in Sanatorium

Superior Judge Hazlett held court last night in Bondies' Sanatorium, Mission Boulevard and Meridian street, South Pasadena, to take the testimony of Mrs. Laura Jane Kirk, 80 years of age, widow of John E. Kirk, pioneer harvester manufacturer, in proceedings filed by her son, Norman T. Kirk, to have her adjudged incompetent.

The suit was filed several months ago, but shortly thereafter Mrs. Kirk fell and injured her hip and has since been unable to go to court. Attorney Earle Wakeman, representing the son, after several continuances, finally asserted that Mrs. Kirk's $250,000 estate, which, he said, had shrunk to $65,000, was in danger of being further dissipated unless some immediate action were taken.

Mrs. Kirk has sued her son for $30,744, asserting she gave that sum to him to invest. This suit is pending in Superior Court. Kirk replied that "meddlesome neighbors and strangers" interfered in his affairs and exercised undue influence over his mother who, he said, refused to live with him in his comfortable home. In a cross-complaint Kirk asked $31,000 he said his mother owes him.

About the time Mrs. Kirk was injured her son reported her missing and deputy sheriffs conducted a search for her which resulted in finding her at a sanatorium.

THREE FILMS PLANNED FOR STAR

Mrs. Patrick Campbell Enters Talkers Via Fox Studio; Stanley Smith Wins Juvenile Lead With Ed Wynn; R.-K.-O. Signs Roscoe Apes On Long Contract

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Richard Barthelmess, whose popularity, especially since "The Dawn Patrol," is great, will appear in three pictures a year instead of the stipulated two, it is reported. This will necessitate an adjustment of his contract with First National, but we hear that that organization is anxious to avail itself of the rapidly accelerating popularity of its star.

In the meantime, however, Barthelmess is going to Canada for his annual vacation. He leaves, accompanied by his wife and the two children, on Saturday for a hidden camp in the northern territory where they can all fish and loaf and swim far from the madding crowd. They expect to be away four or five months, and if Canada palls on them they will extend their travels. Indeed, they are already planning a trip to the Orient early in the fall.

MRS. CAMPBELL TO PLAY IN FOX FILM

It was, of course, inevitable that the famous Mrs. Patrick Campbell would enter the talking pictures.

And now we learn, sure enough, that Fox Films has signed Mrs. Campbell for a featured role in "The Play Called Life," in which Lois Moran has the lead.

Chandler Sprague, who made such a success of his first directorial venture, will direct the picture, and Walter Byron will play the villain.

Mrs. Campbell, as everybody knows, is a noted English actress. She has played in works of Shaw, Ibsen, Shakespeare, as well as in other plays. Her success in this country has been almost as great as that in London.

Stanley Smith in It

Stanley Smith will appear opposite Ginger Rogers again when "Manhattan Mary," Ed Wynn's starring picture for Paramount, goes into production at the New York studio the first week in August.

STANLEY SMITH

Miss Rogers and Smith had important roles together in "Queen High," the Schwab and Mandel musical production which has just been completed at the east coast studio.

Smith played the lead opposite Clara Bow in "Love Among the Millionaires," and now is completing the chief role in Rube Goldberg's first picture.

Virginia Lee Corbin Busy

We hear, through Virginia Lee Corbin's mother, that that clever young actress is being detained in London by the exigencies of her art.

VIRGINIA LEE CORBIN

Miss Corbin at present is playing the lead opposite Percy Marmont in a British National picture, the title of which I did not learn.

The young actress went abroad a year and a half ago, on her honeymoon, when she married Ted Krol, New York broker. She has not been in Hollywood since, but writes her mother that she and Krol expect to return in September.

R.-K.-O. Signs Stage Player

Such a favorable impression has Roscoe Apes made in the talkers, although he has been in the West only a short time, that R.-K.-O. has signed him on a long-term contract. He is to be given a featured role in "Cimarron," which Wesley Ruggles will direct.

Apes was formerly noted as a vaudeville headliner, appearing with his daughter. He has also been featured in New York musicals.

Sidney Blackmer Departs

That devoted husband, Sidney Blackmer, has gone back to New York to spend a few days with his wife, Lenore Ulric.

Blackmer found that he would not be needed for his scenes in First National's "Little Caesar" until about August 1, whereupon, Monday night he hopped the eastbound train on an hour's notice. Miss Ulric and Blackmer have a home at Harmon-on-the-Hudson, where Miss Ulric is now vacationing.

William McGann Directs

First National is negotiating with foreign writers, directors and stars, and shortly is to have some important announcements to make concerning the signing of various of these. Already they have signed William McGann, who is to direct six Spanish versions of stories, which also will be made in English.

Sisters G Busy

Since the somewhat mysterious Sisters G arrived here from Berlin to appear in Paul Whiteman's Universal picture, "The Jazz King," they have been kept fairly busy. Now we hear that they have taken screen tests at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and are likely to play the roles of the Follies girls, witnesses in the talking German version of "The Trial of Mary Dugan."

Charles Seiter Wins Role

They are a versatile clan, are the Seiters. William Seiter is directing "Sunny" for First National, and now along comes Seiter's little brother, Charles Seiter, and wins the leading juvenile role in the Marilynn Miller starring vehicle.

The younger Seiter has had some experience on the stage, but only recently entered pictures.

Jack Oakie Returns

Jack Oakie returned to Hollywood yesterday after a three months' absence in New York. He is to start work in the immediate future in a new starring vehicle now being prepared at the Paramount studios.

Dorothy Christy Vacations

Dorothy Christy enters into a well-earned vacation the last of the week, when she finishes frolicking as the cocotte with Maurice Chevalier in "The Little Cafe." She is to take a short trip to the north part of the State, after which she will resume her film work.

Sophie Tucker Spurns Talker

We learn from a cable message that Sophie Tucker, who is over in London rehearsing for a music show, has turned down a flattering offer to be starred in an English talking picture. We also hear that Dorothy Hall, one of George White's musical comedy stars, also has done a little spurning in the same quarter.

Forrest Stanley Returns

Forrest Stanley has returned to Hollywood from a long trek to distant parts of the world. He has been touring in South America with a theatrical company. Formerly Stanley was one of the most popular of the movie players, but he left the films for the stage about a year and a half ago.

PARAMOUNT WILL SCREEN 'QUEEN HIGH'

Feature Inaugurates New Releases for "Greater Show World Season"

"Queen High" has its premiere today at the Paramount Theater. This feature inaugurates the "Paramount Greater Show World Season" for the house.

Featured in the cast of "Queen High," a stage play brought to the screen by Paramount and Schwab and Mandel, the original producers, are a number of well-known stage and screen players. Charles Ruggles, the comedian remembered for roles in "Young Man of Manhattan," "Roadhouse Nights" and "Gentlemen of the Press," is seen in a different part from any of his previous characterizations. Stanley Smith is cast as Dick Johns, whose romance with Polly Rockwell (Ginger) Rogers provides additional interest.

Also included are Frank Morgan, Nina Olivette, Helen Carrington and Betty Garde. Fred Newmeyer directed.

An added feature on the Paramount program will be the organ concerts of Oliver Wallace, "Temple of Silence," a Vagabond travelogue, Paramount sound news and "Goodby Legs," an Educational comedy, complete the bill.

VARIED FARE ON NEW BILL AT LOEW'S

"Wild Company" Screen Feature; Comedy Stars Laurel and Hardy

"Wild Company" for drama, Laurel and Hardy for comedy and Panchon and Marco's idea, "Wild and Woolly," for stage variety, comprise the new bill of entertainment starting today at Loew's State Theater.

The screen feature is called a modern-youth-indulgent parents' story, laid against backgrounds of beach club parties, roadhouses and sumptuously furnished apartments. Frank Albertson, H. B. Warner, Sharon Lynn and Joyce Compton head the cast. Leo McCarey directed.

Laurel and Hardy have some cool adventures in their new comedy, "Below Zero," in which the principal action takes place in a snowstorm. "Wild and Woolly" is an extravaganza of the West with chaps, ropes and spurs in evidence.

Del Ruth Shows Versatility in Director's Job

That the motion-picture director enjoys a distinct vocation foreign to any other line of endeavor, in so far as ability is concerned, is said to be furnished by Roy Del Ruth, whose latest film, "Three Faces East," is attracting patrons to Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater.

In the film industry a director's ability to direct a skillful comedy with the same adroit ease as a tense drama is quietly passed over in the rush of things, it is said. Only recently Del Ruth saw one of his directorial efforts, "Hold Everything," establish box-office records because of humorous situations which he conceived and interwove into the main plot.

Now in "Three Faces East," a spy drama with numerous dramatic and tense situations, Del Ruth is declared to again prove the versatility which the industry is prone to take for granted.

Musicians Like Rogers Film at Carthay Circle

The picture of the musician who looks bored throughout the most humorous vaudeville acts is declared to be a familiar one. In the theatrical profession—pit musicians are called the most critical audiences.

For that reason, it is a pity that Will Rogers cannot visit the Carthay Circle Theater and see how he registers with the boys of Abe Lyman's orchestra, according to the management. It has been discovered that one or more of Lyman's band has stayed long after his work to watch the Rogers picture at every showing.

"Raffles" Furthers Success of Ronald Colman

Star Again Relieves Role With Light Comedy

Well-Cast Production Shows at United Artists

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Ronald Colman speeds on his way as a talkie star with another highly successful picture. "Raffles," which drew large audiences yesterday at the United Artists Theater, discloses him in a production that is not only entertaining, but also one that is marked with quality. It is an adaptation of an E. W. Hornung story (or perhaps two) and the stage play by Hornung and Eugene W. Presbrey, produced by Samuel Goldwyn.

No directorial credit is given on the screen, but this is doubtless due to the fact that "Raffles" was a combination effort, Harry D'Arrast and George Fitzmaurice having, I believe, been at various stages connected with the feature. Fitzmaurice, as my recollection goes, finished it.

"Raffles," one need hardly mention, is the story of the gentleman crook, which had a great vogue some twenty-odd years ago, and which always seems susceptible of revival. The Hornung tales were a sort of corollary of the Sherlock Holmes, dealing as they did with the pursued instead of the pursuer. They provided a stage play of popularity, in which Kyrle Bellew starred in this country.

In the new screen version Raffles is presented as the safe-cracker and dress-suit burglar who has the London police baffled. One's first glimpse of him is in the act of purloining a bracelet from a diamond merchant's establishment. A few moments later he is in the midst of diners and dancers proposing to a lady, and on the way home in the taxi he fastens the purloined jewelry around his fiancee's wrist.

WOULD GO STRAIGHT

He has decided to give up the criminal activities, which he has practiced so deftly and evasively. He makes preparations to this end when he discovers that a friend is in desperate need of financial assistance, and therefore . . . well let the picture unfold the rest.

A bit made to order is this plot in its inception, but the handling of situations is so skillful, and there is so much clever silent action to contrast with the spoken word that one is continually intrigued by the development of the story.

The picture evidences taste in the handling of a delicate theme, and manages to keep the interest and sufficient of the sympathy of the audience directed toward the elegant miscreant who dominates.

Colman limns another ingratiating portrait, and illumines the role with the constant suggestion of comedy. This enables one to take the entire plot very lightly. His outwitting of the assorted minions of the law in the final scene is particularly amusing, and even they are inherently willing to see him gain his freedom.

As a crook picture, therefore, "Raffles" classifies as rather sophisticated. And it is a change in being totally free from sentimentality.

FEATURE WELL CAST

Kay Francis gives a polished performance as the heroine, while David Torrence is a hit as the Scotsman from Scotland Yard. Frederick Kerr, Alison Skipworth, Bramwell Fletcher and John Rogers are others well cast. Frances Dade and Wilson Benge appear.

The size of the audiences yesterday proved Colman's popularity. And it seems clearly defined that the public knows its talkie stars, and that Colman is a major one.

William Cameron Menzies and Paul French receive credit for some very unusual art direction in this picture.

A college comedy that is much above the average in its sparkle, called "All for Mabel," is on the program; also a Paul Ash and Jean Boydell musical short, "I'm a Wild Woman" and the talkartoon "Dizzy Dishes," quite good. Gaylord Carter plays organ selections.

"On the Level" Will Open Run at Boulevard

"On the Level," the latest Victor McLaglen screen vehicle, opens a week's engagement at the Boulevard Theater today. The comedy romance is said to embrace a series of mirthful situations that telescope one another in rapid succession.

Two personable leading ladies are seen opposite McLaglen, a brunette and blond. Fifi Dorsay, vivacious French actress, and Lilyan Tashman are the two in question.

William Harrigan, Mary McAlister, Arthur Stone, Leila McIntyre, Ben Hewlett, E. O. Pennell and Harry Tenbrook have important parts. The new bill will also include scenes of Bobby Jones in his latest golf victory.

Crooks to Sing Again at Bowl

Acceding to popular demand for a second performance of Richard Crooks, the Hollywood Bowl Association announces a second appearance of the young American tenor on the 31st inst.

In order to fill another engagement here Crooks was obliged to abandon his intention of driving back to New York. Instead, he will ship his automobile and take an airplane here the day following his Bowl concert.

A New York boy who was first "discovered" by Dr. Walter Damrosch singing at the Fifth avenue Presbyterian Church, not so many years ago, Crooks has since sung with success in European capitals.

LUZ ALBA WELL KNOWN

Miss Luz Alba, who plays Mata Hari in Mrs. Alice Pike Barney's production of her own play of this name at the Theater Mart, which began last Wednesday, is well known in her native Mexico, where she won a well-known reputation as an actress of dramatic roles.

"Runaway Bride" Comes to R.K.O.

Lloyd Hughes and Mary Astor
Who portray leading roles in the romantic comedy drama starting today. On the stage Harry Carroll presents his 1930 revuette, with new singers and dancers.

WARNERS TO CELEBRATE

Greater talkie season will be celebrated by Warner Brothers in connection with their jubilee month and the twenty-fifth year of their picture career.

Starting August 1, next, and through the month the cream of Warner Brothers and First National studio products are to be shown to the public at the Hollywood and Downtown theaters. All pictures are to be given their world premieres at these houses.

Larry Ceballos, whose stage revues have proved very popular, promises many new and novel numbers to keep pace with the screen attractions.

Some of the pictures to be seen at the Warner theaters for greater talkie season and jubilee month are "The Office Wife," with Dorothy Mackaill, Lewis Stone, Hobart Bosworth, Natalie Moorehead and Joan Blondell; "The Matrimonial Bed," a frothy French farce taken from the play of the same name, with Frank Fay, Lilyan Tashman, James Gleason, Florence Eldridge, Beryl Mercer, Marion Byron, Viviene Oakland and Arthur Edmund Carewe; "The Bad Man," with Walter Huston, Dorothy Revier, James Rennie, Sidney Blackmer and O. P. Heggie; "The Road to Paradise," with Loretta Young and Jack Mulhall; "Top Speed," a funny, fast comedy with Joe E. Brown, Laura Lee, Bernice Claire, Jack Whiting and others; "Scarlet Pages," with Elsie Perguson, John Halliday, Marion Nixon and Grant Withers; John Barrymore in "Moby Dick," Al Jolson in "Big Boy," and others.

STAGE DEAN CELEBRATES NATAL DAY

David Belasco 76 Years "Young" Tomorrow; Will Send New Play Here

David Belasco, who is sending his latest success, "It's a Wise Child," a stage comedy by Laurence E. Johnson, to the Belasco Theater, Monday, August 18, next, for a limited stay, will celebrate his seventy-sixth birthday tomorrow. Belasco will be at Atlantic City for his birthday anniversary, where he is presenting his first production of the new season, "Dancing Partner."

That Belasco, despite his seventy-six years, is still actively engaged in his work and not on the verge of retirement, as some have seen fit to prophesy, was evidenced when he stated recently:

"I feel just as young today as I did the day before yesterday when I played marbles and spun my variegated tops. I play, and I work just as hard."

David Belasco wears the Cross—Chevalier of the Legion of Honor—presented to him by the French government in recognition of his half-century of service to dramatic art. He has produced such plays as "The Music Master," "The Auctioneer," "The Easiest Way," "The Gold Diggers," "Kiki," "The Dove" and "Deburau." He has been the manager of Mrs. Leslie Carter, David Warfield, Blanche Bates, Mary Pickford, E. H. Sothern, Ina Claire, Lenore Ulric, Mrs. Fiske, Lionel Atwill, Frank Keenan, Fay Bainter, Charlotte Walker, Frances Starr, Jeanne Eagels, Holbrook Blinn, Lionel Barrymore and Jane Cowl.

"Lady to Love" at California

Vilma Banky's starring vehicle, "A Lady to Love," adapted from Sidney Howard's short story, is the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature production now showing at the California Theater.

VILMA BANKY . . .

"A Lady to Love" is a comedy-drama, dealing with the romance of a little Swiss maiden who becomes a mail-order bride. It is proving one of the most successful pictures the theater has presented, it is announced. A big cast aids in the presentation.

Film of Prison Life Due Today

"The Big House," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's heralded drama of prison life, opens today at the Pantages Hollywood Theater for a week's run.

The picture is said to be an expose of the cause leading to prison riots.

Wallace Beery, Robert Montgomery, Leila Hyams, Chester Morris and Lewis Stone take important roles.

Fanchon and Marco's "Green Devil Idea" will be the new stage presentation. Those in the cast included Peg Leg Bates, Bobby Gilbert, Miles and Kover, Harvey Karels and Rita Lane. "Slim" Martin conducts the orchestra.

"ROMANCE" MOVES TO CRITERION

New Starring Vehicle of Greta Garbo Opens Today for Limited Run

Greta Garbo in "Romance" moves to the Criterion Theater today. The limited engagement will last two weeks.

Lewis Stone and Gavin Gordon appear in support of Miss Garbo, heading a cast which also includes Florence Lake, Clara Blandick, Henry Armetta, Mathilde Comont and Countess De Liguero.

"Romance" was directed by Clarence Brown from the original stage play by Edward Sheldon. The play was adapted to talking pictures by Bess Meredyth and Edwin Justus Mayer. The star again has the type of role which has brought her note.

TWO STARS SELECTED FOR PLAY

Ernest Glendinning, Tom Moore Cast in "Tea for Three" at El Capitan

A suave, sophisticated society comedy, "Tea for Three," starring Tom Moore and Ernest Glendinning, two of the most popular Duffy stars to appear at El Capitan, is scheduled to start Sunday, August 3, next, following the close of "To the Ladies." Within the next few days Duffy will announce the name of the actress who is to costar with Moore and Glendinning.

"Tea for Three," written by Roi Cooper Megrue, is a comedy in which three characters, a husband, a wife and a candid friend, sustain the action.

Tom Moore, popular star of the screen, scored recently in two Duffy productions, "This Thing Called Love" and "The Boomerang."

Remembered by El Capitan audiences as the versatile comedian who played opposite Minna Gombell in "Nancy's Private Affair," Ernest Glendinning is considered a favorite in Los Angeles, it is said. He came West presumably for the one production, but he considers the role in "Tea for Three" so ideally suited to his type that his decision to remain over resulted.

Hunter Brothers Given Ovation at Grauman's

Hollywood extended an ovation to the Hunter brothers, the four boys who achieved the spotlight of note by establishing an endurance flight record of 553 hours, when they opened their engagement in connection with the showing of "Hell's Angels" yesterday at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

Introduced by their manager, Harry Perkins, members of the championship quartet told in their own modest way of the thrills of their achievement, the magnitude of which they do not seem to realize themselves.

Irene Hunter, the sister who made the flight possible by adequately providing for the gustatory wants of the brothers aloft on the terrific grind, told of strains and thrills for the ground crew as the days rolled by. The Hunter brothers will appear twice daily on the stage at the Chinese.

Chevalier Star of "Big Pond"

Maurice Chevalier, favorite of France and America, is the star of "The Big Pond," which starts today at the Million Dollar Theater. Claudette Colbert, remembered for her notable work in "The Lady Lies," is the feminine lead.

Coster and Hewlett will also be seen and heard in their latest song numbers on the stage. The Yucatan Quintet, Davey Jamesion and Carlisle and De Lal are the other footlight attractions on the new program.

Bard's Screens "True to Navy"

Clara Bow in a Paramount picture, "True to the Navy," comes to Bard's Downtown screen today for a week's run. Opposite the star is seen Fredric March.

NATIONAL IMPORT

In every city of railroad significance throughout the nation, wherever you listen to investment conversation the name of PRESIDIO is now being heard in ever increasing volume.

We present our enterprise at Presidio to salesmen as a deal with a conscience. It is our conviction, from the standpoint of the investor and high earnings for the salesman that nowhere in the United States today can there be found a combination of conditions and happenings that can equal those now existing at Presidio.

SKETCHING GAME

Provide the players with paper and pencils. The leader requests each player to sketch the head of some person, animal or beast, then fold the paper over just leaving the ends of the lines of the neck visible. The papers are now passed to the next player who must, without looking at the head, sketch a body for that unknown head. This done the papers are passed on to the next player who sketches the legs and feet. The papers are folded and passed again for a name. Then all of the drawings are unfolded and spread on a table for exhibition. And funny—that's not the half of it.—[The Pathfinder.

PART TIME JOBS FOR CITY URGED

Civil Service Board Fights Against Lay-off

Division of Burden Sought Due to Lack of Funds

Proposal Characterized as Temporary Measure

A resolution introduced by Commissioner Britton urging that there be no lay-offs but that a policy of part-time employment be adopted by the various city departments to meet the retrenchment necessary because of insufficient budget appropriations, was adopted by the Los Angeles Civil Service Commission yesterday. Copies will be sent to the various departments, which employ more than 17,000 persons.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, the various departments of the city of Los Angeles are confronted with the problem of retrenchment due to the fact that amounts appropriated for salaries and wages in their budgets for 1930-1931 are insufficient to cover the requirements throughout the year for all present authorized persons; and,

"Whereas, this said retrenchment will necessitate the curtailment of salaries paid which must be met either by a general lay-off or part-time employment; and,

"Whereas, a general lay-off would only add more to the unemployment lists and hence aggregate the employment problem now confronting us; and,

"Whereas, many business firms find it advantageous to retain their trained personnel by employing it on a part-time basis rather than disrupting their organization by a general lay-off; and,

"Whereas, the part-time employment plan spreads the loss among many rather than loading it on a few; and,

"Whereas, many of the city's employees have in the past refused offers of more remunerative positions for steady employment with the city, now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that the Civil Service Commission goes on record as favoring the principle of part-time employment of those already in the service rather than a full-time lay-off of individual employees; and be it further

"Resolved, that the Civil Service Commission be recorded as favoring this measure only as an emergency measure until such time as the city's income shall provide for full-time employment."

SERIES OF INQUESTS ON TODAY

Coroner Will Investigate Deaths of Two Women and Man in Accidents

Deaths of two women and a man early yesterday morning as the result of traffic crashes will be investigated by Coroner's deputies at three inquests today.

The dead are Mrs. Pearl Wakeman, 27 years of age, of 4348 Lockwood avenue; Chester K. Nay of 8211½ Hooper avenue and Mrs. Jennie Stovall, Negress, of 1805 South Central avenue. Inquests will be conducted at 1:30 p.m., 2 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. at the Coroner's office.

Mrs. Wakeman died at the French Hospital. She was injured in a collision between two automobiles last Friday at Fairfax and Melrose avenues. She was riding with Mrs. M. Rex of the Biltmore when Mrs. Rex's car collided with one driven by Louis Minkle of 1010 Madison avenue.

Nay died at the Southwest Community Hospital from injuries received Monday when his automobile was struck by an asserted hit-and-run driver at Vermont avenue and Rosecrans street.

Mrs. Stovall died within a short time after the car in which she was riding with her husband, A. Stovall, collided with a street car at Eighteenth street and Central avenue.

LONE BANDIT ROBS BANK AT HERMOSA

Teller Tied by Robber After Being Forced to Unlock Safe Door

HERMOSA BEACH, July 23. (Exclusive)—A bandit late today held up the Camino Real branch of the First Bank of Hermosa, forcing C. E. Cummings, teller, to open the safe, then binding him with rope and escaping with $2000 in cash. He made his appearance at closing time when Cummings was alone.

"Open the safe," he commanded, covering the teller with a gun. Cummings obeyed. The bandit then forced his victim to lie on the floor, after which he tied his hands and ankles and vanished with the money. Cummings gave a good description of the bandit to Deputy Sheriffs Brooks and Slattery.

Sheriff's office records reveal the same branch has been rifled on two other occasions in the past fourteen months. The first hold-up netted $500 and the second $600.

Slate Air Group to Issue Stock

The Slate Aircraft Corporation of California, Ltd., yesterday obtained a permit from the State Corporation Department to issue 200,000 shares of stock to build and exploit a dirigible.

The directors of the company are named as John R. Grey, W. L. Jencks, Charles N. Bell, Clark Dilley and Francis Cuttle.

Capital is given as 200,000 shares, no par value. The company is permitted to issue all shares.

COMPROMISE FOR INDIA FORECAST

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saker

Freedom for India is a long way off, but Britain will compromise and give India a government comparable with Australia, in the opinion of Charles Saker, executive engineer for the Bengal-Napur Railroad, who arrived from Hawaii yesterday on the Lasco liner Calawaii. A native of India, Saker was educated in London and has an English wife.

"Internal dissension weakens India's position," he explained. "There are too many conflicting castes, sects and interests. The whole country will not unite on anything. Gandhi's following is not national and his salt issue is only sectional. Political unity just does not exist and England knows it."

Mr. and Mrs. Saker will remain in the United States two months before returning home by way of China.

Compromises on Two Divorce Suits Indicated

Indicating a settlement out of court of two hotly contested divorce suits, and an alienation suit, Attorney A. P. M. Narlian yesterday dismissed a divorce action filed by Mrs. Agnes L. Eshleman against George B. Eshleman, and substituted another divorce suit couched in milder terms, and making less sensational charges.

Meanwhile the contested divorce case of James M. Mullins, who was asserted by Eshleman to have stolen the love of Mrs. Eshleman, has been continued until October, with possibilities of a property settlement out of court, and a default decree admitted. Mullins in turn accused Alexander B. Conlin, vaudeville magician known as Alexander the Great, with being in the company of Mrs. Mullins.

Mrs. Eshleman's new suit asserted that her husband often flew into angry moods and was rude to her guests. In a separate action, Eshleman sued Mullins for $350,000 heart balm. Attorney Narlian represents Mullins as well as Mrs. Eshleman.

DANCE TEAM PARTED BY DIVORCE DECREE

A dance team parted company yesterday when Superior Judge Collier granted Elsie Jordan a divorce from Clarence Jordan. They are vaudeville performers. Mrs. Jordan testified that she surprised her husband with another woman in a hotel room last year. Judge Collier ordered Jordan to pay $25 a month for the support of their daughter Dolly, 10 years of age, who was placed in her mother's custody.
